GEN. MARSHALL WARNS U. S. TO KEEP DRAFTEES

Tells Senators His Fears of Peril.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, told the senate military affairs committee today that the United States might find itself in a "tragic situation" if congress refused to extend the service of draftees, National Guardsmen, and other army personnel indefinitely.

The chief of staff insisted that the national emergency is far greater than it was last September, when the conscription law was enacted, and that preparations should proceed as if we were actually engaged in war.

In his testimony Gen. Marshall disclosed that funds from blank check appropriations voted for President Roosevelt last year are being used to develop "essential air facilities in Brazil." Pan-American Airways has been improving Brazilian bases "so we can move expeditiously," he said. The inference was that Pan-American is acquiring the bases for the army's use with funds supplied by the President.

Asked About Emergency.

Senator Robert R. Reynolds [D., N. C.], chairman of the military affairs committee, demanded to know what the national emergency is to which Gen. Marshall referred and why it justifies keeping draftees in service for more than one year. The witness replied that the world has been witnessing the operation of a mighty military time schedule which began with the German occupation of Austria.

"Now they are in Russia," he said. "The machine always is in one place at one time. We don't know what the next move is. We have our ideas on these subjects, and we have not been far wrong on any of them. You could see Spain, Portugal, and North Africa covered with great rapidity."

Wary of "Telling All."

Gen. Marshall did not elaborate on the threat to the United States that would be involved in a German conquest of Spain, Portugal, and North Africa. Earlier in his testimony, when questioned by Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.], he said it would not be in the public interest "to tell all we know."

"That might produce something like the sinking of the Maine or the Zimmermann note," he added, referring to inflammatory incidents preceding America's war with Spain in 1898 and our entry into the World war in 1917.

Senator Austin and other interventionist members of the committee appeared to be profoundly impressed. They made frightened protestations against further revelations by Gen. Marshall.

Repeats Earlier Argument.

The chief of staff repeated his contention — previously expressed in a public report to Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and in secret testimony before the military affairs committee — that "our present trained forces will largely melt away" unless the service of draftees and National Guardsmen is extended.

Chairman Reynolds demanded the record of selective service inductions by months, in order to be more specific about the "melting away" prospect, but Gen. Marshall said he could not supply the figures immediately.

The figures were produced later by the selective service headquarters. They show that the trained forces will not begin to "melt away," as far as the draftees are concerned, until November, when 13,806 men will have served a year and must be released under existing law.

Figures Dispute Contention.

According to the official figures, 5,521 draftees were inducted in December, 73,633 in January, 90,238 in February, 153,159 in March, 123,207 in April, 56,896 in May, and 58,050 from June 1 to June 15, making a total of 574,510. Since June 15 approximately 25,000 have been inducted.

Thus it appears that the draftees now in training will not be released in substantial numbers until the first six months of 1942. In the meantime, new men would be coming in to take their places, under the present law and the program already announced by the war department.

These figures apply only to draftees, but it is generally assumed that con-

Polls and Promises

(An Editorial)

The sampling poll taken thruout the United States under the supervision of the Hutchins committee, conforming in results as it does to the more intensive polls conducted in Illinois and the state of New York by The Tribune and the New York News, shows beyond any possible doubt that the country is three to one against war.

The Hutchins poll, on the question of whether this nation should enter the war as an active belligerent at this time, showed a vote of 74.7 per cent against war to 19.1 per cent for it, with 6.2 per cent undecided. The Tribune poll in Illinois on the question, "Shall the United States enter the war to help Britain defeat Hitler?" showed a vote of 80.79 per cent against war. The New York News poll, on the same question, showed that 70.5 per cent of the people in that supposed interventionist area are against war.

The polls give factual proof of what has been apparent for some time—that the war mongers are only a vociferous minority in the United States. They are in a panic, and are seeking unsuccessfully to discredit the exposure of their weakness. They complain that the questions asked in the polls are unfair. Every one, they say, is opposed to war, and as their idea of a "fair" question they bring forth long winded obfuscations that even a New Deal professor would have difficulty in interpreting.

Such objections, particularly from people who have represented polls based on deliberately colored questions as reflecting public opinion, are preposterous. All three polls got to the fundamental issue before the people of the United States today. That issue is: Shall we go to war? The arguments for and against such action have been thoroly canvassed in every forum. The administration, thru its control or intimidation of important channels of public information, has conducted a tremendous propaganda for war, much of it at public expense. The war mongers who cry that it is "unfair" to ask the people whether they want to go to war are reversing the usual procedure in case of disaster. They want to keep the coat over the horse's head while they lead him into the burning barn.

Their propaganda has been a failure. The people of America are willing to send weapons to defend the British Isles, but they are not willing to send their sons to die for the defense or extension of the British empire. Mr. Roosevelt and the hoary belligerents in his cabinet are generals without an army. They cannot lead the country into a war, and congress, sensitive to the feeling of its constituents, is becoming increasingly alert that we shall not be sneaked into one.

The British generals who speak hopefully of an AEF and such foreign agitators as Mr. Wedgwood, the pottery parliamentarian, could take profitable warning from the experience of the Greeks and Jugo-Slavs—not to mention that of the people of the United States. Mr. Roosevelt's record for redeeming his promises is not a good one.

Whatever he may have promised the British people and their leaders, either directly or by implication, the polls show that the people of the United States will not tolerate our entry into the war.

JOE DI MAGGIO'S BATTING RECORD ENDS AT 56 GAMES

Joe DiMaggio's batting streak was stopped at 56 straight games in Cleveland last night when Pitchers Jim Bagby and Al Smith of the Indians held the Yankee slugger hitless in a battle which New York won, 4 to 3. DiMaggio failed on his final chance in the eighth inning when he came up with the bases full only to hit into a double play. He was retired three times and walked once. A crowd of 67,468, largest night baseball crowd in history, attended. In establishing a major league hitting mark of 56 straight games, DiMaggio broke the modern record set by George Sisler at 41, and Willie Keeler's all-time figure of 44.

HOPKINS SITS IN AS BRITISH WAR CABINET MEETS

Hear He May Carry Pledge to Fight.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—Harry L. Hopkins, supervisor of President Roosevelt's lend-lease program, flew to London today in an American built bomber and attended a meeting of the British war cabinet. Newspapers referred to his presence in the session as an event that made history.

Harry L. Hopkins.

Hopkins may have come to "inform those whom he will meet during his visit that American participation in the war is now imminent," the Daily Telegraph diplomatic correspondent stated.

His presence at the cabinet session was interpreted as a further indication of the closeness of Anglo-American coöperation. Rarely is any except a cabinet minister or an official present.

Dominion prime ministers occasionally attend and during the British-German negotiations in August, 1939, Sir Nevile Henderson, then the British ambassador to Berlin, was thrice called in for consultation.

Officials Remain Silent.

British official circles kept silent on the purposes of Hopkins' visit. In support of the suggestion that he may have come to assure the British that America will soon be in the war, the Daily Telegraph diplomatic correspondent recalled that on a visit early this year Hopkins, "speaking unofficially, expressed the view that the United States would proceed rapidly toward full participation in the war to resist Hitlerism."

Altho there are technical matters connected with the lend-lease law that might justify Hopkins' visit, the correspondent stressed that "it is impossible to overlook" that "in the light of recent developments in American policy" Hopkins may have brought assurances of early 100 per cent American participation in the war.

Hopkins visited Prime Minister Churchill immediately after he arrived on the bomber, which was one of a fleet that crossed the sea safely.

Demands U. S. Man in Cabinet.

LONDON, July 17 (AP).—Viscount Elibank has reopened his campaign for official United States representation in high British war councils.

In a house of lords speech he asked that Prime Minister Churchill broaden the war cabinet to include "representatives of the dominions, of India and the United States, who will very soon be nearer to us in the war than they are already."

Green to Veto Handbook Bill, Friends Report

Sources close to Gov. Green said last night he had decided to veto the bill, passed in the closing days of the legislature, to legalize handbook betting in Illinois.

The governor's decision was said to have been based on his belief that the licensing of handbooks is bad policy.

It was also regarded as a blow at the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization in Cook county, which was instrumental in pushing the bill thru. It was recalled that the same interests, late in the session, had defeated the Schnackenberg bill, which the governor favored, to make possible a thoro investigation of Chicago governmental spending.

Opinion To Have No Force.

Persons who talked to Gov. Green said he would veto the gambling bill even if the attorney general's office should find it constitutional.

The late Gov. Henry Horner vetoed a similar bill in 1935. It also had the support of the local Democratic organization and was favored openly by Mayor Kelly. The mayor did not go on record publicly for the 1941 measure.

Gov. Green is known to have weighed carefully the arguments for and against the bookie bill. He had received hundreds of letters and telegrams from downstate and Chicago opponents of legalized gambling, and was said to have concluded that the majority sentiment lay with this element.

Argue for Betterment.

The argument of the proponents was that gambling would go on and that the licensing of the establishments would result in their betterment and also furnish municipal revenues. The bill provided that one-third of license revenues would go to the state treasury's agricultural premium fund and two-thirds to the cities.

When the governor was asked directly about the veto decision, he announced he would have nothing to say until the measure reached him with Attorney General George F. Barrett's opinion.

British Town to Prosecute People Lining Up for Food

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—An old charge, "causing an obstruction," is being used by the town council and food control committee of Kettering to eliminate the lines [queues] of people outside food stores. The groups today threatened that if "any queue is formed or an effort is made to form one, legal proceedings will be taken."

SOLDIERS SEND WIRES TO WHEELER, OPPOSE LONGER ARMY SERVICE

Washington, D. C., July 17 [Special].—Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.] today said he had received two unsigned telegrams from soldiers at Fort Dix protesting against extension of their service in the army, but that he had not read them to the senate or placed them in the Congressional Record.

Told that some officer had asserted that the action of the soldiers violated army regulations, Senator Wheeler said he thought "any man in the service ought to be permitted to express his opinion just as an officer may." He said he thought it would be "most unfair" to investigate and punish any soldier for exercising the right of a citizen to petition congress on legislative matters.

The soldiers said they were New York National Guardsmen in the 44th division.

GERMANS ORDER SILENCE AS RADIO REPORTS ON WAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 17.—Guests, waiters, and proprietors of German restaurants, cafés, and beerhalls must now preserve silence during the radio announcement of German official war communiques, as well as special war reports.

A new order, issued by the director of the German Association of Restaurants and Hotels, with the permission of the secretary of state for tourist trade, stipulates that during such announcements no food or drinks shall be served and no orders taken.

If the proprietor of an establishment fails to preserve silence, he may expect "disciplinary punishment."

U. S. PATROLS AIR ALL OVER WORLD, ADMIRAL SAYS

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—Rear Admiral John H. Towers, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, told the house naval affairs committee today that United States navy planes "are doing patrol work all over the world."

Representative W. Sterling Cole [R., N. Y.] asked Towers whether the navy is doing patrol work in the Pacific. The admiral's reply was that the navy is patroling by plane in "the Atlantic and Pacific, the Philippine area, and the Panama area."

Towers also told the committee "All our patrol planes are not just in practice work."

Nazis Twist 'V' for Victory Into 'V' for Viktoria

Britain's "V for Victory" propaganda drive has been adopted by the Germans.

Trans-Atlantic cables last night told of this strange development in Europe's latest war of nerves.

It started when Col. Britton, the British Broadcasting corporation's mystery spokesman to the people of German-occupied countries, suggested that the conquered peoples adopt the letter "V," the first letter in "Victory," as the symbol of their faith in liberation and eventual British victory.

The Handwriting on Wall.

He urged that "V" be scrawled with chalk or daubed in paint on sidewalks and walls. The dot-dot-dot-dash of a Morse code "V" would be the radio signal to all friends, he continued, and Beethoven's Fifth [Vth] symphony, which opens with three short notes and a long one, would be the theme song.

The Associated Press soon began to report how motorists in Nazi-occupied lands signaled for right of way with three short taps and a long on their horns, how hands of clocks were stopped mysteriously at 11:05 to form a "V," and how "V's" sprang up endlessly on walls and billboards.

Just when it might be thought that "V" had begun to haunt the Nazis, the campaign recoiled upon its authors. Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, the German minister of propaganda, adopted it for counterattacks.

Germans Play "Knock-Knock."

So the Nazis began lettering up more "V's" than their enemies; the German radio rapped out dot-dot-dot-dash and blared the Beethoven Fifth. When a Frenchman would rap out a tap-tap-tap-bump order for beer with his fist on a café table top, a German would come right back at him with a little more of the same. It was something like knock-knock.

"V," Dr. Goebbels explained in encouraging the campaign, really stood for "Viktoria," German for "victory," altho the customary word is "Sieg." Dienst aus Deutschland, German foreign office commentaries, took cognizance of the war of the "V's" by stating that the prevalence of made-in-Germany "Vs" was "reaching the proportions of an impressive plebiscite."

None discouraged, the British yesterday were considering a proposal submitted in parliament that the government create a special "V" department of political warfare.

NO. 196 IS FIRST SERIAL DRAWN; 98 IS SECOND

Draft Information

The Tribune today publishes full information on yesterday's selective service lottery to determine the order in which new registrants will be called in the draft. On pages four and five will be found:

1. A list of all the serial numbers affecting men in Chicagoland drawn in the lottery in Washington.

2. The serial numbers and names of the first five new registrants in each draft district in Chicago and Cook county and in many of the districts of Lake, Will, Kane, and DuPage counties, and Lake and La Porte counties, Indiana.

3. A table of ratios showing how a registrant may determine his exact standing on the list of his local board.

4. An explanation of the procedure to be used in determining the approximate time at which a registrant may be called for examination and classification.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The nation's second peacetime draft lottery is history. The drawing which determines the order in which the 21 year olds, who registered July 1, will be integrated with the October registrants in preparation for the call into armed service took place before an overflow crowd tonight in the government's Departmental auditorium.

Staff Sergt. Robert W. Shackleton, of Fort Dix, N. J., a New York draftee, set it off when he plucked a pink capsule from the historic goldfish bowl shortly after 7 p. m. He drew 196, which immediately became fateful news to approximately 6,500 young men from as many draft boards thruout the nation holding that serial number.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox drew the second number—98—and 6,500 more among the new 21 year old registrants were affected. The third number was 451, drawn by Under-secretary of War Robert P. Patterson.

750,000 Learn Their Order.

All told, approximately 750,000 young men learned the order in which they will be called up for military service, provided they are single, in good physical condition and without essential jobs in industry. A total of 800 capsules covering the highest number of new registrants reported by any one local board were drawn, compared with 9,000 in the 1940 lottery which lasted until the following morning.

The new order numbers will be integrated proportionately among those remaining in each board area from the original listing based on the nation's first peacetime draft last October.

Selective service headquarters have announced that few, if any, of the new registrants will be called up until September because of the time necessary for preparation of lists, examination of questionnaires and physical examinations.

Fanfare Marks Drawing.

Coming in the midst of the administration drive to lengthen the term of service for draftees and National Guardsmen beyond the one year period set by congress last year, the lottery tonight was given the dramatic pomp and fanfare dear to military hearts.

The crowd of about 1,000, which waited patiently for the ceremonies to begin, had men in uniform, men in shirt sleeves, gray haired women who stared impassively or knitted, gay clad girls and children. The latter squirmed boredly in their seats or looked in wonderment at the garishly decorated chamber with its massive stone pillars, powder blue ceiling, and gilt encrusted trimmings.

The pouring of the capsules into the bowl, used in the World war draft drawings and again last year, got a hand, as did Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, acting head of the selective service system, when he mounted the platform. Before the drawing he spoke briefly on the purpose of the lottery, asserting that the draftees constitute America's hope for protec-

MORIARITY JURY GETS FIX SLAYING ADMISSION TODAY

Prosecution Wins 2 Day Hearing on Sanity.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

The jury of seven men and five women which will determine the fate of Policeman Daniel Moriarity in the so-called fix murder growing out of the million dollar abortion ring, today will hear the confession he made personally to State's Attorney Courtney. Judge John A. Sbarbaro, presiding over the trial, yesterday ordered that the confession be admitted in evidence.

The court's ruling saved the prosecution's case, which was in danger of collapsing had the judge upheld the contention of Defense Attorney James M. Burke that the confession was illegal. Burke contended it should not be admitted on the theory that it was obtained while Moriarity was insane. The confession will be read to the jury late today when the prosecution is expected to close its side of the case.

Corruption in Office Detailed.

Moriarity's confession details the corruption of four employés of the state's attorney's office, where he himself was assigned as a policeman. This leads up to the killing of Ada Jane [Jennie] Martin by Moriarity in the belief that his victim was her mother, Mrs. Ada Martin, head of the abortion ring, who had threatened to expose the bribery because her latest case was not being fixed. The slaying occurred April 29 in the Martin home at 4367 Lake Park avenue. The state is demanding the death penalty.

After Judge Sbarbaro ruled the confession admissable, Prosecutor Courtney took the witness stand to tell the jury how he obtained it from Moriarity. He said Moriarity told him first that he had paid bribes of $5,000 to Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Moynihan, and $2,500 to Prosecutor Morris Meyers, in behalf of Mrs. Martin. Both men have been discharged by Courtney.

New Figure Enters Case.

The only new figure named in the confession is Ben Nelson. He was not previously named in the investigation or court testimony. This part of the confession reads:

Q.—You said you had a case with Ben Nelson? A.—I didn't handle the case.

Q.—The Nelson case I am talking about. A.—Benny Nelson got it.

Q.—Who told you that? A.—Ada Martin.

Payments Are Revealed.

In both the Moynihan and Meyers case Moriarity's confession says he personally handled the money. He paid Moynihan the $5,000 in two installments, he says, one of $3,000 in the state's attorney's office and the other in a La Salle street saloon, across from the city hall. In the Meyers case he said he paid over the money from Ada Martin to Meyers in an automobile in the shadow of the Criminal Court building. He also confessed he gave Policeman Daniel Kenney, his partner, half of his regular $100 a month from the abortion ring.

The jury, which had been excluded from the courtroom for two days, made its reappearance yesterday long enough to hear Courtney's testimony. Today it will hear from First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley, Assistant Prosecutor Sam Papanek, and Capt. Daniel A. Gilbert. Crowley and Gilbert are expected to corroborate the testimony of Courtney, and Papanek is to tell the jury how he resisted the efforts of the ring to bribe him thru Moriarity. It was Papanek's refusal to deal with the ring which resulted in Mrs. Martin's threat to expose the bribery and brought on the slaying.

Moriarity Family Testifies.

Previous to the ruling allowing the confession in evidence, Judge Sbarbaro heard from Moriarity's family, including his wife, Elizabeth, and two daughters, Marie, 16 years old, and Margaret, 14.

Moriarity sobbed as his family told of his unusual actions which, they said, convinced them he was insane. The wife and daughters wept while testifying.

The defense also called Dr. Alexander Hirschfield, a psychiatrist, in its effort to prove Moriarity insane, but Judge Sbarbaro dismissed the entire question with the decision: "Defense objection overruled; confession admitted."

SCHOOL LABORATORY TOOLS STOLEN.

Physics laboratory tools and equipment valued at $100 were stolen from the Hirsch High school Wednesday night by burglars who entered thru a tool room window, Miss Catherine A. Ryan, summer principal, reported to Grand Crossing police yesterday.

COUNTY TO GET 50 MONKEYS FOR PARALYSIS FIGHT

Fifty monkeys to be used experimentally in attempting to identify carriers responsible for 15 cases of infantile paralysis in Cook county in the last month were promised the Cook county health service yesterday by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. They will be delivered today or tomorrow from the University of Michigan laboratories and from the zoo in Lansing, Mich.

Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, director of the county service, said that persons who have been in contact with those stricken by the disease will be tested for presence of the virus by injecting the monkeys. If the monkeys develop the disease, the carriers will be identified and isolated.

Dr. Piszczek also appointed a committee of 10 members to study the disease. Among them was Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the Northwestern university medical school and health editor of THE TRIBUNE.

NEW ABORTION CHARGE DENIED BY WOMAN OF 76

Miss Virginia Warren, 76 years old, a nurse, who was placed on probation last March on an abortion charge, pleaded not guilty in Felony court yesterday to another charge of performing an illegal operation on the mother of two children.

Judge John T. Zuris continued the hearing until July 25, but Assistant State's Attorney Sam Papanek said he would seek an indictment against the nurse on Monday. Miss Warren was convicted last March of performing abortions in her apartment at 4102 Kenmore avenue.

Because of her advanced age, Miss Warren was placed on probation by Judge George Fred Rush. Miss Mary Smith who was convicted with Miss Warren, was sentenced by Judge Rush to 1 to 10 years in prison. She was accused of referring women to Miss Warren.

Girl Hit by Train; 4 Cars Roll Over Her; She Lives

Agateville, Ga., July 17 (AP).—A gap where her front teeth had been and a few bruises were the only injuries nursed by a 2½ year old child after four cars of a freight train had passed over her body. The child, daughter of a farm couple, was playing on the tracks when a 20 car train struck her, knocking her between the tracks. Crewmen stopped the train after four cars had rolled over her.

WOMAN ACCUSED IN ESTATE FIGHT COMMITS SUICIDE

Body Found at Her Home Near Woodstock.

Mrs. Alice Richardson Temple, 54 years old, recently accused by a claimant of illegally converting $125,000 of an estate to her own use, shot and killed herself yesterday on her 34 acre Bull valley estate five miles east of Woodstock, in McHenry county. Hers were the only fingerprints on the revolver found beside her body.

Mrs. Temple, shot above the right ear, was found lying dead in a ravine by her husband, William B. Temple, 53, whom she married last October. Temple, a real estate dealer, was in Woodstock on business when he had what he described as a hunch that there was trouble at home, returned, found his wife missing, and began searching for her.

Asks How to Load Gun.

Vincent Dwyer, farm manager, told Deputy Sheriff Clyde C. Miner that Mrs. Temple had come to him with a gun and asked him how to load it, saying she was worried because she thought she had heard prowlers the night before. Dwyer loaded the weapon. Mrs. Temple took it back into the house, locked up her two dogs, and then went out again, unnoticed by Dwyer.

Temple, searching on horseback, was guided to the body by his wife's sweater which he found tied to a nearby picnic bench. He said she had been ill and worried over the pending litigation on the estate claim. An inquest will be conducted this morning by Deputy Coroner Theron Ehorn in Woodstock.

William B. Wilder, 65, of Milwaukee, nephew of Mrs. Martha Richardson, mother of Mrs. Temple's first husband, Elwood S. Richardson, a railway supply dealer who died in 1937, filed suit in federal court last November over the estate of Mrs. Richardson.

Charged Funds Were Mixed.

The suit charged that Richardson managed his mother's affairs for two years while she was in an institution, and that when she died, four months after her son, Richardson's funds were so commingled with her's that Mrs. Temple appropriated them as part of his estate, estimated at $500,000.

Wilder last month filed an affidavit charging that Mrs. Temple and Paul C. Loeber, former president of the Chicago Real Estate Board, whom he identified as her financial adviser, befuddled him with liquor May 4 in Mrs. Temple's Woodstock home and induced him to sign a release on his $125,000 claim in return for a settlement of $17,500.

Loeber and Mrs. Temple both denied the charge, and Lois Lichty, a notary public who witnessed the release, also branded Wilder's charges false.

TRUSTY ESCAPES FROM FARM NEAR MICHIGAN CITY

William Brown, 42 years old, a trusty at the Johnson prison farm southwest of Michigan City, Ind., escaped yesterday, prison officials announced. Brown, who was serving a 2 to 14 year sentence for check forgery committed in Vigo county, had been in prison since April 14. He was made a farm trusty at the recommendation of the institution's classification committee, which designated him a minimum custody case. Normally only men who have served a considerably longer time are put on the farms.

NEW POLICE CHIEF OF MINNEAPOLIS QUITS IN MYSTERY

On Job 9 Days; Power of Underworld Blamed

Minneapolis, Minn., July 17 [Special].—Edward B. Hansen, chief of police of Minneapolis for nine days, quit his job abruptly today under mysterious circumstances. No official explanation was given. He walked out of the job, to which he had been recommended by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, after the simple act of laying his gold badge on the desk of a subordinate and remarking: "I'm quitting. I don't fit."

Edward B. Hansen.

The city's youthful new mayor, Marvin L. Kline, professed himself "as much surprised as anybody." He said Hansen gave no reason for his decision.

Talk of Underworld Pressure.

From every side, however, came rumors that an underworld angle was involved. Two groups have been at odds lately over control of the city's gambling and illicit liquor spots. One group, known as the "combination," recently has had its long enjoyed power challenged by a new group called the "syndicate."

Mayor Kline, who was elected on a reform platform, hinted that the blame for Hansen's sudden departure rested with the forces he described during his campaign as "pillaging the city."

"I warned citizens of Minneapolis when I took office," the mayor said, "that desperate means were going to be attempted to discredit my administration. There are underworld forces in the city that I said would not give up their operations without a fight."

Lack of Support Hinted.

Many members of the police department and a large part of the citizenry take the view that Hansen quit because he decided he was powerless to cope with the city's potent underworld. His resignation came only one day after he had issued a statement that "the city is tight and is going to stay tight." Some persons believed that demands were made upon him which he refused to meet and that he determined his adamant attitude would not receive the official support he previously had been led to expect.

NEEDLE WOUND FATAL TO WOMAN.

Aledo, Ill., July 17 [Special].—Mrs. John R. Stead, 43, who lived on a farm near Aledo, died today of an infection caused when she pricked a finger while sewing eight days ago. The Stead family was chosen Tuesday night as winners in a contest to select a typical farm family. Mrs. Stead taught schools before her marriage.

HIGH BONDS FIXED FOR 11 SEIZED IN PIPE LINE BLAST

Two Ex-Convicts Are Held at Decatur.

Decatur, Ill., July 17 [Special].—Eleven persons were held in jail here under heavy bonds tonight following their indictment on charges connecting them with the terroristic bombing of an oil pipe line leading into the Chicago area.

The bombing, which blasted the line of the Texas Empire Pipe Line company at a point near Decatur in February, 1940, was one of a series of dynamitings allegedly resulting from the use of some nonunion labor in laying the pipeline.

Leading the list of defendants are two ex-convicts who were held under bonds of $45,000 each. One is George Diehl, a former policeman at East St. Louis. He has been arrested 21 times since 1927 and served a federal penitentiary term for accepting protection money from a bootleg liquor ring.

Hold Granite City Rapist.

The other ex-convict is George L. Bruns, recently a bartender at Granite City. He was sentenced to prison for rape and again as an habitual criminal.

Diehl and Bruns were charged with the actual bombing. Named on charges of conspiracy and malicious mischief were three union business agents, five Decatur union men, and a union woman stenographer.

The business agents are Harry E. Meisenhelter of Decatur, agent for the Common Laborers' union and head of the Decatur Building Trades council; Mack Ray of Decatur, Teamsters' union agent, and George E. Good of Springfield, agent of the Hoisting Engineers' union.

Meisenhelter and Ray have been active in Decatur labor circles for many years and have long handled virtually all labor disputes in this city.

Another Faces Arrest.

A 12th defendant named in the indictments returned by the Macon county grand jury yesterday but not yet under arrest is Steward C. Lorton of East St. Louis, business agent for the Boilermakers' union.

Bonds of the three business agents in custody were fixed at $20,000 each and those of six other defendants at $3,000 each. All those in custody were scheduled for court arraignment on Monday.

MARSHALL TALKS PERIL IN PLEA TO RETAIN DRAFTEES

Warns U. S. Might Face 'Tragic Situation.'

Discusses Specific Cases.

Gen. Marshall testified that draftees constitute from 40 to 85 per cent of the strength of National Guard and regular army units. As examples of the problems faced by the war department, he mentioned a National Guard anti-aircraft regiment in Hawaii and a National Guard coast artillery regiment in Alaska, each containing about 40 per cent draftess. The regiment in Hawaii will complete its 12 month training period about the end of August and must be relieved of duty about the middle of August; the regiment in Alaska must be relieved about Aug. 1, he said.

"All of these movements require ships, and I need hardly state that available water transportation presents a very serious problem," Gen. Marshall said.

Replacement Figure Given.

According to the war department the regiments have only about 2,000 men each, of which 40 per cent would be 800 draftees to replace, assuming that congress votes to extend the service of the National Guard.

Gen. Marshall did not advocate removing the existing limitation of 900,000 on the number of draftees that may be in service at one time. The bills introduced by Senator Reynolds at the request of the war department call for the removal of this limitation, but Gen. Marshall said he thought that was a mistake.

The present strength of the army is 1,418,000 men, the chief of staff said, and 152,000 are to be added to the air corps.

"We need something under 150,000 more to fill out various units and no further expansion is contemplated," he added.

Called Adequate for Defense.

Asked by Chairman Reynolds whether such a force would be adequate to defend the western hemisphere, the witness replied:

"With the added 150,000 that I've mentioned and with the development of the army under present conditions —yes, sir."

Gen. Marshall testified before an appropriations subcommittee last fall that it would require 4,000,000 men to defend the western hemisphere.

Gen. Marshall favored passage of a national emergency resolution by congress to accomplish the administration's purposes rather than enactment of new legislation. The conscription act provides that draftees shall serve for 12 months "except that whenever the congress has declared that the national interest is imperiled, such 12-month period may be extended by the President to such time as may be necessary in the interests of national defense."

Austin Suggests Procedure.

The national defense act of 1920 authorizes the President to extend the service of National Guardsmen and other components of the army whenever congress has declared a national emergency.

When Senator Austin suggested congress should pass a resolution declaring the national interest is imperiled, as provided by law, rather than enact the bills introduced by Senator Reynolds at the request of the war department, Gen. Marshall said the war department holds the same view.

Informed senators intimated the administration wants congress to pass a national emergency declaration but is reluctant to propose such a procedure for fear it would be treated as a war resolution. Also, it was suggested, rejection of such a resolution would be a slap at the President's unlimited national emergency proclamation of May 27.

The national emergency resolution proposed by Gen. Marshall would permit the President to employ draftees and National Guardsmen "in the national defense subject only to existing limitations governing the employment of the regular army."

This would circumvent the provisions of existing law forbidding the use of National Guardsmen and draftees outside the western hemisphere except in the territories and possessions of the United States. However, the administration has decided to sidetrack, at least for the present, the so-called AEF proposal.

Urge More Small Boat Berths in 2 Lake Harbors

Construction of additional berths for small boats in the Montrose harbor and the Burnham lagoon was recommended to the Chicago Plan commission yesterday by T. T. McCrosky, executive director. McCrosky said that following a survey requested by the city council it was learned that there are 1,055 boats assigned to moorings in the harbors along Chicago's shoreline and that 2,000 vessels are registered at the local customs office.

ROOSEVELT AID RAPS LINDBERGH PLEA FOR INQUIRY

Calls Letter to President a Bid for Publicity.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The Roosevelt administration today sidestepped Charles A. Lindbergh's plea for a full investigation by the President and his demand that Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes apologize for implications that the famous flyer is serving the Nazi government.

Col. Lindbergh [top] and Secretary Ickes.

In a letter to President Roosevelt, released in New York, Lindbergh — who has been speaking against intervention in the war abroad — recalled repeated statements and implications made by Ickes concerning a decoration which Lindbergh received from the German government in 1938.

Lindbergh observed that he received the decoration while serving the American embassy. He has no connections with any foreign government, Lindbergh told the President, and offered to open all his files and give personal testimony to any investigating committee the President might appoint.

Brands It Publicity Stunt.

The White House, thru Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, dodged the issue by charging indirectly that the letter was an attempt by Lindbergh to gain publicity for his cause. Early claimed he had seen nothing of the letter and would not comment on it, directly, if he had.

Early asked a reporter whether he had a text of the letter and when answered in the affirmative, Early commented sarcastically: "He wrote it to you and addressed it to the President."

Ickes, 67 year old war monger, was somewhat subdued after Lindbergh's demand for an apology. He denied that he ever called Lindbergh an agent of a foreign government, but only Monday night Ickes, in a New York speech, accused Lindbergh of being a mouthpiece of the Nazi party line and repeatedly called him a "knight of the German eagle."

Evades Question on Apology.

When asked at a press conference whether he would apologize if Lindbergh returned the decoration, Ickes replied: "I would think a lot better of him if he returned it, even tho he has waited so long."

Concerning a letter from the Brooklyn chapter of the America First committee suggesting that Ickes "lend-lease" himself to the British government for a flight to Germany "à la Hess," Ickes said. "I didn't know dog days came that early in Brooklyn."

Altho the White House and lesser interventionists consistently have harped upon the German decoration in a desperate attempt to smear Lindbergh for his outspoken statements against American involvement in the war, the record shows that it was just one of many similar decorations he received.

Text of Appeal.

The text of the Lindbergh letter follows:

"My Dear Mr. President:

"I address you, sir, as an American citizen to his President. I write concerning statements made by an officer of your cabinet, the secretary of the interior.

"For many months, and on numerous occasions, your secretary of the interior has implied in public meetings that I am connected with the interests of a foreign government, and he has specifically criticized me for accepting a decoration from the German government in 1938.

"Mr. President, is it too much to ask that you inform your secretary of the interior that I was decorated by the German government while I was carrying out the request of your ambassador to that government?

Better Relations Sought.

"Is it unfair of me to ask that you inform your secretary that I received this decoration in the American embassy, in the presence of your ambassador, and that I was there at his request in order to assist in creating a better relationship between the American embassy and the German government, which your ambassador desired at that time?

"Mr. President, if the statements of your secretary of the interior are true, and if I have any connection with a foreign government, the American people have a right to be fully acquainted with the facts. On the other hand, if his statements and implications are false, I believe that I, as an American citizen, have a right to an apology from your secretary.

Disavows Any Ties.

"Mr. President, I give you my word that I have no connection with any foreign government. I have had no communication, directly or indirectly, with any one in Germany or Italy since I was last in Europe, in the spring of 1939. Prior to that time, my activities were well known to your embassies in the countries where I lived and traveled. I always kept in close contact with your embassies and your military attachés, as the records in your state department and war department will show.

"Mr. President, I willingly will open my files to your investigation. I willingly will appear in person before any committee you appoint, and there is no question regarding my activities now, or at any time in the past, that I will not be glad to answer.

"Mr. President, if there is a question in your mind, I ask that you give me the opportunity of answering any charges that may be made against me. But, Mr. President, unless charges are made and proved, I believe that the customs and traditions of our country give me, as an American citizen, the right to expect truth and justice from the members of your cabinet.

"Respectfully,

"Charles A. Lindbergh."

ASSURANCES TO PARENTS

President Roosevelt, on Oct. 30, 1940, speaking to fathers and mothers on the selective service act, said:

"And while I am talking to you mothers and fathers, I give you one more assurance.

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again, your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.

"They are going into training to form a force so strong that, by its very existence, it will keep the threat of war far away from our shores.

1,000TH HUDSON BOMBER STARTS HOP TO BRITAIN

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17 (AP).—The 1,000th Hudson bomber for Britain took off dramatically for England today with 30,000 aircraft workers cheering it on and Viscount Halifax, British ambassador to the United States, and his wife bidding it Godspeed.

Jimmy Mattern, famous American pilot, took the plane into the air after Lord Halifax had addressed a crowd at the Lockheed plant in Burbank. Lockheed officials said Mattern would not take the plane all the way to England, but declined to disclose his itinerary.

British troops will not leave Iceland immediately, but will depart as they are replaced by American forces, Lord Halifax told reporters.

SHOWDOWN NEAR ON ATLANTA BAN OF WHEELER TALK

Atlanta, Ga., July 17 [Special].—The question of whether Senator Burton K. Wheeler, Montana noninterventionist, will be allowed to deliver an anti-war address in the Atlanta municipal auditorium is to be decided tomorrow afternoon at a public hearing before the city council's auditorium committee.

Attorney Granger Hansell, chairman of the local group sponsoring the proposed address, said he will request a permit for use of the auditorium. O. K. Armstrong of Chicago, field representative of the America First committee, Senator Wheeler's sponsor, sought unsuccessfully to obtain the auditorium for Senator Wheeler on July 10.

On the basis of calls and letters received at Mayor Roy Lecraw's office, the session promises to be well attended by persons favoring and opposing the proposed address.

Harper Sibley Becomes Full Time Head of USO

New York, July 17 (AP).—Harper Sibley, Rochester, N. Y., banker and former president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, today became president of the United Service Organizations for national defense. Walter Hoving, who has held this position since the USO's incorporation last February, was elected chairman of the board of directors. Hoving said Sibley will serve in a full time capacity. The USO is raising funds to provide leisure-time activities for men in the armed forces.

HOW THE SERIAL NUMBERS CAME OUT OF BOWL

Following is a list of serial numbers drawn in the national draft lottery in Washington last night. This drawing establishes the order of these serial numbers for July 1. registrants. Later these numbers will be sandwiched in with the serial numbers of October draft registrants, in order to establish order numbers for all registrants in each board. No numbers higher than 430 affect registrants in the five states of the Chicagoland area, since no local draft board in the area has more than 430 registrants. Hence THE TRIBUNE has eliminated all numbers in the 800 drawn which were higher than 430. They read in order from left to right.

CHICAGO'S NEGRO REGIMENT WINS OFFICERS' PRAISE

184th Field Artillery Short of Materiel, Tho.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Fort Custer, Mich., July 17.—Despite a lack of sufficient officer personnel, important ordnance materiel, and a firing range, Chicago's all colored regiment, the old 8th infantry of the Illinois National Guard, rapidly is learning to function as a field artillery regiment of 155 mm. howitzers, its officers say.

Col. A. F. Pitts.

Last Oct. 15 the regiment became one of 18 National Guard infantry units converted to another branch of the army. The regiment expressed a preference for field artillery and was renamed the 184th. As such the original Guardsmen, under command of Col. Anderson F. Pitts, reached Fort Custer on Jan. 15.

Subjected to 3 Day Test.

Having completed six months of training, the troops were subjected to a three day test, ending yesterday, to determine how far the 1,718 men and officers had advanced. No grades were announced, but it was the general impression among the board of examining officers appointed by Brig. Gen. Cortlandt Parker, chief of artillery for the 5th division here, that the 184th has made a successful transition from infantry to artillery. With few exceptions, it was said, the regiment passed all of its tests with high grades.

None of the men or officers knew anything about field artillery when they were converted from an infantry regiment. Before coming to Fort Custer, Col. Pitts and nine other officers spent 30 days attached to the 49th field artillery at Fort Sill, Okla. Since then both officers and men have been going to school continuously at this post. Almost every night in the week the men attend classes in the regimental theater.

More than 55 per cent of the regiment is composed of draftees, who first began arriving in March. With few exceptions they are from Chicago and vicinity.

12 Promoted from Ranks.

Upon induction into the federal service the regiment could muster only 41 officers. There are now 58 officers and one warrant officer, a serious handicap for the training program. Within the last two weeks 12 new officers were made from the ranks. Thirteen more are awaiting approval of their applications, and they will bring the total officer personnel to 74, still three short.

Custer's 16,000 acres, a training ground for the 18,000 soldiers in camp, hold a small maneuver area and no firing range for anything heavier than a machine gun. To get in any firing the 184th must journey to Camp McCoy, Wis.

The regiment has been there once, in April, for a week of firing, largely with borrowed guns. Col. Pitts hopes to have another opportunity of using the Wisconsin range before or after September maneuvers in the south.

He also hopes by then that the shortage of equipment will have been reduced somewhat. It was just recently that the regiment's full compliment of 24 howitzers [155 mm.] was reached. But only about four of the weapons have the new modified and panoramic sights.

Moving the howitzers is another problem, the regiment being 50 per cent short on its motorized equipment. It should have 34 prime movers, the powerful six wheel drive trucks which haul the big guns. It has 18. This necessitates a shuttle service whenever all of the howitzers go out on a problem.

There are other shortages, such as in fire control equipment, where the regiment, for example, has only four of its 18 aiming circles. It has four modernized 75 mm. guns in place of 16; two 37 mm. anti-tank guns for 12, and none of its 12 automatic rifles.

Facts for July Draft Registrants

The July 1 draft registrant whose number was drawn in Washington last night [beginning at 7 p. m.] can determine exactly where he will stand on the list of his local board if he knows his serial number. He should [1] go thru the list of numbers as drawn in Washington and printed on page 4 in this edition, and strike out all numbers higher than the highest number shown for his local board in the "new men" column in the table below; [2] count the numbers remaining in the Washington lottery list, in the order in which they were drawn, until he reaches his own serial number, and [3] multiply his position number by the figure for his local board listed under "Ratio." For example, if the registrant finds his serial number is 40th on the list of numbers after he has eliminated "blanks" from the Washington list, he should multiply 40 by the ratio [say it is 4] given for his board. This figure, 160, will be the registrant's final number in his draft board.

TOTAL STRENGTH OF U. S. ARMY PUT AT 1,447,000 MEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The army has a combined strength of 1,447,000 officers and men, the war department announced today. The total number of officers is 95,000, including 14,700 from the regular army, and 1,382,000 enlisted men, of which 478,000 are three year regular enlistments.

The following tables show the number of men from the regular army, the National Guard, the reserves, and those who have been drafted:

OFFICERS.

Regular army	14,700
National Guard	21,800
Reserve officers	58,500
Total	95,000

ENLISTED MEN.

Regular army, 3 years	478,000
Regular army, reserve and one year	18,000
National Guard	262,000
Draftees	624,000
Total	1,382,000

TOTAL COMBINED STRENGTH.

Regular army	510,700
National Guard	283,800
Reserve officers	58,500
Draftees	624,000

Use of Civilians Planned.

A plan whereby the army expects to gain 30,000 more men for fighting units by giving noncombatant jobs to civilians also was announced today. It is to be made possible thru an appropriation of $43,940,000 for the quartermaster corps passed by congress as part of the military establishment appropriation bill for 1942.

This money, it was explained, will be used to employ 30,000 civilians to fill jobs in army posts and behind the lines, including the following: telephone operators, teletype and radio technicians and operators, engineers, electricians, draftsmen, carpenters, blacksmiths, plumbers, steamfitters, machinists, sheet metal workers, leather and canvas workers, butchers, watchmen, janitors, firemen, and clerks.

Under Army's Supervision.

The civilians receiving this employment would be men unfit for army service by reason of advanced age or physical disability. They will be under the supervision of army officers. Similar jobs existing in the tactical organizations, however, would continue to be performed by military personnel.

"The number of men thus relieved from non-combat maintenance duties would go far toward the creation of a new army corps," the official announcement said. "The plan will contribute to the fighting efficiency of the army not only by making 30,000 more troops available for combat functions, but also because a large part of these troops are specialists who will be valuable as instructors in the expanding army."

Judge McKinley Is Named to Judicial Advisory Board

The county board yesterday appointed Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley of the Superior court to the judicial advisory committee authorized to consider legislation related to judicial reform. He is to serve a four year term, succeeding the late Judge Denis E. Sullivan of the Superior court.

HOLD DRAWING FOR 750,000 IN 2D DRAFT CALL

tion now and security for the future. He noted that it will be up to local draft boards to make the final selection of men who will serve in the armed forces and those who will serve in other ways.

Draftee Takes Command.

Secretary Knox, one of the foremost advocates of American intervention in Great Britain's war on Nazi Germany, had been named as the one who would draw the first number. But at the last moment, even as radio commentators were whispering his name over the air and photographers cocked their cameras in readiness, he announced he wanted to "step aside" to permit one of the draftees already in service to make the drawing.

Sergt. Shackleton was selected as the ranking draftee among the 50 brought here for the ceremonies. Tall and good looking with a deep bronzed complexion, he smiled amiably as he posed for pictures holding the capsule he had taken out of the bowl.

The lottery was completed at 9:36 p. m. The 800th and last number drawn was 630.

DRAFT LOTTERY NOTES

The first draft number drawn in Washington—No. 196—was a "blank" in all except five of Cook county's 180 draft boards.

Since the numbers in the lottery represent serial numbers assigned to registrants by their local boards, serial numbers run no higher than the number of men registered with the board. The largest registration in a Cook county board is 207 in board No. 96, ward 11, which has 208 men. Any higher number was a "blank" in all Cook county boards.

The five men in Chicago who held No. 196 are:

	Ward No.	Draft board
Anthony B. Gizinski, 3142 East 81st street	7	13
Carl J. Weld Jr., 1119 North LeClaire avenue	36	53
Walter Swierez, 2551 West 50th street	12	98
Joseph M. Wagner, 11720 Peoria street	19	33
Chester E. Parzyszek, 1720 West 33d street	11	96

Board No. 120, in ward 27, has the smallest registration—57. Registrations average about 130 per board. Registrations trickling in up to late yesterday had brought the Cook county total to 23,788, of whom 19,891 are Chicago men.

Some 8,320 men, or about 35 per cent, are expected to be placed in class 1-A. This in contrast to the 13 per cent of 1-A men which Cook county boards have averaged in examining more than 187,000 men since last November.

HOW A DRAFTEE CAN TELL WHEN HE'LL GET CALL

John Draftee may determine approximately when he will be called for examination and classification by his board by following this procedure:

John should add the number of new men and the number of October registrants remaining in his draft district. This gives the total registration for the district.

He should then divide his own order number [obtained by finding his position in the lottery list and multiplying by his board's ratio number] by the total registration. For example, if John is 400 on his board's list and the board has a total of 2,000 registrants, both new and old, the quotient will be .20.

This quotient should then be multiplied by 13. It is estimated that all men now registered will be called up within 13 months. This will give John approximately the time, in months, before his board calls him. If, for instance, he divides his order number by the total registration and gets .20, and then multiplies .20 by 13 the result would be 2.6, or about two and a half months. That's the best estimate of the time before John will be called.

The army has announced it wants 900,000 draftees during the year beginning July 1. Illinois would furnish a quota of 69,300, of which Cook county would supply 38,115, an average of 3,176 a month. Thus, all of the county's 42,300 prospective soldiers can expect to find themselves in the army within about 13 months.

THE 'HORSEY SET' TRADES GLAMOR FOR FIRE POWER

Cavalry Now One of Main Cogs in War Machine.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Bliss, Tex., July 17 [Special].—Uncle Sam's cavalry, for years a spit and polish organization of the army's horsey set whose chief duty was parading as an honor guard for visiting dignitaries, now is a new and important cog in the nation's military machine.

Maj. Gen. I. P. Swift.

The spectacular days of carbine, saber, and lance are gone. Maj. Gen. Innis P. Swift, commander of the 1st cavalry division, said today a cavalry division now has as much fire power [volume of bullets and shells hurled by a variety of weapons] as an infantry division, and is designed for fast action over terrain too difficult for mechanized forces.

The expanding army now has two divisions of cavalry. The newest, the 2d, which was activated in June, is being whipped into shape at Fort Riley, Kas.

1st Division Proving Worth.

Here at Fort Bliss the veteran 1st division, which has been in existence since shortly after the World war, is engaged in extended war games to prove its worth in modern battle. Gen. Swift is directing the activities of more than 17,000 men in his own outfit and attached units in the blistering hot desert flatlands 30 miles northeast of the fort.

Gen. Swift has a ready answer for skeptics who believe that the era of the horse in warfare has passed. He cites up to the minute reports from the European conflict.

"We've heard that the German army had 30 cavalry divisions on the Russian front at the time the invasion began," Gen. Swift said. "Earlier it was reported from Syria that the British were rushing the formation of cavalry units because of inability of mechanization to operate efficiently over the Syria terrain.

"Persons who think of modern cavalry in terms of the old carbine-saber-lance days, when the largest projectile hurled by horse troops was a .30 caliber bullet, have much to learn.

Fire Power Shown.

The general, whose father was a cavalry general before him, cited army tables of organization to prove his point. They showed that the division, when it receives all of its equipment, will have the following:

Weapon	Number required.	Now has per cent.
Garand rifle	4,918	100
.45 cal. pistol	10,020	75
.30 cal. light machine gun	327	75
.30 cal. heavy machine gun	356	100
.50 cal. machine gun	265	48
.45 cal. submachine gun	480	100
37 mm. anti-tank gun	67	26
81 mm mortar	28	100
75 mm. howitzer	24	100
105 mm. howitzer	12	100
Browning automatic rifle	15	100

The strength of the division is 11,639 men and officers, of whom 6,409 are horse mounted riflemen.

If she passes the examination, Miss Henie will return in the fall to take the oath of allegiance.

HOW CALDWELL ROSE TO BE BOSS OF UNION CLERKS

International Aid Bares Story to Prosecutor.

How local 1248 of the Retail Clerks' International Protective association came under the gang rule of Max Caldwell was related to Assistant State's Attorney William C. Crawford yesterday in the international headquarters in La Fayette, Ind. Crawford also was permitted to learn the details of Caldwell's reports to the international.

Caldwell, who was once convicted of bootlegging in Indiana and sentenced to six months in prison [under his real name, Max Pollack], has been suspended, along with his aids, as business agent of the local. None of the books or funds of the organization has been found, but it is estimated that dues ran far in excess of $250,000 a year and possibly to twice that. Income tax investigators are investigating the income of Caldwell, which is reported to have been large. The total under federal scrutiny was reported to be $240,000.

Secretary Gives Details.

C. C. Coulter, secretary of the international, was Crawford's informant yesterday. He said that thruout the regime of the displaced business agent, his father-in-law, Charles F. Wills, was his sponsor. Wills is advertising and circulation manager of the Chicago Federation News and is a member of the board of review of the state unemployment compensation administration—a $4,700 job.

Crawford and John J. Burns, the accountant who accompanied him, were allowed to inspect the books of the international, which has a yearly income of $465,000 and a backlog of $300,000 in cash. [The per capita tax is 35 cents a month, and 10 cents is collected for a defense fund.]

Crawford, who complimented the bookkeeping system, quoted Coulter as saying:

"In 1937 the international, altho long established in Chicago, had only 181 members. Alex Marks, an organizer, and Wills came to me here and urged that Caldwell, who had no job then, be made an organizer. They said he could cure the ills of the local. I knew Wills as a labor leader and made the appointment.

Tells of Dues Agreement.

"Caldwell was to send $1 for each new member to the international, but this was to be remitted to the local, which when organized would pay Caldwell for his services. This was done, and Caldwell has never been paid anything by the international.

"By December, 1939, the local had more than 5,000 members paying dues to us. At present the number on whom tax is paid to us is 5,352. There are three smaller unions which were under Caldwell and had 1,300 more members. They operate in the Chicago suburbs. Two other Caldwell unions—shoe clerks and furniture clerks—have less than a dozen members each; the pharmacist clerks have only 61.

"I frequently asked Caldwell why no more organization work was done in the last three unions, and his reply was that he was too busy to tell me."

Silent on Personal Relations.

Coulter did not say much concerning his personal relations with Caldwell, altho he did deny reports that in 1940, when there were complaints here, he came in and was terrorized by the Caldwell henchmen. At that time Wills was made international representative and given nominal charge of the local. Since the present exposé Wills has claimed he resigned from the post after a short tenure.

Coulter also disclosed that local 901B of the international, composed of colored workers in south side stores, had until recently been under the control of J. Livert Kelly, colored, a policy game operator who has been arrested several times. Kelly, according to Coulter, was removed about two weeks ago.

The secretary told Crawford that many members of local 1248, working on a part time basis, might not have been reported and that they could have been sold "permits" [to work as union members] by Caldwell. What revenues came from this procedure cannot be determined from any records available.

Estate Purchase Recalled.

It is reported that the source of Caldwell's large income has been found in his purchase of a luxurious estate in Hollywood, Fla., from the notorious gangster, Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti, last year. Caldwell and his brother, Mike Pollack, also are reported to have acquired considerable property near Saugatuck, Mich. [Pollack is one of the union officers suspended along with Caldwell.]

Coulter said that the local czar had, without permission from the international, set up a clerks' joint council and declared himself president. This body has had no recognition from the international.

Assistant State's Attorney Crawford obtained from Coulter an official list of local 1248 members as certified to headquarters, and this will be made public in order to enable payers of dues to see whether they are actually in good standing and eligible to such benefits as the international affords.

AFL Aid in Charge.

The task of organizing the shepherdless unionists was continued yesterday by Harry O'Reilly, AFL regional organizer who took over the reins temporarily when Caldwell was suspended.

About 1,000 Hillman store employés, who started the revolt that led to the suspensions, announced they were getting information from the CIO Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Workers' international and considering the possibility of affiliation.

U. S. Blacklists 1,800 Latins as Having Axis Ties

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—President Roosevelt today proclaimed that more than 1,800 persons and companies in Latin America have axis ties and imposed an embargo on United States exports to them. Simultaneously their assets in this country were frozen by treasury order.

The action was taken, according to Mr. Roosevelt, "In the interest of national defense" and under authority of the "unlimited national emergency" which the President recently declared.

A list of the affected individuals and firms was released later by the state department and will be used as a guide to deny them materials subject to the export control system—mostly materials needed for the rearmament program—and is intended to provide American business concerns with a list of undesirables from whom they should steer clear in appointing Latin American agents or in other business dealings.

List Covers 53 Pages.

The list consists almost entirely of Spanish names with a sprinkling of German and Italian, with addresses in Latin America. It covers 53 pages of a special booklet issued by the state department.

A White House statement accompanying the proclamation said the list was prepared by the secretary of state in conjunction with the secretary of the treasury, attorney general, secretary of commerce, administrator of export control, and the coördinator of commercial and cultural relations between the American republics.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement said the list will be amended from time to time and consists of "certain persons deemed to be acting for the benefit of Germany or Italy, or nationals of those countries, and persons to whom the exportation, directly or indirectly, of various articles or materials is deemed to be detrimental to the interest of national defense."

5,000 Firms Under Scrutiny.

Today's action was foreseen in view of a statement last Friday from Nelson A. Rockefeller's office for coördinating commercial and cultural relations between the Americas that a close check war being made of Latin American accounts, resulting in the loss of more than 1,000 accounts of business concerns in the United States. The government compiled information on about 5,000 concerns in Latin America from which the blacklist was taken.

Included in the list of proscribed companies in each country was the Transocean News Service, German agency recently barred from the United States.

The list also includes some of the air lines which allegedly have been under axis control while maintaining widespread and expensive services below the Rio Grande.

Bata Shoe company [Czechoslovakia] branches in Argentina, Brazil, and Haiti were proscribed, as were several foreign photographic firms.

Other prominent German and Italian businesses in the list included the Deutsche Uberseeische bank in Argentina, and Martini & Rossi, a prominent Italian wine firm, active in almost all of the countries on the list.

British Auxiliary Vessel Sunk; 37 Crewmen Lost

LONDON, July 17 (AP).—The admiralty announced today that the auxiliary vessel Lady Somers has been sunk with a loss of 37 out of a crew of 175 officers and men. The announcement failed to specify the manner of the sinking or where it took place. The survivors were picked up by Spanish ships. [Lloyds' Register lists the Lady Somers as a 8,194 ton vessel of the Canadian National Steamship Lines, with Montreal as her home port.]

PEDESTRIAN HIT BY AUTOMOBILE DIES OF INJURIES

Henry Levsen, 76 years old, 2049 13th street, unemployed, was killed yesterday by an automobile at Roosevelt road and Leavitt street. The driver was Cordell Young, 19, colored, of 922 South Wood street.

Joseph F. Barton, 42, of 422 Melrose street, a musician, died in the Northwestern hospital of Des Plaines of injuries suffered Monday when his car collided with another machine at Wolf road and Central avenue near Des Plaines. His death was the second resulting from the collision.

Joseph Petraitis, 19, of 212 South Broadway, Aurora, died in St. Joseph's hospital in Aurora of injuries suffered Wednesday night when he was struck by a car as he and a friend were pushing their stalled car along route 31 near Aurora.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 508 persons had been killed by traffic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 359 were killed in Chicago, where 13,099 were injured in the same period.

Mother and 2 Sons Burned to Death in Auto Wreck

Harrisburg, Ill., July 17 (AP).—Mrs. Clarence Paul, 30 years old, of Harrisburg and her two sons, Loren, 5, and Sammy, 3, were burned to death tonight when their automobile overturned in a collision with a truck and caught fire. Paul, 32, succeeded in pulling out his wife and sister-in-law, Mrs. Percy Paul of Harrisburg, but was so severely burned he was not expected to live. Mrs. Percy Paul also is near death. Dale Moore of Harrisburg, driver of the truck, was uninjured.

MORE CHANGES FORECAST IN HIGH POSTS OF ARMY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Further changes in the army's high command, to follow yesterday's drastic shakeup, were forecast today by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson. He said yesterday's reshuffling of 20 generals was dictated by the policy of "assigning general officers to the duties they can perform more efficiently."

The undersecretary also announced that the war department supports the disciplinary action meted out by Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear to 350 soldiers who yoo-hoo'd at the golf playing girls clad in shorts. As far as the war department is concerned, he said, the incident is closed.

POLIO OUTBREAK BELIEVED CURBED IN TENNESSEE

Tullahoma, Tenn., July 17 [Special].—One new case of polio [infantile paralysis] was reported in Franklin county today by Dr. A. E. Hardison, state epidemiologist, bringing to 17 the number reported in the present outbreak in the Franklin-Coffee county area.

Dr. Hardison said it seemed the first stage of the epidemic had been checked. He said progress could be reported if no new cases showed up in the next two weeks.

"It takes from one to three weeks for the disease to incubate," he said. "At the end of another two weeks we will know whether the disease has been spread by the 17 victims here."

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

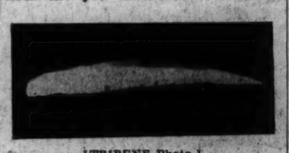
Indian Tool Found.

July 17, 1941.

ANOTHER artifact has been added to the growing list of arrowheads and Indian tools found in the fields and along the roadsides on the Wheaton farm. This week one of the farm workers found a small, sharply pointed awl or engraving tool near the vegetable plots.

The artifact has been examined by an archeologist of the Field Museum of Natural History, who says that it is an animal tooth which the Indians sharpened for use as an awl in perforating hides and for engraving pottery. Tooling marks, similar to those which would be made by a vise, are found on one side of the instrument.

Other evidences of Indian life found on the farm in recent years indicate that the Potawatomis maintained a community or hunting camp there. This tribe lived in northern Illinois between 1400 and 1700.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

A Well Behaved Fox.

A red fox seen recently by several of the Wheaton farm workers has roamed the fields and woods without bothering any of the farm stock or invading the barnyard or game bird yard. The men are hoping that Mr. Reynard will continue his good behavior and doesn't get any fancy ideas about chicken or pheasant dinners.

The men on the Fox river farm see foxes every year, but these shrewd animals are not so common in the Wheaton area. Naturally this one caused a stir of excitement.

The fox isn't the only possible predator about which the farm residents are worrying. A large cat has been seen on the farm a number of times, and once it was dangerously near the pen where more than 50 pheasant chicks are housed. So the men are maintaining a close watch at the pheasant yard.

Advice for Cygnets.

The new black swan cygnets that were placed on the round pond the other day have little to fear from Mr. Fox as long as they stay on the water. Foxes are so fastidious about keeping their feet dry that they don't often attack waterfowl. The two downy cygnets are about nine weeks old, and recently were transferred to the farm from the Brookfield zoo. Some time ago the farm gave the zoo several adult black swans, and this year the birds produced a family of cygnets, two of which were taken to the pond at Wheaton.

The cygnets, about the size of full grown mallard ducks, are getting a diet composed of chopped lettuce and spinach alternated with generous portions of scratch grain. When we watched them paddling around the pond the other day they seemed to be perfectly content in their new surroundings.

TANK FIGHTERS MADE SEPARATE UNIT IN 33D DIV.

Camp Forrest, Tenn., July 17 (AP).—To match the speed and agility of armored troops, the army began today an experimental streamlining of its anti-tank forces here by consolidating under a centralized command all weapons designed to combat tanks and airplanes.

The plan, presented to the war college in Washington, D. C., this week, drastically changes the table of army organization, but its sponsors contend it will afford mobility to troops heretofore fettered by rules laid down in the static trench warfare of 1917-'18.

An outgrowth of the army's search for an effective means of stopping the modern armadas of steel and guns, the experiment for the first time provides anti-tank troops with their own network of vehicular radio for spotting attacking tanks.

LIMIT SEIZURE POWER SOUGHT BY ROOSEVELT

Senate Group Agrees on Substitute Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—A White House bill conferring dictatorial power on President Roosevelt to seize any property whatever deemed by him to be necessary for the national defense was rejected today by the senate military affairs committee.

The committee reported instead a substitute bill authorizing the President to requisition "military or naval equipment, supplies or munitions, or component parts thereof, or machinery, tools, or materials necessary for the manufacture, servicing, or operation of such equipment."

Violent Controversy Stirred.

The bill reported today was drafted by the war department according to specifications laid down by the committee yesterday after a violent controversy over the White House dictatorship measure. The President's demand for absolute power to seize any kind of property whatever produced an uproar, the like of which committee members could not recall, it was learned today.

Wayne Coy, an assistant to President Roosevelt, took the White House bill to the closed meeting yesterday, and it was offered for the committee's consideration by Senator A. B. Chandler [D., Ky.]. The committee already had under consideration the original dictator bill, submitted by the war department, which authorized the President to seize "property of any kind or character, whether real or personal, tangible or intangible."

Patterson Plan Milder.

The committee also had under consideration a somewhat milder substitute proposed by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, which undertook to specify the kind of property that could be seized.

Committee members denounced the new White House substitute as a wolf which, despite its thin disguise of sheep's clothing, was almost as ferocious as the original dictator bill.

Senator Sheridan Downey [D., Cal.] predicted that the policies being pursued by the Roosevelt administration would result in a revolution when the war boom collapses. The government will attempt to take over all business and industrial activity and the American people will revolt, he said.

New Dealer Yields.

When it became obvious the White House bill could not be reported, Senator Josh Lee [D., Okla.], a New Deal yes-man, moved that the war department be instructed to draft a new bill incorporating the restrictive language of the substitute offered by Patterson and other limitations proposed by committee members. Senator Styles Bridges [R., N. H.] seconded the motion and it was adopted.

Under the bill reported the property seizure power could not be exercised after June 30, 1943, and all property requisitioned would have to be returned by Dec. 31, 1943, provided the owners paid a fair price for it. The President would fix "fair and just" compensation for property requisitioned and any owner not satisfied could take half and sue the government for the remainder of his claim.

Actress in City

ELEANOR LYNN.

Eleanor Lynn, young brunette stage and screen actress, stopped briefly in the North Western railway station yesterday en route from Hollywood to New York to start work in a new play. She was carrying two bamboo poles on which she said she wraps her "broomstick skirts" to keep them from wrinkling. The skirts are a new Hollywood fad.

MICHIGAN WHEAT GROWERS FIGHT EXCESS PENALTY

2,500 Call on Congress to Repeal Law.

Adrian, Mich., July 17 [Special].—Two thousand five hundred farmers of Lenawee county, the third richest agricultural county in the nation, unanimously asked congress at a mass-meeting here tonight to repeal the 49 cent a bushel penalty on excess wheat. The meeting was called by the Lenawee County Protective league.

The wheat growers applauded when Representative Frederick C. Smith [R., O.] said that "these wheat penalties represent communism and nothing else."

Misled by Propaganda.

"Those who voted for the 49 cent penalty on wheat," Smith said, "did so because they were misled by false propaganda coming from the United States department of agriculture. Furthermore, only 7 per cent of the wheat farmers in the nation voted for the referendum. When does this wheat penalty become due? It's due when the wheat is threshed, 'Hell Hitler.'

"A few days ago in Washington I presented objections to the wheat penalty before the house agriculture committee. I told them the whole thing should be wiped out. I said that they had touched the liberty of the one group of people in America who still know what it is.

Calls It Communistic.

"If the people in Washington get away with this one, who knows but what corn, oats, milk, and potatoes will be next. Then they'll tell us how many onions we can plant in our own gardens.

"Where did this sort of thing come from? It was born in communistic Russia. It was nurtured there and is still found there. It was imported to America from there. But let me say that if we have the spirit we can lick this thing and win. Let's leave the road to Moscow and go forward on the road to America."

Threaten Farm Strike in Ohio.

Dayton, O., July 17 (AP).—I. E. Baker, a former state senator and president of the Farmers' Protective association, said today that his organization would "strike and starve out the nation" if the government won two suits on file here challenging validity of wheat marketing quotas.

"We will refuse to sell and refuse to raise the crops that feed the nation," Baker told a meeting of farmers at nearby Germantown. "The industries of the nation have gone on strike to protect rights less vital than those at stake in this fight."

Suits contesting the right of the Agricultural Adjustment administration to fix quotas and penalize excess wheat at 49 cents a bushel were filed in federal court Monday by two southwestern Ohio farmers. Webb Clark, Dayton attorney, who filed the suits, said the Farmers' Protective association has 24,000 members.

Baker told the Germantown farmers they should refuse to coöperate with AAA authorities, and said the association would help any farmer who was arrested.

ROBERT PLUMMER DIES ON TRAIN.

Toledo, O., July 17 [Special].—Robert Plummer, 43, of Cleveland, sales engineer for the Foote Brothers Gear and Machine corporation, Chicago, died on a train today as it pulled into Union station. Mr. Plummer and his wife were returning to their home after a business trip to Chicago.

IRELAND TO FIGHT ANY AGGRESSOR, SAYS DE VALERA

DUBLIN, Ireland, July 17.—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera in a statement before the Irish parliament tonight on relations between Ireland and the United States, said that "all that could be done was to make it clear that the attitude of the country was that any aggression from any quarter whatever was going to be resisted by us." Therefore, De Valera went on, "aggression from Germany is going to be resisted, as well as aggression from anywhere else."

NEWFOUNDLAND AND TRINIDAD TO BE FULL BASES

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—The navy announced today the commissioning of two full fledged naval operating bases at Argentia, Newfoundland, and Trinidad, British West Indies, with maintenance and overhaul facilities for warships operating in Atlantic waters.

Previous navy announcements had indicated the $17,050,000 Newfoundland base would consist merely of a naval air station. Navy sources said today it would have a fleet anchorage and refueling and limited overhaul facilities for battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, and other combat vessels.

Altho still under construction, the base at Argentia was commissioned and placed in operation July 15 under Commander Gail Morgan. The $17,855,000 base at Trinidad will be commissioned Aug. 1, under Commander Arthur W. Radford. The bases are on two of the eight sites acquired from Great Britain in exchange for 50 over-age destroyers.

Happy Relief From Painful Backache

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys — and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

There are times when he needs —more than anything else
some snapshots from home

SEND THEM EVERY WEEK

IF, away from home, you've opened a letter with snapshots—you know what they mean. The letter alone can't do it all. That boy of yours wants to see your smiles. The changes around home. His pets. His friends. The family outings. Only snapshots can bring him the very feeling of home.

So don't let him be the one "left out" when the mail comes in, and new snapshots are passed around. Once a week won't be too often to send snapshots from home. Shoot them on dependable Kodak Film—it makes your camera a better camera. Experienced picture takers use Kodak Film always—secure in the knowledge that their pictures will "turn out."

And be sure that your boy has a handy, modern camera—so he can share with you his new life at camp. It needn't be expensive—it will pay for itself, many times, in the comfort it brings you : : : Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.

SMOLENSK, RAIL CENTER, CLAIMED TAKEN BY NAZIS

Assert Moscow Throws In Last Reserves.

BERLIN, July 17 (AP).—The important railway center of Smolensk on the road to Moscow was claimed by the Germans tonight and the high command declared Russia was throwing her last reserves into the most extensive battle of all time, with 9,000,000 soldiers fighting bitterly all along the eastern front.

"Great successes are in the making," the army said.

The official news agency DNB reported the fall of Smolensk, which is 230 miles west of Moscow, and also the capture of Polotsk, another rail center on the Dvina river northwest of Vitebsk and behind the advance Nazi panzer [armored] units in this area. One thousand Russians were taken prisoner.

[A Reuters (British) news agency dispatch from Moscow to London Thursday morning declared Smolensk still was in Russian hands.]

Great Blows Along Front.

The high command announced only the capture of Chisinau, the capital of Russian Bessarabia, on the southern end of the front. This also was behind the advance lines.

From Finland to the Black sea the German war machine was declared to be striking tremendous blows, with the most spectacular action for the moment unfolding at the gates of Kiev, the industrial capital of the rich Ukraine, but with the power drives in the direction of Moscow and Leningrad continuing.

It was reported that the last of the underground bunkers [forts] in the Kiev defense system had been taken by storm in operations carried on by the Germans under cover of artificial fog. It was not claimed that all Kiev defenses had been battered down, but instead it was indicated that surface fortifications and possibly some trenches still separated Kiev from the invaders.

Pass By; Mop Up Later.

In this sector as in many others the Germans' pell mell drive passed the fortifications without bothering to reduce them immediately. Then, with the storm units already far out in advance, engineers and infantry set about methodically smoking the enemy from subterranean strongholds.

[A DNB broadcast heard in London acknowledged strong Russian counterattacks on infantry troops trying to join advanced motorized columns in the Kiev area. The German agency said, however, that these attacks were broken under heavy German artillery and infantry attacks. In the center of the front beyond the Dnieper DNB said that German troops had advanced in the Orsha area.]

At still another section of the southern front the town of Porgoreloe-Gorodische fell before the Germans. In first dispatches this city was confused by an authorized spokesman with another community of the same name only 110 miles west of Moscow. The report consequently spread that Moscow was in immediate danger. Now it appeared likely that the Germans still were some distance from the Russian capital.

Nazis Report 16 Reds Shot by Firing Squad in Belgrade

BERLIN, July 17 (AP).—The official German news agency, DNB, said today in a dispatch from Belgrade that 16 men described as "well known communists" had been executed by a firing squad for sabotage.

NAZIS TELL TURKS OF CONCERN OVER BRITISH IN SYRIA

ANKARA, Turkey, July 16 [Delayed] (AP).—German uneasiness over probable concentration of British troops in northern Syria near the Turkish border was expressed to the foreign office today by Franz von Papen, German ambassador. He was said to have attempted to persuade Turkey to intervene with the British for establishment of a semi-demilitarized zone across northern Syria.

Allies Enter Beirut.

BEIRUT, Lebanon, July 16 [Delayed] (AP).—Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson and Gen. Georges Catroux, head of the British and "Free French" armies in the Levant [near east], entered Beirut in triumph today to install a new régime in the former French mandate of Syria and Lebanon. They were greeted by a Vichy delegation.

British and "Free French" forces continued their occupation of the country, which is expected to be completed by Friday night. Vichy military forces remained concentrated chiefly in the region between the River Dog and Tripoli, which will be the embarkation point for those returning to France.

100,000 Welsh Miners Vote Against Slash in Vacations

LONDON, July 17 (AP).—Almost 100,000 Welsh coal miners turned down a plan today to cut their summer holidays in half and to work on Sunday nights. Rejecting the advice of their leaders, the miners in south Wales voted 60,877 to 38,487 against halved vacations and 54,541 to 44,304 against Sunday night work.

COMMISSARS IN RED ARMY DEVELOPMENT OF 1917 CIVIL CONFLICT

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

The unique system of political commissars attached to the armed forces, which soviet Russia abolished on Aug. 12, 1940, and restored yesterday, originated during the Civil war following the 1917 revolution.

The Red army at that time had so few officers of experience it was forced to rely on many former czarist officers whose loyalty to the bolshevik cause was doubtful at best. To prevent treachery, a political commissar went along with each of these officers to watch him and either approve or veto the officer's commands.

The system was useful to Stalin, in the peaceful years, in singling out officers deemed to be Trotzkyites or counter-revolutionaries. The commissars had their greatest power during the purges of 1937-'38. They were active during Russia's 1939-'40 war with Finland, but apparently as a result of the bad showing against Finland, were discarded.

Reds, British Exchange War Aid—Diamonds, Platinum

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—Two planeloads of war materials so far have been exchanged between Britain and Russia, it was reported tonight. The consignments were industrial diamonds from Britain for use by Russian war factories and a load of platinum from Russia to Britain for the manufacture of bombs. The value of the cargoes was described here as "fantastic."

REDS STAND OFF NAZI MECHANIZED DRIVES: MOSCOW

Battles Rage Along Paths to 3 Great Cities.

MOSCOW, July 18 [Friday] (AP).—Red troops successfully withstood fierce Nazi mechanized lunges in the Smolensk sector, 230 miles west of Moscow, and in the Pskov-Porkhov area, 150 miles south of Leningrad, the soviet information bureau announced today in a report telling of heavy battling along the far-flung front.

"As a result of the fighting there was no important change in the disposition of our troops on the front," the communique said.

Soviet soldiers also are engaged in fierce fighting at Polotsk, near the Estonian border, and 140 miles to the rear of the dangerous Nazi salient which has reached Smolensk.

The situation at Novograd-Volynski, 130 miles west of Kiev, captial of the Ukraine, remained the same, as did the front extending southward to the Bessarabian sector, it was declared.

Tell of Aircraft Destroyed.

"Our airforce operated against enemy motor and mechanized troops and destroyed aircraft at airdromes," the communique said. "During July 15 and 16, 98 German aircraft were destroyed. We lost 23 planes."

Along the central front there was no change in positions which at last report had been strongly favorable to the Red defenders.

This was in the area of a 20 mile long salient formed by a long Russian counteroffensive west of the Dnieper river, where the Germans were declared to have been thrown back upon Bobruisk, a town long since passed in the main fighting, to a depth of 30 miles or more.

A reorganization of soviet agencies of political propaganda and the reintroduction of political commissars into the Red armies was announced. The commissars were empowered to share military responsiblity with the regular commanders.

Rumanian Port Wrecked.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 15 [Delayed] (AP).—Travelers reaching here from the Balkans reported Russian air raids have destroyed the Rumanian Black sea port of Constanta, but not the city, and said great damage has been done to Rumanian oil fields, altho they still are able to operate.

CHARGES BRITISH USE TEXTBOOK PRAISING HITLER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—English schools are using a textbook entitled "Adolf Hitler" in which the Fuehrer and the Nazi ideology are glorified, Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, charged in the house of commons today. He said the book was published in 1935 and asked the board of education to see "that English children are not taught by such means."

Chuter Ede, parliamentary secretary to the board of education, said he had taken steps to get a copy of the book and, as he was no German scholar, would have it read to him.

"It certainly is not a book that should be used in the English schools," Ede said, promising to take appropriate steps if he ascertains where this book is used.

Reds Extend Food, Clothes Rationing to Leningrad

MOSCOW, July 17 (AP).—Food and clothing rationing ordered yesterday for Moscow was extended to Leningrad today, but officials said the system would not be introduced in other regions.

FRANCO WARNS U.S.: IT'S MADNESS TO GET INTO WAR

Accuses Washington of Economic Pressure.

MADRID, Spain, July 17 (AP).—Generalissimo Francisco Franco warned the United States in a militant speech tonight that any attempt to intervene in the European war would be madness.

The Spanish chief of state declared Britain and her allies already had lost the war. He said the Greek campaign proved a fleet could be put out of action by airplanes, and American entry, therefore, would lead only to catastrophe.

Sees Decision in Russia.

In his speech, which was made to the national council of the Falange [Spanish Fascist] party, Franco said continuation of the conflict might spread it to one between two continents, America and Europe.

"This could lead only to ruin of the American nations, which need liberty of the seas for their economic life," he said.

Franco discounted the possibility of a two-continent war, however, saying the conflict was being decided now on the Russian front.

Praise for Argentina.

He accused the United States, "when they offered us economic help," of "always trying to force us to obey the will of other nations." By contrast, he praised Argentina, saying:

"Two years without ships, without foreign exchange, without credit and still Spain has imported 2,000,000 tons of grain, thanks to sister nations like Argentina which have given us every aid."

He pledged the friendship of Spain to the axis in the fight against Russia.

CHICAGO NURSE, 12 OTHERS SAFE IN SHIP SINKING

LONDON, July 17 (AP).—Six more American Red Cross nurses and seven United States Marines rescued from the Netherlands steamship Maasdam, torpedoed in the North Atlantic last month, arrived in London today.

The nurses were Margaret Malloy, Chicago; Frances Bacon, Farmington, Mich.; Laurine Smith, Hudsonville, Mich.; Mary Ann Sullivan, Boston; Geraldine Shuttleworth, Milton, Mass., and Martha Reis, Wooster, O.

Nine other American nurses who were aboard the Maasdam arrived here July 4. Two of the contingent still are unaccounted for.

[Miss Malloy, 26 years old, was a public health nurse with the Chicago Infant Welfare society for the last three years. Another Chicago nurse, Miss Marie C. Goik, was among those previously landed.]

I USE RINSO FOR DISHES. IT'S SPEEDY AND MILDER THAN EVER ON MY HANDS
"ANTI-SNEEZE" RINSO IS 98% FREE OF SOAP-DUST
WHAT DOES THAT MEAN TO ME?

MARY: It means no cloud of pesky soap-dust when you wash clothes or dishes. And it is this irritating soap-dust that causes "washday hay-fever."

BESS: I see! Then that's why they made Rinso "Anti-Sneeze"—98% free of soap-dust.

MARY: Of course! Why, many widely used package soaps contain up to a ¼-lb. of sneezy soap-dust. But most important, the New Rinso washes clothes up to 10 shades whiter than 16 soaps tested.

BESS: Gosh, that's wonderful! And you say the New Rinso, with its "suds-booster," goes so much farther than the old that it's just like getting free soap every 5th washday? I simply must try it!

F. D. R. AND NAVY HEADS CONFER AS JAPS SHIFT RULE

U. S. Declared Ready for Any Development.

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—Waiting cautiously for Japan to show what course it intendes to take, the United States today prepared to meet any development in the Pacific growing out of a change in government in Tokio.

President Roosevelt went over diplomatic reports from the Japanese capital in a conference with Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, and conferred with members of the navy high command.

There was speculation that this second conference was concerned, at least in part, with the far eastern situation. Those who attended, however, said there was "nothing to say."

The conferees were Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox; Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations; Rear Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, and Rear Admiral Richmond K. Turner, chief of the war plans division of the office of naval operations.

As far as the United States was concerned, the government stood on Welles' statement of July 3 that he hoped any decision reached in Tokio on international conditions would be such as to make for maintenance of peace in the Pacific.

Konoe Forms Cabinet.

TOKIO, July 18 [Friday] (AP).—Prime Fumimaro Konoe today formed a new government to deal with the difficult choices confronting Japan in the world crisis, especially those arising from the German-Russian war. The names of the ministers were not announced.

Emperor Hirohito commanded Konoe, head of the cabinet that resigned Wednesday night because of its troubles with "the ever changing world situation," to retain the premiership.

[Japan has protested to Russia against certain phases of the mining of waters near Japan, according to a Moscow dispatch to the newspaper Asahi, said a Tokio dispatch.]

"Key" Ministers May Remain.

Indications were that several key members of the retiring cabinet would retain office in the new one.

[A dispatch from Shanghai, China, said the calling up of an undetermined number of Japanese reservists coincided with the cabinet shift. Shanghai observers disagreed whether Japanese action indicated a move north against Russian Siberia or a new thrust south.]

CLAIM RAF RAIDS COST GERMANS 56 SHIPS IN 10 DAYS

22 Disabled in War's Biggest Attack.

LONDON, July 18 (AP).—The British air offensive against shipping lines on the west front has cost Germany 56 ships totaling 200,000 tons sunk or badly damaged in the last 10 days, the air correspondent of the British Press association estimated last night.

A daylight attack on 22 axis ships at the Dutch port of Rotterdam Wednesday "was the biggest success achieved by the RAF against shipping in one day since the war started."

The air ministry announced that large forces of Blenheim bombers put out of action 17 axis ships between 90,000 and 100,000 tons in this attack and severely damaged five more totaling between 40,000 and 45,00 tons.

Report 85 Sunk in Month.

The British have sunk 85 axis ships during the last month "by air and submarine," Admiral Sir Lionel Preston, retired, said in a broadcast. These sinkings, he added, are "nearly as many as they have sunk of ours."

The German air force singled out a northeastern English town for a sharp attack last night and it was feared casualties may prove heavy.

British bombers roared over the channel to attack targets in western Germany in a continuation of their heavy offensive.

Nazis Claim Airport Damage.

BERLIN, July 17 (AP).—German air blows, again aimed overnight at the terminals of Britain's Atlantic shipping and the home bases of the RAF, were credited by the high command today with setting big fires on Midlands airports and bombing the port of Great Yarmouth.

A 3,000 ton freighter was reported destroyed off the British coast and another merchantman severely damaged.

AUSTRALIAN SOLDIERS BREAK THRU TOBRUK SIEGE LINES IN RAID

CAIRO, Egypt, July 17 (AP).—An Australian patrol, stabbing more than three miles into the axis ring outside besieged Tobruk Tuesday night, inflicted casualties "substantially greater than the strength of the patrol itself," the British middle east command reported today. It said two strong points on the Libyan desert were assaulted in the hit-and-run attack.

British armored forces, supported by mobile artillery, have "been actively inflicting casualties upon the enemy in personnel and material" in the Egyptian-Libyan frontier area, the communique added.

Bomb Malta and Egypt.

ROME, Italy, July 17 (AP).—Italian air bombardments of British air bases on the island of Malta and in Egypt were reported today by the high command. It credited an Italian submarine in the Atlantic with sinking an 800 ton oil tanker.

The daily communique reported also a dive-bombing attack on two steamers off the African coast in which one of the vessels, of 1,500 tons, was hit and believed sunk. It admitted British air raids on Tripoli and Bengazi, chief axis bases on the Libyan coast, but said damage was slight.

ITALY, GERMANY HOLD CONSULS OF U. S. AS HOSTAGES

Plan Exchange When Own Reach Lisbon.

ROME, July 17 (AP).—In concert with Germany the Italian government held a group of 76 ousted American consular officials and employés at San Remo tonight as virtual hostages for the safe arrival at Lisbon of axis consular staffs ejected from the United States.

The foreign ministry confirmed that its decision was made at the behest of Germany to observe the same procedure as Berlin regarding exchange of the consuls.

Refuse to Permit Departure.

It will therefore not be possible, the ministry informed the United States embassy, to permit the American group to leave Italy until word has been received that the Italian consular party has arrived in Lisbon and disembarked from the United States naval transport West Point, which sailed from New York Wednesday.

[American consular officials and employés who have been stationed in Germany are assembled at Frankfurt-am-Main. An authorized spokesman in Berlin said that "the plan is to give up the Americans at the moment the Italians and Germans safely return." He said the exchange possibly would take place in Spain. The German attitude was that German officials on the West Point still are under United States official supervision.]

Face 5 Days More of Detention.

With the West Point due in Lisbon July 22 or 23, the Americans at the Riviera resort, within 15 miles of the French frontier, faced the prospect of staying there at least five more days.

As it will take them two to three days to reach Lisbon after the vessel docks, the West Point's return sailing, scheduled for July 25, is expected to be delayed.

The Americans arrived at San Remo yesterday morning by special train from Rome. During their enforced stay there the Italian government is paying their expenses in two of the best hotels. They are allowed to move freely about the city, one of Italy's most attractive Riviera resorts.

Renewed Punchboard Drive Ordered in Central District

Capt. Thomas J. Duffy of the central police station yesterday ordered his men to seize all punchboards and pinball machines found in his district. He said the illegal devices had begun to reappear recently. Policemen who make arrests in the drive were ordered to take license numbers of places raided so that license revocation proceedings may be instituted.

BULLET WOUNDS PUT POLICE HERO BACK IN HOSPITAL

Sergt. Michael Curtin, police hero, is in St. Anthony's hospital from the after effects of bullet wounds suffered in a gun fight with a bandit March 9, 1940.

Curtin was awarded the Carter H. Harrison medal last Sunday at the annual Police and Fire Thrill show in Soldiers' field. He became ill next day in his home at 1023 East 46th street, and was taken to the hospital.

Dr. Andrew J. Toman, Bridewell hospital surgeon, said that the sergeant apparently was suffering from adhesions from the wounds. Sergt. Curtin battled Andrew Foster, colored, at 48th street and Drexel boulevard. Curtin also wounded Foster who was later seized and is now in prison. Curtin, a former bodyguard for Mayor Kelly, has twice won The Tribune hero award.

MILK PRICE RISE IS PROTESTED BY CONSUMER GROUP

A delegation of 30 women from the United Conference on the High Cost of Living yesterday visited the board of health and urged it to go on record as opposing the recent increase of one cent a quart in the price of milk. They said that the increased revenue does not go to the dairy farmers or milk wagon drivers, but is appropriated entirely by the dairies, and that the price increase would have a deleterious effect on health and the national defense effort by restricting the ability of families of low income to buy milk. The health board members assured the delegation of their sympathy and took the request for a formal declaration on the price increase under advisement.

NOW A 5-DAY WEEK FOR A&P EMPLOYES THROUGHOUT THE NATION

Stores Will Be Open Six Days A Week As Usual

Two months ago this company tried the experiment in a few eastern states of a five-day work week for our retail store employes. Now we are able to announce that we have adopted the five-day week as our national policy.

• This, we believe, constitutes the first five-day week and the shortest general working hours of any major retail food establishment.

• This shorter work week will be in effect before Labor Day in A&P food stores in thousands of communities throughout the country. It will be extended as far and as fast as possible. Frankly, however, we must recognize that in a few states and a number of cities the introduction of this policy may be delayed or even prevented by state or local labor regulations or local agreements.

• A&P food store employes affected by this policy will work only five days a week although stores will be open six days a week as usual. Their weekly salaries will not be reduced by their shorter work week. Our policy is to continually improve working conditions and salaries as evidenced by the fact that during the past year alone we have been able to make actual wage increases and to pay added compensation to our employes in an amount totaling more than $4,000,000.

• Many people are utterly astounded at the new low prices for quality foods in A&P Super Markets. They are getting so much more and better food for the same money that they wonder how we can do it. Frankly, it is simply because A&P Super Markets represent a new, more efficient, more economical way of distributing food to the public.

• This new, shorter week is still further evidence that the tremendous savings you can now make in buying groceries, meats and fresh fruits and vegetables in the great, new A&P Super Markets are made possible by savings through efficiency and that no part of these savings comes out of the wages of our employes.

For many years it has been a source of pride to us that we have been able generally to maintain the highest average wage scale and the shortest general working hours in a field where long hours have been traditional. Since we first cut the work week eight hours in 1916, there has been a long record of further reduction in hours, increases in wages and vacation schedules.

Because our new low prices have resulted in increased patronage, we have been able to further reduce our operating expenses, and increase our efficiency and still further improve the working conditions of our employes.

At the same time thousands of families will testify that they buy their foods today at lower average prices in A&P Super Markets than in any group of stores in the highly competitive retail food field. Today, when you spend a dollar in one of our stores, more of that dollar actually purchases food and less of it goes to cover distribution costs and profits than ever before in the history of the food business.

There is no conflict between low prices and good working conditions. We have achieved both by constantly improving methods of bringing food from producer to consumer, cutting out waste and unnecessary handling operations along the distribution route.

The new A&P Super Markets have made possible savings so astounding that we would not have believed them possible five years ago. This year we are paying the highest wages for the shortest work week in the history of the food business and yet our customers throughout the country will save more than $50,000,000 on the food they buy as compared to the lowest prices we could charge on the basis of our own operating expense only five years ago.

We are more than ever conscious, in these unusual times, of an obligation to make every possible contribution to the American standard of living. We know that we are making it possible for the average family to buy more good food for the same money, or to buy the same quantity of food for less money.

We are happy to tell you that you can enjoy these savings with the knowledge that the people who serve you in our retail stores are sharing more than ever before in these good things. This means a better standard of living for you and for those who serve you.

This plan will necessitate slight adjustments in store hours which will be announced locally. We respectfully ask our customers for their cooperation and assistance in making this new schedule a success.

Save Our Republic

HOW ODD IT IS.

Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management, told a house committee investigating migratory labor that "there is not a single strike in the nation today that is troubling the OPM." This state of affairs, if true as described by Mr. Hillman, has a curious coincidence with the alliance of communist Russia and Great Britain and with the acceptance by the American communist party of the war as a great crusade for the right.

When strikes were distressing the OPM, the American Reds, following the Moscow party line, regarded the war as a capitalistic and imperialistic enterprise seeking world dominion. When Hitler attacked Stalin all that changed overnight and over here. Strikes, according to Mr. Hillman, no longer disturb the war effort. Something significant might appear in this. The Stalinites may have had something to do with the cessation of labor troubles, just as they may have had a great deal to do with the incitement of them. Cause and effect seem apparent.

There is another oddity in the situation. When Brother Stalin suddenly took on merit and a reputation for good works the department of justice descended upon his traditional enemies, the Trotskyites. The department agents and prosecutors found the followers of this slain bolshevist leader in New York, where they edit publications, and in Minneapolis, where they are affiliated with the General Drivers' union.

The Trotskyites call themselves the Socialist Workers' party. The government has indicted their officers, and publishers, and the leaders of the drivers' union. They are accused of taking counsel from Trotsky while he was in exile in Mexico City as a man without a country. They did try to defend their Marxist leader by providing him with an armed guard, but a Stalinite got him in his fortified house just the same.

Now it is at least odd that when the Stalinites, who admitted they had been causing strikes, who were in key positions in the government, and who were constantly making trouble, become good men and true the department of justice should descend upon the hereditary enemies of the Moscow régime and accuse them of promoting the revolution in which the Stalinites were actively engaged. Of the Trotskyites it can be said that they are few in number and had a position of advantage only in Minneapolis. The drivers' union has been guilty over a period of years of many acts of violence against the laws of Minnesota. But that is not the charge in the indictments. The charge is revolutionary activity and conspiracy to overthrow this government by force.

In a moment of petulance the government sent Earl Browder, the Stalinite leader, to prison for a passport irregularity. He had talked too much about his services to the New Deal. Other Stalinites have been free to raise the devil all over the place. It's odd that the weight of the attorney general's hand should descend at this time upon the deviationists, the Trotskyites whom Stalin has pursued all over the earth, and upon the teamsters who have just broken away from Mr. Roosevelt's AFL friend, Dan Tobin.

A LABOR GOON GOES UNPUNISHED.

Thomas Devero, a convicted thief and robber, has been engaged in dubious activities for some years as a business agent for the Meat Cutters' union, an AFL affiliate. On May 13 Julian Seriek, a member of that union, was found on the street, shot twice. He told police and other witnesses that Devero had shot him.

Devero was arrested within a few minutes. In his car police found a baseball bat. Such weapons have been used in several goon murders in Chicago, and Devero is not addicted to softball. He was indicted; but at his trial Seriek suffered a loss of memory, refusing to repeat the testimony he had previously given the police.

This made it necessary to dismiss the charge against Devero. Seriek, it is reported, has been named in a true bill charging perjury. Edward A. Zimmerman, operating director of the Chicago Crime commission, declares that the indictment of Devero for the subornation of the crime should follow. Devero's known addiction to violence makes the suggestion logical, and the state's attorney's office will no doubt follow it.

The question remains why the American Federation of Labor, which is officially, if a trifle reluctantly, on record against racketeers in labor unions, has no effective procedure for ridding its affiliates of men of this type. Devero's criminal background was no secret, and yet the leaders of an international union permitted him to remain as a leech on its local members over a long period of years. He did the union no good. His conduct of the affairs of one of its locals was a principal reason why its members switched their affiliation to the CIO.

The last two or three years have seen the exposure of a number of criminals in the ranks of AFL unions. In every case, to our knowledge, the exposure has been by public authorities or the newspapers. In none has the original impetus come from the leaders of labor. Sometimes, after the gangsters and extortionists have been indicted or sent to prison, they have been deprived of their union jobs, but even this remedy has not always been applied. George Browne and his perfumed pander, Willie Bioff, are under indictment for extortion, but Browne still sits on the AFL executive council and his gangsters still run the stagehands' union.

If, as the record indicates, the leaders of the labor movement are determined to place on public authorities the burden of cleansing their movement of gangsters, the authorities' power to do so should be made adequate. As we have suggested before, this could be accomplished thru amendment of the Wagner act, by barring from the privileges of that act any union that failed to meet minimum standards for financial accounts, honest and uncoerced elections, and the character of its officers.

THE TIME HAS COME.

The governor of Michigan has demanded that the 38 per cent curtailment in automobile output, scheduled for Aug. 1, be suspended because it will throw 60,000 to 90,000 men into unemployment. Gov. Van Wagoner cannot see why large numbers of people have to be told that they cannot work and must go on relief, when a demand exists for the fruits of their labor. It is recognized that months must elapse before the armament business can absorb those soon to be thrown out of work in Detroit and other motor centers.

The obligation is certainly upon the government to show Gov. Van Wagoner the need for a cut in auto output, more drastic than the 20 per cent agreed upon three months ago. Nor is the auto industry the only one which faces severe lessening of production. Leon Henderson, commissar of prices, asserted in a speech at Atlantic City on Monday that the supply of copper, steel, aluminum, nickel, zinc, chromite, and manganese available for making civilian goods was going to be severely reduced. He asserted that "the good times are over" and that there will not be enough materials to make the goods which consumers want and have the money to buy. Another government spokesman recently said that one-third of all our industries faced shutdowns from material shortages.

The time has come to ask Mr. Henderson and his associates, "How do you get that way?" He hasn't any power conferred upon him by congress to do any of the things he has been doing. Henderson is a bluffer who has been getting away with murder. The Chrysler automobile company and the furniture manufacturers who recently defied him, showed how empty his pretensions are. The President himself doesn't dare to ask congress to confer legal authority upon the price commissar. The President has had a proposal for legislation on his desk for weeks without sending it to the capitol because of known opposition there. All this does not prevent Mr. Henderson from continuing to reduce the standard of living in the United States, and gloating over it.

Everybody wants the preparation of the national defense to proceed and is willing to make any necessary sacrifices. But the citizen has a right to demand that he shall not be called upon to suffer merely to gratify the vanity of a commissar—that his standard of living shall not be reduced needlessly.

The supply of some of the materials is short because Washington wishes it that way. There is a vast labor capacity which is not being called upon to produce. The hour provisions of the wages and hour act restricts the amount of work that can be done within a week without penalty to the employer. This law was enacted at a time when there was widespread unemployment and there was a belief that there would never be a demand for all the raw materials and finished products which could be produced working at previous hourly schedules. A repeal of the act and the amount of labor that would be released would increase supplies without question. Instead the administration prefers to keep output down and tell the civilian there isn't enough for him.

Supplies in some cases could be increased by permitting prices to rise a little. The administration says there is a shortage of copper, but it insists upon fixing the price at 12 cents a pound. We are getting all the copper we can get at this price. There is plenty of copper ore, but no more that can be mined at the Henderson price. There is more copper at 13 and still more at 14. Instead of letting the price advance to a point at which the needed supplies would be forthcoming, the administration prefers to hold down the supply and make the civilians suffer.

And all that talk about the desperate aluminum shortage! Civilians are asked to let the government make warplanes out of their old water pitchers and stewing pans. When the government itself placed orders for aluminum ware, after calling upon the people to give up their aluminum ware, the aluminum shortage story was shown to be considerable of a fake. That the government was not anxious to increase aluminum output quickly was shown the other day when an agreement was reached to develop a water power site to increase the short supply of power when power could be had in a fraction of the time by building a steam plant.

The time has come for consumers and producers to call upon the government to prove the existence of shortages of so-called strategic materials. It is extremely doubtful that any need has arisen for the action taken to cut down the supply of consumer goods. It is certain that everything possible is not being done to expand the supplies of the materials which have been placed under priorities or made subject to price restrictions. Washington has its own reasons for creating alarm by price fixing and supply regulations. There isn't much doubt what the reasons are.

Editorial of the Day

"NONE OF THE PUBLIC'S BUSINESS."

[From the Miles City (Mont.) Daily Star.]

Six army flyers who escaped from unexplained plane crashes while far off their cross-country flight course came under an "army silence rule" Wednesday at Fresno, Cal.

These army flyers were not allowed to discuss their adventures. Lieut. Col. S. C. Frierson, executive officer of the Fresno air base said no official explanation of the disaster to the three costly planes would be made public.

"This is a military matter and none of the public's business," asserted the air base officer.

The contagion of silence, extending from top flight heights in Washington, D. C., has now reached the lower levels where there is more of the brazen exercise of declaring that the much abused army rule of silence stands above the public's interest.

We do not seem to be able to recall that we know this Fresno air base officer who presumes to be the "authority" over the public, whose attitude is one of the "public be damned," and whose arbitrary announcement relegates the people to the blissful regions of ignorance.

It is the public's business when the property of the people is destroyed. The people paid the money which made the building of the planes possible. The people have the inherent right to ask of their servants that they give an accounting of their stewardship. Whenever a public official or even a self-sufficient, self-assuming sanctimonious person wearing a uniform sets himself up and over the public, isn't it about time to state emphatically and with equal vehemence that the public has an interest in things provided by their money?

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

GOOD-BY, LITTLE PRINCESS.

Since the Princess theater is about to join the parking lot movement, a few reminiscent moans are in order. Perhaps the wreckers will find, among its débris, a metal plate bearing our name, which marked our favorite aisle seat. This was a bit of swank on the part of the management when trying to persuade drama critics that its subscription plays were as good as the Theater Guild's. . . . Instructions to finder: If German silver, place in the historical society. If aluminum, send to Fiorello La Guardia.

* * *

The Princess was built by Mort Singer and Herman Fehr, a Milwaukee capitalist who was his backer, out of the profits from "The Umpire," "The Time, the Place, and the Girl," and other La Salle theater musical shows. The site was supposed to be off the theatrical beat, and rival managers cheerfully pointed out that it was next door to a pawnshop and within a stone's throw of Hinky Dink's saloon.

* * *

The opening was a succès fou, as they do not say along Clark street. John Barrymore's slapdash antics, Sallie Fisher's singing, and Alice Dovey's prettiness kept "A Stubborn Cinderella" there for almost a year. Then the show was sent to New York, where it died in two weeks.

* * *

Its successor, "The Prince of Tonight," was another triumph, and the star, Henry Woodruff, became as popular as any glamor boy of today's movies, especially when he caroled, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now." . . . The songs from these two shows are still alive, and if you want to hear them sung by a survivor of the casts, go to the Golden Ox and mention the matter to Jack, the pianist.

* * *

We attended the try-out of "The Princess of Tonight" in Milwaukee, and George Marion, the stage director, wanted to know if we had any suggestions. "The plot," we told him, "deals with the blooming of a century plant, but you haven't got anything on your stage that looks like such a plant."

Stage directors, however, are never wrong, so he answered:

"Why, a century plant is a little bit of a thing. Nobody would notice it if I put one on the stage."

A century plant in bloom will send up a stalk anywhere from 12 to 42 feet in height!

THE DREADFUL GAME.

I watched them once—wee tousle-headed boys,
Fighting their battles on the nursery floor
With armies of lead soldiers; harmless toys—
Their danger just a game and nothing more.

And next I saw them—Boy Scouts on parade,
Pretending they were marching off to war,
Facing imagined perils, unafraid.
Again it was a game—and nothing more.

And then they stood before me on the stair
In uniform. I hid my tears with shame;
But in my heart I breathed a silent prayer:
"Dear God, please make this also just a game."

A Pretty Russian Fairy Tale.

Somewhere along the soviet tundra two men were trudging slowly; one was a White Russian and the other a Red. Because both of them were very hungry they could think of nothing to talk about save food.

The White Russian asked his fellow sufferer what, more than anything else, would he want at that particular moment. The other reflected for a minute or two and then said: "Meat, nothing but meat to eat—pork, beef, lamb, chicken, roasted and fried meats and in stews." He stopped short, looked at his companion with compassion, and asked: "And you? What would you hope for?"

"I," replied the White Russian, "I would want the same as you, except on a silver platter."

Looking Out the Car Window.

When the North Western's "400" train to Milwaukee streaked past Rosehill cemetery I caught a glimpse of the top of the shaft of Vermont marble that marks the grave of Wilbur Fisk Storey, the irascible, iconoclastic editor and owner of the old Chicago Times. Upon the shaft is carved, I happen to know, a facsimile of his bold signature. There he sleeps between his second wife, Harriet [Bonnie] Dodge Storey, and his third wife and relict, Eureka Bissell Storey.

BUCKINGHAM FOUNTAIN.

Perhaps I only dreamed we found a lane,
Dark and deserted, in the city's heart,
Whose hedges formed the wall of our domain
And yet the fountain challenging the sky
Burns far too bright within my mind for dreams,
And I remember still your half-vexed sigh
When I refused to view its gaudy streams.
I saw it, too, tho how you did not guess;
Soft mirrored in your eyes I watched each change
Of light and color bring new loveliness
Until I knew, and held it no more strange
That life had marked for me its sweetest prize—
To drink of beauty thru another's eyes.

"With the arrival of each railway train from the east long files of immigrants from Norway and northern Germany came pouring up Dearborn street, gazing curiously and hopefully at their new Land of Promise. One of the many railroad lines had brought 2,500 within two weeks. There were gray-haired men and young children. All were attired neatly, especially the women, with snow-white kerchiefs about their heads."

REST THE STOMACH IN INDIGESTION.

ANY one who has experienced a stomach-ache knows the meaning of gastritis. Pain may arise because the "bread basket" is trying to get rid of an unwanted meal. The old-fashioned green apple colic, for which mother decorated us with heated plates or hot water bottles, is an episode of this sort. But any type of distress which recurs periodically signifies, as a rule, that there is some irritation of the mucous lining—enough to give rise to inflammation.

We can now visualize just what is happening with an instrument, called the "gastroscope." This device will permit a skilled operator to view the inner walls. Instead of the normally bright pink surface, if we hunt carefully enough, we will detect bright red, congested spots.

Of course, there are all grades of trouble in this region, and signs may appear in relatively small areas, with some swelling and thickening of the wrinkled folds. If an ulcer has not formed, most cases will respond promptly to the application of heat, or to a slight modification of diet, wherein certain edibles are omitted. Condiments particularly may need to be banished, including pepper, mustard, horseradish, and highly spiced sauces.

Delayed healing will be encountered only if some of the velvetlike mucosa [covering] has been destroyed. Fortunately, there is rarely absolute atrophy and, with reasonable attention to what we eat—possibly with slight starvation for a week or two—much of this material may regenerate or reform.

What to do, therefore, depends upon what we find. It is just common sense to realize that irritation must be relieved. If there is any dish that disagrees, it should be banned. If a basic simple diet is called for, we can fall back upon a mixture of milk and eggs with perfect certainty that it will suffice for several days. Generous flushings with water that is not too hot will empty the gastric pouch of huge quantities of gluelike mucus—especially if a bit of baking soda is added to each glass.

One reason why we must not permit the lining to waste away is because many of those with pernicious anemia exhibit exactly that condition. In other words, an important machine shop in the manufacture of blood is not working. This explains why the stomach of swine is used as a medicine. It supplies an element that the patient lacks.

But the whole matter must be viewed with good judgment. Infrequent attacks of indigestion should not occasion alarm. As a rule, they mean that too much food has been swallowed or that the meal cannot be handled comfortably because of fatigue or excitement. There is nothing that interferes quite so completely with the normal behavior of this part of the alimentary tract as undue weariness.

Then, we must not forget that a balanced régime is the saving grace in most of our difficulties with assimilation. It is when we attempt to force the apparatus to perform miracles that it rebels. With a little thought we can adjust our protein, fat, and starchy intake so that the least possible strain will be placed upon the structures which are responsible for the solution of our nutriment.

Finally, alcohol and tobacco exert side effects—if not direct ones—and may produce symptoms. The more dilute the alcohol the better. This means that, on an empty stomach, the damage is substantially more severe. Excessive smoking, too, influences the nervous machinery and many a complaint of "heartburn" will disappear with a reduction in the daily consumption of cigarets.

We must remind ourselves constantly that for the next two months our menus should be substantially lighter. We require less heat, hence less fuel.

WHAT HUME REVEALED.

Wequetonsing, Mich., July 16.—Mrs. Bertha L. Cost in a recent letter expresses great pride in her English descent, which I also feel. They are a preeminent people and we are fortunate to be their heirs in our language, laws, and free institutions.

I am just now reading David Hume's 10 volume "History of England," and if Mrs. Cost will get it from the library she may be surprised, in the first volume, to learn that the English are almost pure Germans—Saxons, Jutes, and Angles, with a little mixture of Danes—and that their great free institutions came from the Germans. It is shocking but true.

STERLING E. EDMUNDS.

MILES OF UNUSED RAILS.

Hammond, Ind., July 16.—In yesterday's issue of the Hammond Times was some comment, "Thoughts While Driving," which said:

"There are 26 miles of abandoned street car tracks in North township—a total of 3,660 tons of iron rails worth $75,945 from which 260 14 ton army tanks could be made for the United States."

Seems reasonable, while collecting tin cans and aluminum receptacles, to add some of these miles of rails. READER.

NEW DEAL LOGIC?

Chicago, July 15.—Leon Henderson places a ceiling on cottonseed oil—and states sees no necessity to put a ceiling on meat prices. The average family uses weekly about 10 cents' worth of cottonseed oil products and at today's high prices about $5 worth of meat. What is the process of reasoning in Mr. Henderson's mind? AN OBSERVER.

FINDS EDITORIAL ACCURATE.

Chicago, July 14.—From a scientist's point of view your editorial "Speaking of Horrors," appearing in this morning's TRIBUNE, is a plain and accurate statement of the facts in the perennial controversy on vivisection. It deserves the applause and commendation of every serious minded person who is aware of the untoward effect of any curb on the humane use of experimental animals for the alleviation of human ills.

OLAF BERGEIM,
Associate Professor of Physiological Chemistry, University of Illinois.

Chicago, July 15.—Your editorial on vivisection sounds very convincing until one reads what some eminent surgeons and physicians think of the practice.

If we must have it, let it at least be regulated as it is in England and Germany. I am for starting a movement to that effect. EDNA M. FISHER.

TRAINED NURSES' PAY.

Chicago, July 15.—Prices of food, rent, clothing, and other necessities are skyrocketing, wages are being raised everywhere in some proportion, yet a registered trained nurse's wages remain the same.

We undergo a trying three year period of training for which we are compelled to finance ourselves at an approximate cost of $500. We buy our own instruments such as hypodermic needles, thermometers, etc., pay for laundered uniforms, state license, nurses' registry, etc., etc. Our pay for eight hour duty is $5; 12 hour duty, $7; 20 hour duty, $10. With carfare and expenses deducted, we earn less than 50 cents an hour.

Why, may I ask, in fairness to the entire nursing profession, doesn't some one champion our cause for a decent living wage? REGISTERED NURSE.

FAME LIVES IN HEARTS.

Chicago, July 15.—All honor to Polish patriots and artists. Their fame will never die.

But why do we have to require that the name of some Chicago street be changed to perpetuate a great name that should live in the hearts of all music lovers rather than on street corner lamp posts? Mr. Smatlock surely can't be serious in his suggestion that Augusta boulevard be changed to Paderewski. I don't even know how to spell it. I wonder how many plain, hayseed Americans do know how to spell it? CRAWFORD AVENUE.

A SCOT ON STREET NAMES.

Chicago, July 14.—I see by my TRIBUNE today that Mr. Smatlock wants to change the name of Augusta boulevard to Paderewski boulevard. Fair enough, and being a Scot myself, I would request that we call State street Harry Lauder street, or let's call Sheridan road Scots Wha' Hae street. Failing all that, I will be satisfied to have the name of Pulaski road changed to Crawford avenue.

SAYS IT MUST NOT HAPPEN.

Fort Bliss, Tex., July 15.—Here is something that has shaken me to the very core:

Is it possible that the United States is about to break its solemn promise to release, at the end of a year, all those who gave their services to the government?

It hardly seems possible that this can be. We here in the service of the 202d A.-A. came away from our jobs and our schools last September to fulfill our part of that agreement. The government's promise is apparently to be broken. We are to give another of our best years while those for whom the army has no provisions will stay home and say "Hurray!" when we parade for them.

It must not happen. For then our government would show itself to the world as unworthy of trust in any form.

THE BRITISH INVASION.

Chicago, July 15.—Any one with intelligence can see that the Roosevelt foreign policy is being directed from London, our occupation of Iceland being the latest evidence. Our country is deluged with Britishers, the real and royal fifth columnists. Col. Wedgwood should be escorted to the gangplank along with hundreds of other Britons who are infesting our shores. It is positively nauseating to see otherwise intelligent American citizens falling prostrate before this British bunk.

LEASE RENEWAL.

Chicago, July 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In May, 1940, I rented an apartment signing lease for one year to pay $37.50 per month. In April, 1941, I renewed the lease for another year at the same rental and paid one month rent for May 1. Since then the building was sold.

2. A few days ago I was informed by the new owner that from June 1 on the rent will be $42.50, and when I told him that my lease was signed by the seller on April 1 to pay $37.50 he told me that [3] he was not informed by the seller that he had given me a lease and it would not make any difference [4] as he is not bound by my lease.

5. He also gave me a notice to vacate the apartment by June 1.

6. Must I pay the advance? M. S.

SEEK ARMS WORK TO SAVE SMALL ILLINOIS PLANTS

Many Lacking Contracts Face Shutdown.

With many Illinois manufacturing plants facing complete shutdown because they cannot get raw materials, Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, announced yesterday that renewed efforts would be made to get government authorities to spread arms work among small and medium sized companies.

Martin P. Durkin.

Durkin said that the committee for the coördination of labor supply and arms training activities in Illinois, of which he is chairman, had received confidential reports that 24 manufacturing plants in the state will have to suspend operations within 90 days if they do not get government contracts.

Seeks Help in Washington.

"When our survey of the industries in Illinois is complete," Durkin said, "I plan to go to Washington and ask the Office of Production Management to award contracts to the concerns which, without them, would have to close."

The critical situation of small business under the rearmament program was emphasized in another report made yesterday. The Employers Association of Chicago said that employment among medium and large companies is rising faster than among the smaller companies. The latter, however, are experiencing a much greater labor turnover, indicating they are losing their workers to larger competitors.

Small Plants Squeezed.

"Our findings reinforce the reports now coming from the National Small Business Men's association," Gordon L. Hostetter, director of the association, said. "The small manufacturer is squeezed on the one hand by inability to get primary arms contracts, and on the other by material priorities restrictions."

The employers' association had sent questionnaires to 209 companies with a total of 50,761 factory employés on May 1. The companies employing 100 or more workers reported an average gain of 8.1 per cent in employment during the month of May. Companies employing less than 100 had an increase of only 1.7 per cent. The labor turnover for the month among the larger employés was 6 per cent, contrasted with 7.8 per cent for the smaller concerns. The information that 24 Illinois factories face shutowns in 90 days was obtained by representatives of the state department of labor who interviewed companies affected by the priorities, Durkin said.

Because the information was received in confidence the identity of the companies could not be disclosed, Durkin said. The firms, he said, manufacture road machinery, oil burners and gas stoves, heating apparatus, overalls, pianos, live stock equipment, kitchen utensils, electrical units for refrigerators, telephone equipment, clock and watch parts, railway cars, aluminum alloys and castings, stampings, metal plating, and lighting fixtures.

3 ARRESTS SOLVE $3,000 SERIES OF CHICAGO THEFTS

With the arrest yesterday of Jerry Braun, 25 years old, 2631 Potomac avenue, on a charge of receiving stolen property, Sergt. Timothy O'Connell of the detective bureau said a recent series of burglaries in which two ex-convicts netted $3,000 had been cleared up. One of the ex-convicts, Emil Giudice, 24, was seized Wednesday at Division street and Sacramento avenue. The other, Vito Nicaso, also 24, was arrested early this month and sent to Gary, Ind., to face trial for five armed robberies.

Sergt. O'Connell said Giudice admitted the burglaries. He and Nicaso were released from the Indiana state reformatory at Pendleton April 9 after serving three years each for a jewelry burglary in South Bend.

Giudice said Nicaso, while working as a clerk in the warden's office, had destroyed a warrant from Gary asking that both men be returned to Gary when released to stand trial for the robberies. He named Braun as the man to whom they sold loot they seized in a dozen Chicago burglaries committed since their release.

BANK EMBEZZLER TAKEN HOME TO FACE THE MUSIC

William D. Sahm, who stole $307,000 in eight years from the Lancaster, Pa., bank where he worked as head bookkeeper, left Chicago yesterday in custody of his home town police to face prosecution.

Sahm, 32 years old, was arrested in his hotel room at 536 Rush street Wednesday. He admitted stealing the money and said he spent $250,000 of it on horse bets. Sahm is married and the father of a 4 year old son. He had been employed by the Northern Bank and Trust company of Lancaster. He fled recently when federal examiners appeared at the bank.

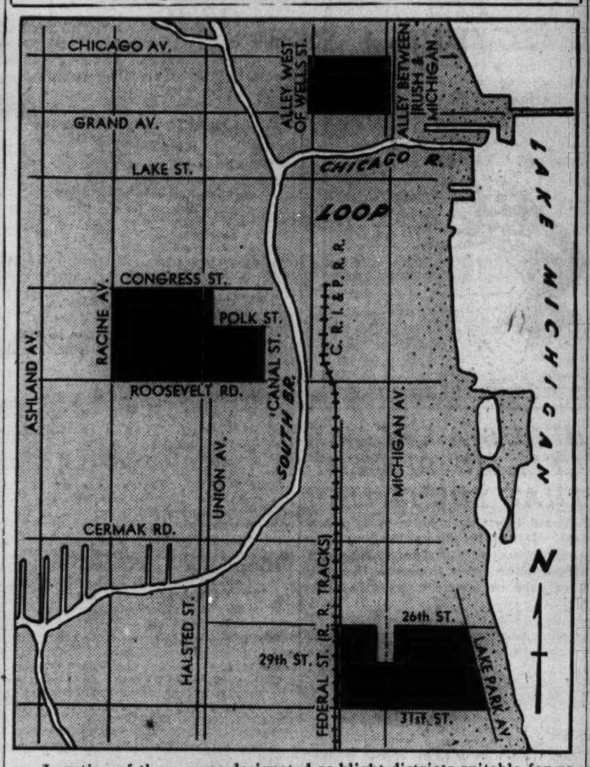
Designated as Blight Areas



Location of three areas designated as blight districts suitable for redevelopment by private capital, as described in report to Chicago plan commission.

3 CHICAGO AREAS ARE DESIGNATED AS BLIGHT SPOTS

Are Called Suitable for Private Rebuilding.

Three areas, all near the downtown district, were designated by T. T. McCrosky yesterday as blight districts suitable for redevelopment by a private corporation. Mr. McCrosky, executive director of the Chicago Plan commission, explained the areas at a meeting of the commission. He said his purpose in so naming the districts was to give private capital an idea of where neighborhood redevelopment most effectively might be started.

Districts Outlined.

Following are the boundaries of the three districts:

Condemnation Now Permitted.

Last week Gov. Green signed the neighborhood redevelopment corporation act which permits private corporations to condemn property for slum clearance. The condemnation power can be used only after the corporation has obtained 60 per cent of its building site and has received approval for its project from a municipal redevelopment commission.

"All three of the districts I have designated," McCrosky said yesterday, "would be suitable for apartment houses. The one on the north side should be for the benefit of middle salaried white collar workers, with rents $16 to $17 a room. The worker could walk to the loop from his home.

"The west side district which also would permit the worker to walk to the loop, would provide for the start of a general west side improvement."

McCrosky said the commission staff is developing plans for the ultimate connection of such districts with a superhighway to relieve loop traffic.

Loan Bank Messenger Held on Theft Charge

Terry Felowitz, 19 years old, of 1446 Fullerton avenue, was ordered held to the grand jury yesterday in bond of $5,000 on a charge of grand larceny yesterday. Police told Judge Lambert K. Hayes in Boys' court that Felowitz, a loan bank messenger, disappeared June 2 with $258 in cash, seven diamond rings valued at $2,572, and $225 in checks belonging to his employer. He was arrested July 3 in Tucson, Ariz.

DENIES SHIP CONCERN GAVE CORCORAN JOB TO GET U. S. ORDERS

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—A Todd shipyard corporation official termed untrue today what Chairman Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.] of the senate defense investigating committee told him were Washington reports that the corporation had employed Thomas Corcoran, former administration adviser, in order to get government contracts.

The shipyard official was James E. Barnes, Washington representative of the Todd corporation, who had testified that his company had received government and British contracts for 306 ships at an estimated construction cost of $688,337,000, altho "not a dollar of this business was ever solicited by us."

"It is rumored in Washington," Truman told him, "that you employed Tommy Corcoran in order to get these big contracts."

"It's not true," Barnes replied. "He was employed, if he was employed at all, by Mr. Kaiser in the magnesium business." Barnes later told reporters that he referred to Henry Kaiser, an official of six companies, which is in partnership with Todd corporation. Kaiser, Barnes said, had many other business interests.

PAROLEE KILLER BEING RETURNED TO CRIME SCENE

Richard Martin Wesolik, 16 years old, parolee killer from the Illinois Training School for Boys, near St. Charles, will be returned today to Woodstock, where on Monday he beat to death Mrs. Margaret Jung, 37, wife of a farmer to whom he was paroled last April.

The slayer was seized Wednesday night in Belleville with the coöperation of a brother, to whose home he had fled. Sheriff Lester Edinger of McHenry county and State's Attorney William M. Carroll brought Wesolik as far as Springfield last night on his return to the scene of the crime. In Belleville Wesolik signed a confession. He admitted striking Mrs. Jung 15 times with a wrench after she and her husband, Joseph, reprimanded him for staying out late.

Services for Mrs. Jung were held yesterday in St. Mary's Catholic church in Woodstock. In the funeral sermon Father Joseph M. Egan termed her "the victim of a system that does not recognize proper treatment of dangerous individuals."

TWO GRAB WATCH AND FLEE.

When Frank A. Leber showed a wrist watch, set with diamonds and rubies and valued at $211, to two men in his jewelry store at 3817 26th street yesterday, the men grabbed the watch and fled, Leber told police.

"A DEBT IS PAID"

SYNOPSIS.

Kathleen Murray, New York secretary, inherits a substantial life income and a home on Lake Willow, in California, from her grandmother. She resigns her job, sublets her apartment, and goes to California to live. She meets Hugo Lang, whose play is being put on by the summer theater there. Carol Keyes is backing the production and she insists that she and her current infatuation, Maurice Reed, play the leading rôles in spite of their mediocre ability. At her own expense, Kathleen agrees to bring a talented 16 year old boy, Toby Allerton from New York to improve the cast. Kathleen finds herself falling in love with Hugo.

INSTALMENT V.

MURDER PLAY.

Hugo slowed down as they neared the entrance of the theater. "There's something I must tell you," Kathleen, before we go in. I got a message this afternoon that Wilkie Stokes is coming. He'll hang around and I'll have to introduce you after the show. Thing is, don't show you notice anything particular.

"He's a little mad, but harmless. But he sometimes says startling things. He's a murder fan. This is the tenth time he's come to see this play. He has the most complete collection of murder, horror and mystery novels you ever saw up in the library at his house. Also stacks of horror pulps in his attic."

"He sounds a bit unpleasant."

"O, no. He's the most genial fellow. His other hobby is giving sanctuary to stray dogs and birds with broken wings and starving cats. He has quite a menagerie. He'll leave his dough to build a marble shelter with platinum bars for them and leave his relatives starving. Wish he'd leave it to the theater. Even a tenth of it. We could do something."

"Is he old then?"

"No. Middlish. Forty-five or so. But unhealthy. Takes drugs I think. Shouldn't think he'll live much longer by the look of him."

"Really, Mr. Lang, you are cynical."

"No. Practical. Couldn't you be one of the gang and call me Hugo?" Kathleen was astounded by her tingling wave of happiness.

"All right. You can go on calling me Kathleen."

"I'll call you Kitty. You remind me of a little cat I had. A Siamese with the soul of a fury. But here eyes! Like two liquid drops of heaven on a June morning."

He turned into the entrance to the car park. "Here we are. I'll get a reserved seat for you and leave you. Then you sit tight after the show and I'll come and get you and introduce you to the company."

"Hope you'll like the play," he said with a faint diffidence which again gave the impression that deep within he was a little unsure of himself. "I shall expect you to be honest with me."

"I'll be honest. But, after all, I'm no judge. My opinion isn't worth anything."

"Yoohoo—Hugo," called a girl's imperious voice.

He bent over Kathleen for a fleeting moment. "It is to me. So long, Kitty."

Kathleen watched the auditorium fill under the two arc lights on wires slung between the trees. She knew a few of the faces by sight. She had stayed at Willow Lake when her grandmother was alive, but only for two weeks at a time. Lawyers' stenographers have short vacations. And she had spent them basking in the sun, hiking up the mountain side and swimming in the lake, not getting to know the year round residents. Now they were the people among whom she was making her permanent home and she regarded them with more interest. Many, however, were vacationists. She could tell which was which, she thought, by the smartness of the vacationers' clothes.

Very soon the seats were all full and there were groups of young people standing. The arc lights went out and the curtain went up. The scene was a dimly lit backdrop of trees and foliage. Carol Keyes and Maurice Reed sat in a parked car, smoking side by side, the light from a road lamp illumining their faces.

"To put it bluntly," ran the lines of the leading lady, "you're suggesting that I—that we—poison my husband."

"For God's sake, don't talk so loud, Angie."

"Well, aren't you?"

"Now listen, Baby. Love is fine, but life is hell without money. You don't know it, but I do. And what does he do with it? And what use is he?"

"You've got me there. God knows. But it's the idea of the thing. Can people get away with it?"

"Sure. Only bunglers are caught, not people like us. Why, it's admitted, for one that's solved, 99 are not. And there's all those others not even known as murder."

"You think that? You think that ordinary people——"

"I know it. You just have to know how. Nothing stupid or obvious. But subtle. Now listen, Baby——"

The audience was held from the first moment, enthralled with suspense, spellbound by a sordid conspiracy to murder. Kathleen was drawn into the spell of the play against her will. She didn't wish to admit even to herself that there was anything engrossing in the plot of two selfish lovers to kill the cheated man so that they could be free and happy on his money. The husband was middle aged and unpleasant. The lovers were young and, in makeup and stage lighting, beautiful. Surprised, she caught herself on their side in one awful terrifying predicament when they were almost caught red-handed by an unexpected visitor to the house. The husband's selfishness and tyranny was such a provocation that it almost became justification.

The surprise came in the second act, when the murder in the first act was capped by the finding of the lover's body. The solution of this was again a surprise. A confession tricked from the wife by a clever detective. She said she had killed her lover because she could not live with a man who knew she was capable of assisting in a murder.

Knowing the inside story of the changes in the play, Kathleen could see where the compromises weakened it, but the audience liked it. They filed out at the end chattering with that enthusiasm and laughter which indicates an evening's satisfaction.

"Well?" inquired Hugo when he joined Kathleen.

"It kept me on the edge of my seat. I'm kind of ashamed of it. Why should civilized people take such an interest in murder?"

"Men have always thrilled to the excitement of a hunt. And what hunt is so exciting as a man hunt?"

Kathleen shivered as she walked beside him from the auditorium to the garden drive under the lacy pepper trees.

"But it's cruel to be that way."

"All human beings are sadistic—more or less. Didn't you know that?"

"Well, I do know I caught myself half hoping they would get away with the murder of that unpleasant husband. I suppose I shouldn't admit this."

"You're swell to be so honest. What did you think of the nitwit housekeeper? I think that's our best performance."

"It must be if she's nothing like it."

"Why Hugo, tell me about her."

"Too much to tell. I will later."

They went up three steps, crossed the wide porch and entered the large brightly lit lounge that took up the entire front of the house.

A staircase ascended from the center and branched off on both sides dividing the lounge into two sections. The left section was almost empty. A girl with a drink in one hand and a cigaret in the other sat on a window seat. A man bent over her, apparently urging her to join the fun in the right section where all the noise was going on.

Here a minor member of the cast was expertly mixing drinks at a small bar. Jeanie Payson, now in slacks and pull-over, but still in makeup, was carrying the drinks to the groups sitting at the little tables.

Jeanie had played the personal maid of the murderess in the play, a short but subtle and important part.

"Stokes has spotted us, Kitty. Now remember what I said."

A tall man with a thin big nosed face and cold light eyes detached himself from a group at the bar and approached them. Hugo made the introductions. They sat down at an empty table.

HOW TO SERVE SUMMER FRUIT—WITH PANCAKES!

Big fruit salad plates aren't the only means of serving fruit as a summer main dish. Serve it as filling or sauce over a huge rolled pancake. These big de luxe pancakes may be served without fruit, if you like. A dash of cinnamon or other spice in the batter is good when they are served with peaches or applesauce.

PANCAKES DE LUXE.

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
2½ cups milk
¼ cup melted shortening
Sugar, butter and 1 lemon

Sift flour, baking power and salt together, Beat eggs slightly, add milk and shortening, and add to flour mixture. Mix to a smooth batter. Pour half a cupful of batter at a time on lightly greased griddle, tipping it so that batter runs out to edges. Bake over moderate heat until underside of pancake is evenly browned, and top side is cooked. Do not turn. Brush lightly with melted butter, sprinkle with sugar, and roll like jelly-roll. Sprinkle with more sugar and lemon juice. Set under hot broiler for ½ minute. Serve with sirup, honey, or fruit sauce.

CHILD BITTEN BY MOUSE.

Patricia Snorek, 3 years old, 2938 Normal avenue, saw a cat playing with a mouse near her home last night. She thought the mouse was a kitten and attempted to pick it up. The mouse nipped the first finger of her left hand. Patricia was taken to county hospital.

HERE'S A CREAMY GELATIN DESSERT THAT YOU'LL LIKE

You'll like this creamy gelatin dessert. It can be made ahead of time and pulled out of the refrigerator when you're ready to serve. Use left-over cake or cookie crumbs in making it.

CHOCOLATE CRUMB WHIP.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
½ cup granulated sugar
1 square unsweetened chocolate
1½ cups milk, scalded
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon almond extract
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup cake or cookie crumbs

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add chocolate and sugar to milk, and stir until chocolate is melted. Whip to blend. Add salt and gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool until slightly thickened and fold in flavorings, whipped cream, and crumbs. Pour into mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until firm. Serve plain or with cream.

FRUITY TOPPING BAKED IN PAN WITH COOKIES

No rolling pin or cookie cutter is needed to make these crispy squares and the fruit topping is baked right in the pan with the cookie dough.

COCONUT PINEAPPLE SQUARES.

1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs, well beaten
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon melted butter
2 cups shredded coconut

Cream butter and 1 tablespoon sugar. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Add to creamed mixture and mix until crumbly. Add half the eggs and mix thoroly. Spread in 8-inch square pan and cover with pineapple. Mix 1 cup sugar, melted butter and coconut, add remaining eggs and blend well. Spread over top of pineapple and bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 30 to 35 minutes. Cut in squares.

HERE'S A RECIPE FOR ALL KINDS OF ICE CREAM

You can make all kinds of ice creams—strawberry, fresh peach, pecan, toffee, and the like—from this basic recipe. It's a recipe geared to refrigerator freezing, and you won't need a special freezer to make it.

ICE CREAM.

[Foundation recipe for refrigerator.]

2 cups milk
¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
¾ teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon gelatin
1 cup cream, whipped
1 teaspoon vanilla
¼ cup cold water

Scald milk in double boiler. Mix sugar, flour, and salt. Add to milk and cook 15 minutes; then add beaten egg yolks and cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add gelatin which has been softened in the cold water and mix thoroly. Chill well before adding vanilla and whipped cream, mixing thoroly. Turn into freezer tray and freeze 3 to 4 hours.

VARIATIONS.

STRAWBERRY—Add ¼ cup sugar to 1 cup crushed strawberries and let stand at room temperature for 1 hour. Add to ice cream mixture just before freezing.

FRESH PEACH—Add ¾ cup sugar to 1½ cups sieved peaches, mixing well. Add to ice cream mixture just before freezing. Almond extract [about ½ teaspoon] may be substituted for vanilla.

Use toffee that is not chocolate coated.

Simple Way to Cook Up Something in a Hurry

Here's a kitchen quickie that you can stir up on the slightest notice with pantry shelf ingredients. Make 2½ cups of medum white sauce [using ¼ cup flour, ¾ cup melted butter, ad 2½ cups milk]. Season with ¼ teaspoon curry powder, and salt and pepper to taste, add ¼ pound shredded dried beef and serve hot with boiled rice. This will serve from four to six persons.

Read How a Mining Engineer's Curiosity Led to the Discovery of This Great New Benefit to Your Family!
Here now is that utterly new and revolutionary kind of bread many scientists believe may influence profoundly the lives of millions. Because of its power to improve their physical and mental processes of life amazingly.
For this new bread brings the treasure-trove of life-sustaining elements, the rich hoard of vitamins and minerals with all the wealth of flavor Mother Nature amassed in each bursting grain of sun-ripened wheat. And NONE of its bad, bitter, indigestible, splintery "skin"!
Better Than Ordinary White Better Than "Whole Wheat"
Never before have you tasted bread like this. Good bread fresh as the sight of fields of wind-rippled, sun-splashed wheat. Even better than bread fresh-baked from wheat ground at the old mill on the creek.
And it's delicate and lacy and velvety of crumb as a blue-ribbon loaf at the State Fair. And—fresh as morning dew!
Never before could you get bread like this. The rich benefits of wheat in a bread people can eat. Because fit for people to eat! For never before possible to get rid of wheat's outer, bitter and indigestible, splintery "skin" without losing vitamins and minerals.
A Mining Engineer Solves The Problem
Then, in the "flotation" process, which separates the dross from the gold of the hills, Theodore Earle, mining engineer and inventive genius, at last found the clue toward separating the bad from the gold of the plains.
THIS MUCH SPLINTERY "SKIN"
In The Average (20 oz.) Loaf Of Ordinary Whole Wheat Bread
Next, university scientists set out to prove the new health values; milling and baking experts spent 6 months testing formulae; the Continental Baking Company spent $340,000 for new facilities to perfect Staff.
Better Health, Renewed Vitality
Millions of people in all walks of life, authorities on nutrition say, fail to get enough Vitamin B1 alone for best physical and mental health. But now, you who feel "jittery," easily fagged out due to deficiency in the life-sustaining elements Staff so bountifully provides, may again experience the happiness of vitality restored by a diet made adequate in this respect.
No Other Bread In The World Like Staff
For, of its Vitamin B Complex, Staff contains 4 times more natural Vitamin B1—all the natural Vitamin B Complex of wheat and twice the natural minerals of many ordinary white breads. The only bread made under the Earle patents, you can tell Staff is a natural wheat bread by its golden wheat color.

SHOPPERS FIND FOOD BARGAINS RARE THIS WEEK

Price Trend Is Higher on Fresh Produce.

BY MARY MEADE.

Don't expect too much when you go bargain searching this week-end. Even fresh fruits and vegetables, while still dominating the bargain picture, are a little less of a tempting buy than in the last few weeks.

While any upswing in fresh produce prices is only temporary, and so slight as to be called merely a "trend" on the wholesale market, the bargains are a little harder to find this week-end. Prices have been dropping rapidly in recent weeks due to increased homegrown supplies, and they have to hit bottom sometime.

In many cases the higher prices go hand in hand with curtailed supplies due to a lapse between plantings. Earlier crops apparently came in so fast and furiously that they were used up before new plantings were ready for harvesting.

In Between on Tomatoes.

Something like that happened in the case of tomatoes. Supplies from more southerly states are diminishing and the tomatoes on local vines haven't quite turned red yet. Tomato prices tend to be higher this week, tho they won't be high enough to take them out of your salad bowls.

Carrots, too, are rather scarce and higher this week. The homegrown carrot shippings are just getting nicely underway and we're still depending on California for part of our supplies. But carrots would have to cost you quite a lot more than they do now before they'd be ineligible for budget menus. Best quality green beans are also wearing a higher price tag.

Green corn, cauliflower, spinach, and cabbage are slightly higher this week-end. But the price rise here again is slight. Greens other than spinach are still low priced and iceberg lettuce is a little cheaper than it has been in the last week or two. Homegrown leaf lettuce is a bargain too good to miss.

Cucumber Price Down.

Cucumbers, cheaper this week-end, are a very attractive buy. They're not yet low enough for large quantity pickle making, but are certainly a likely candidate for summer salads.

You'll be stuffing green peppers with all sorts of economical meat combinations to ease your budget. The peppers are very reasonable. Homegrown dry onion supplies are increasing and the price is slipping. Celery is lower priced and a very excellent choice from a price standpoint.

Okra, a favorite soup ingredient in the south, is now coming to Chicago from southern Illinois and Tennessee and is a good buy. Summer squash, kohlrabi, bunch beets, and turnips are all good prospects for a spot in your budget menus.

Melons—They're Good Now.

Melons are the big news over at the fruit counter. All of them are cheaper in sympathy with the sharp decline in the price of cantaloupes. It's safe to say that the cantaloupe season is now in high gear. The Indiana crop is being gathered and that brings the melon harvest close to home.

The very best watermelons, which now come from Mississippi and Texas, haven't dropped in price along with the rest of the watermelon market. There is quite a wide range in the quality and prices of this particular melon. Honeydews are cheaper this week-end.

The raspberry season is ready to wind up and the trend is toward higher prices. Other berries which are marketed in smaller quantities and usually fluctuate less in price are no higher or cheaper than they were a week ago.

The early peaches are being cleaned up rapidly, and while the later crops are on the market, they haven't arrived in sufficient quantity to prevent a slight price rise. They'll be cheaper again shortly.

Oranges on Upgrade.

Oranges are a little higher, while grapefruit prices haven't changed. California now supplies the bulk of citrus fruits on the market. Lime and lemon prices, which seesaw with the weather, have been cheaper these cool days. Those deep green limes are a Florida product.

Apricots are coming to the end of their season and will cost you slightly more this week. New apples are rather low priced and a good buy. Cherries will soon be gone, perhaps you've guessed it already just by reading the price tag.

Beef pot roast and rib roasts are the topnotch meat bargains of the week. The tender rib roast looks like a particularly good bet to this reporter. Pork loin roast, round steak, and various sundry and economy cuts, are featured in one store and another, but the two beef roasts are the only widely featured meat cuts. Roasting and frying chickens are a good buy.

If you want to serve fish, stick to fresh water lake perch or salt water mackerel. They're much cheaper than most other fish on the market.

HERE'S RECIPE FOR A TASTY DISH OF ITALIAN SQUASH

The cucumberlike zucchini [or Italian squash] bakes beautifully. Try it this way. Wash and cut small zucchini in halves lengthwise; wrap each half with a bacon strip, spiral fashion, skewering edges with toothpicks. Place zucchini in a greased baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover; bake in hot oven [400 degrees] for 15 to 25 minutes, until bacon is crisp and squash is tender. Allow two halves per serving.

Georgia Clingstones Make Good Peach Cobbler

These Georgia clingstone peaches now on the market make wonderful cobblers. Line the sides of a buttered baking dish with your regular pie pastry. Then peel 1 quart of peaches and cut them into quarters or eighths, depending on size. Place peaches in baking dish and sprinkle with 1 cup of sugar and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice mixed with 1 cup water. Cut strips of sugar-sprinkled pastry about 2 inches wide and lay across top of peaches. Bake in a hot [450 degree oven] for 10 minutes; then reduce heat to 350 or moderate, and continue baking for 20 minutes.

Cranberry Shrub Excellent for Midafternoon Thirst

Good as an appetizer or cooling midafternoon thirst quencher, cranberry shrub is patterned after old time vinegar fruit drinks. To make it add ½ cup lemon juice, 1 cup orange juice and 1 pint of cranberry juice cocktail to 1 cup of the sirup from any sweet pickled or spiced fruit. Sweeten if necessary. This is enough for from 4 to 6 glasses.

Here's Easy Way to Make Nonfalling Corn Pudding

Try this for an easy, nonfalling corn pudding. Combine 1 No. 2 can of cream style corn with 2 slightly beaten eggs. Toss 1 cup rice flakes in 3 tablespoons melted butter and add with ½ teaspoon salt to corn mixture. Pour into a well greased baking dish and bake in a moderate [350 degrees] oven for 40 minutes. This amount will serve six.

AN EXPERT TELLS HOW TO CASH IN ON COOKING SKILL

Money Making Hints for Housewives.

Of course, you pride yourself on that special cake, bread or pie, that your guests rave about. But had you ever thought of turning the object of that pride into cash for your money-hounded club or charity? Apparently many women do.

In a report before the American Home Economics association held in the city recently, Home Economist Harriet M. Grace, Madison, Wis., told how homemakers' groups can make money by selling their home products. She described many successful ventures by other homemakers and students. Perhaps some of these will give you and your club an idea:

1. Making fancy sandwiches and taking orders for them from groups which have occasion to serve frequently.
2. Making potholders of gingham and selling them at reasonable prices.
3. Selling doughnuts.
4. Bake sales.

Cakes for Holiday Time.

5. Baking fruit cakes to sell at holiday time as Christmas gifts.
6. Giving a series of afternoon teas [at the homes of various members of the organization], at which donations are offered.
7. Giving a progressive meal, in which one home serves the appetizer, another the soup course, and so on thruout the meal. People having large homes will find this method most successful. A progressive dinner might be given anywhere with the use of card tables. The charge would cover the complete meal, of course.
8. By selling some seasonal fruit pie, such as cherry in the spring and pumpkin in the fall.

Some Decisions to Make.

There are many other possibilities and the peculiar talents of your group should be taken into consideration.

Mrs. Grace suggests that for a group to make money successfully it should first decide what the money is to be used for and how much is needed.

Definite terms should be agreed upon for the disbursement of the funds, warned Mrs. Grace, and all allowances for postage and advertising stated clearly. An understanding at the outset of the drive will often save trouble from misunderstandings later.

THIS COLORFUL PUNCH IS A HOT DAY'S DELIGHT

Rhubarb juice gives this cooling summer beverage its bright rosy color. To make the rhubarb juice, cut the rhubarb into small pieces and cook it with an equal quantity of water until the fruit is soft. Then strain it thru a double thickness of cheesecloth.

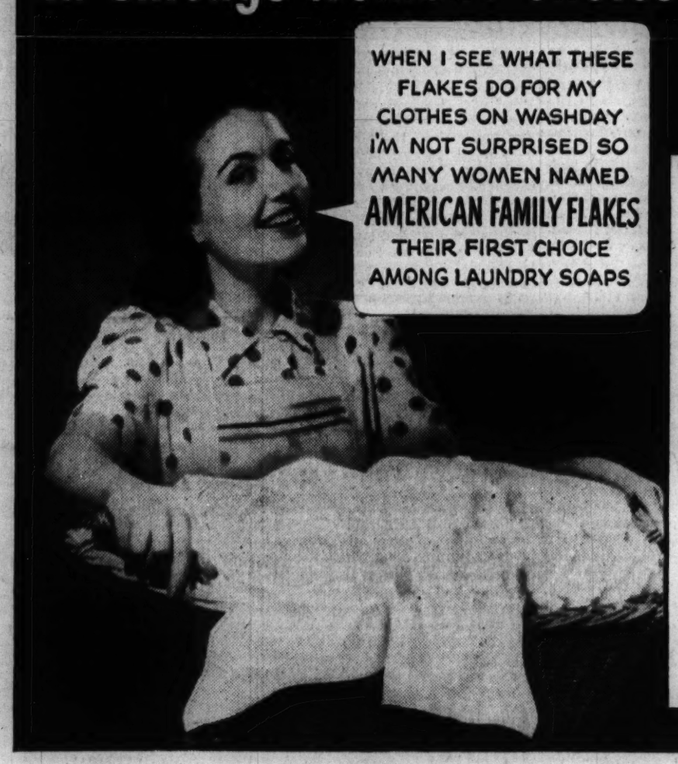
RHUBARB PUNCH.
[Serves 6.]

4 cups rhubarb juice
½ cup orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
2 cups ginger ale
Sugar or sugar sirup to taste.

Combine the fruit juices and ginger ale, sweeten the mixture to taste, and chill thoroly. Pour over ice cubes in tall glasses to serve.

EVEN THE MOST POPULAR GRANULATED SOAP DIDN'T TOUCH THEM!

FOR WASHING WHITE AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES WON 3 to 1 In Chicago Women's Choice



WHEN I SEE WHAT THESE FLAKES DO FOR MY CLOTHES ON WASHDAY I'M NOT SURPRISED SO MANY WOMEN NAMED AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES THEIR FIRST CHOICE AMONG LAUNDRY SOAPS

Won Over Every Brand of Chips, Granulated Soaps, Powders!

Here's how American Family Flakes won over competing soaps when hundreds of Chicago women, who do their laundry at home, were interviewed by a well-known independent research organization:

1ST FOR WASHING WHITE

1ST FOR WASHING SAFELY

1ST FOR WASHING MACHINES

American Family Flakes received more votes than the next 12 soaps combined when these women named their choice for best results in washing machines.

IF YOU'RE using one of the most popular granulated soaps, you'll probably be amazed at what other Chicago women recently said in a door-to-door survey.

For washing clothes white, American Family Flakes received more than three times as many votes as the biggest-selling granulated soap! And, of course, American Family beat the second most popular granulated soap by more than a 3 to 1 margin!

1st for Safety

Now—honestly—isn't that something worth thinking about? Especially when you consider that for washing safely American Family Flakes received more than twice as many votes as these two granulated soaps combined!

For best results in washing machines, again, American Family Flakes received more than twice as many votes as the two granulated soaps combined!

Now doesn't this make you wonder if maybe you're missing a good bet?

Shouldn't You Try Them?

When so many of your Chicago neighbors—women who do their own washing as you do—name American Family Flakes first, first, first on these important advantages, well . . .

Don't you think you owe it to yourself to give these flakes a trial in your own tub or machine next washday?

Why not do that . . . and see if you, too, don't rank American Family Flakes your No. 1 choice! More women use American Family Flakes than any other washday package soap sold in Chicago! Try them next washday . . . and we believe you'll understand why!

70% MORE SUDS—Yes, actually up to 70% more suds, ounce for ounce, than many cheap chips tested in our laboratories . . . Up to 25% more suds than many modern granulated soaps tested. Big soap savings for you!

FASTER SUDS—American Family Flakes make suds more than twice as fast as average of 10 of largest-selling "washday" soaps (flakes, granulated, chips) tested in our laboratories.

GEORGIA U. LOSES $75,000 GRANT AS ECHO OF OUSTERS

Association Decides to Probe Political Acts.

Atlanta, Ga., July 17 [Special].—Harmon Caldwell, president of the University of Georgia, revealed tonight that he had been notified that the university's application for a grant of $75,000 had been rejected by the General Education fund.

Caldwell's statement followed an announcement by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools that it will investigate the extent of political interference in colleges of Georgia.

Caldwell said the General Education fund gave no specific reason for rejecting the grant, but did state the action resulted from recent events in Georgia.

Five Educators Fired.

The "events," it is presumed here, referred to the recent upheaval engineered by Gov. Eugene Talmadge in which the revamped board of regents fired five educators in Georgia's higher education system. Gov. Talmadge charged the educators advocated racial co-education.

Among the five discharged are Dean Walter D. Cocking of the University of Georgia college of education and Marvin Pittman, president of Georgia Teachers' college.

Sets Standards in 11 States.

It was announced by Rufus C. Harris, president of Tulane university and chairman of the education association, which prescribes standards of faculty, curriculum, library, and laboratory facilities for 200 colleges and 1,200 secondary schools in 11 southern states.

"That ain't in Georgia; we accredit our own schools down here," was Gov. Talmadge's comment.

The governor also announced his intention to sever any connection of the Julius Rosenwald fund with the common schools of Georgia. He said he understood some individuals were receiving indirect benefits from the fund.

NEIGHBORS FIND INJURED RIDER ON FARM NEAR ELGIN

Carl James Noell, 39 years old, a member of the export department of the Quaker Oats company, and formerly the firm's European manager, was found unconscious early yesterday in a field on the Seth D. Sims farm, High Acres, five miles south of Elgin on Illinois highway 31. Noell and his family had been living on the farm this summer. Noell apparently was thrown from his horse, which returned to the farm stable riderless Wednesday night. Neighbors searched the countryside until he was found and taken to Geneva Community hospital, where physicians said he suffered a possible skull fracture.

BODY OF LAKE VICTIM FOUND BY BOAT CREW

A tugboat yesterday found the body of John Lochner, 21, years old, 2313 Addison street, in the lake off 68th street. He drowned last Friday when the boat in which he was riding with two companions capsized about a mile off Montrose avenue. Edwin Jolly, 20, of 5137 North Oakley avenue, swam to shore for help. The other boatsman was Wilbur Finkler, 20, of 1227 Wellington avenue, who clung to the vessel and finally was rescued. Lochner, according to Finkler, lost his grip.

S. SIDE PAGEANT REHEARSAL WILL BE HELD TODAY

The first rehearsal of south and southwest side boys and girls in the "Injun Summer" pageant which will be a feature of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S 12th annual Chicagoland Music Festival Saturday night, Aug. 16, in Soldiers' field, will be held at 10 a. m. today in the Ermie Schultz dancing studios, 6601 South Halsted street. The instructors, Miss Mayblossom Macdonald and Mrs. Schultz, will be in charge.

The pageant, after John T. McCutcheon's famous cartoon by the same name, will be presented by 1,000 Chicago children, accompanied by the festival orchestra under the baton of Henry Weber. Mr. McCutcheon will appear at the end of the pageant, riding into Soldiers' field and thru 200 Indian teepees. He will speak briefly to the audience from the stage at the north end of the field. Several hundred boys and girls attending Y. M. C. A. summer schools are taking part.

The north side rehearsals are being held on Wednesday mornings in the Aragon ballroom, 1100 Lawrence avenue, and the west side practices at Miss Macdonald's Ideal Dancing studio, 3907 Madison street, on Thursday morning, both at 10 o'clock.

Retired Chicago Architect Dies from Fall Injuries

George L. Rapp, retired Chicago architect, died yesterday at his Mineral lake estate near Mellen, Wis., of injuries suffered in a fall in his home recently. Rapp was a member of the architectural firm of C. W. and George L. Rapp, Inc., which designed the Chicago, Tivoli, and other theaters in Chicago and other cities.

CONVICT THROWN BY JUJITSU HOLD DIES OF INJURIES

George McKerney, 30 years old, a 200 pound colored convict from Chicago, died in the Stateville hospital at Joliet early yesterday from head injuries received last week when he was hurled into the air by a jujitsu hold employed by Charlie Jung, 36, a 120 pound Chinese convict, also from Chicago. According to prison authorities, McKerney, a former pugilist, had been heckling Jung for several months and attacked him in the laundry, where both were employed. Jung is being held in the penitentiary's detention ward.

Organ Grinder Is Wanted for Horse Show

BY JUDITH CASS.

MRS. LOUIS F. SWIFT is hunting for an organ grinder and his monkey. Not just any organ grinder and his monkey, but a particular organ grinder and a particular monkey that always used to attend her horse shows at Misery Farm in Lake Forest. Those shows were for children and were given for the riding pupils of the then Miss Libby Swift.

The one Mrs. Swift has planned for Sunday, July 27, is for adults as well as youngsters and there will be many children among the spectators, so Mrs. Swift is determined to find her pet music maker and his pet. She saw him last winter on Lake Shore drive but she has lost his name and address and does not know how to locate him now. This column is not usually used for personal advertisments but in this case we are departing from our custom enough to try to help enterprising Mrs. Swift. Here telephone number is Naperville 155.

The show is to be held at Galloping Hills, the Swift farm in Wheaton, and is open to the public at 50 cents a person. Parking space is $5. The events—there will be 18 classes—will start at 9:30 o'clock in the morning. Light luncheon will be obtainable on the grounds.

Ada Blanche Wrigley Making Debut Tonight.

Tonight brings the debut of Miss Ada Blanche Wrigley at a dinner-dance at Hillcroft, the Lake Geneva summer home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Wrigley.

In accordance with the desires of the hosts, who always do things simply and unostentatiously, the party will not be as elaborate as one might expect the debut of a Wrigley heiress to be, but it will be one of THE affairs of the summer from the standpoint of all the young people who are invited. They all have received from the thoughtful hosts maps showing the best route to Lake Geneva, and cards of admission to the grounds of Hillcroft, so there will be no gate crashers at this debut. One of the two orchestras will be the best known swing band in the country, which insures a good party as far as the youthful guests are concerned.

Tomorrow there will be a luncheon for popular, pretty "Blannie" Wrigley and the debutantes and their beaux at The House in the Woods, the summer home of Col. and Mrs. William M. Spencer. The gayety will continue tomorrow night at the Lake Geneva Country club, which is having a dinner-dance.

Homes Are Filled with Week-End Guests.

The Wrigley home and Green Gables, the spacious home of the bud's grandmother, Mrs. William Wrigley Jr., adjoining it, are filled with week-end guests. Miss Susan Kovusch, who roomed with Miss Wrigley at Dobbs Ferry, is there. Charles Larkin Jr. of New Haven, Conn., and Miss Mary and James Cleveland of New London, N. H., also have come for the party. Miss Sara Peace and Miss Gail Gartz also are having houses full of guests for tonight's party.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Wakeley and their subdebutanté daughter, Barbara, are entertaining at the country club dance tomorrow night for Miss Wrigley. More of the young people will be guests of the C. Wallace Johnsons and their daughter, Miss Angeline Johnson. The Robert B. Whitakers are others entertaining at the club tomorrow.

If the Lake Forest debutantes were not going to have such a good time tonight they might be consumed with envy at the doings planned in connection with the annual guest tournament at the Onwentsia club. The festivities will start with a dinner for the 32 Lake Foresters and their out of state guests tonight. The wives of those who are coming from away will dine as usual at numerous little "dove" parties. There will be a luncheon for the men tomorrow, also at the club, while the wives will amuse themselves at the races at Arlington, or at bridge or tennis parties.

Giving Dinner-Dance at Club Tomorrow Night.

There will be a dinner-dance at the club tomorrow night, and after the awarding of prizes Sunday noon there will be several luncheon parties, some of them at the club, some in various homes. The list of out of town guests includes many who have been here often before, and also a larger number of younger men than have come heretofore. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Connors will have four guests, one of whom, Homer Sweney of St. Paul, will be Mr. Connors' partner. The other three, who are being "loaned" to other Lake Foresters, are Croll Hunter, also of St. Paul, who will play with J. Sterling Davis; David R. Calhoun of Cleveland, who will be James A. Cook's partner, and Nelson Talbott of Dayton, whose partner is to be Robert A. Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Conners are giving a cocktail party tomorrow for their guests. Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Cummings and the Phelps Kelleys also are having cocktail parties tomorrow for their guests, the George H. Loves of Oakmont, Pa., and the Charles Garlands of Baltimore. Mr. Garland is a former president of Onwentsia. The Bryan Reids' luncheon on Sunday will be for their son-in-law, Russell Foster of Suffield, Mass., and Mrs. Foster,

Model in Farm Ridge Benefit

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Joan Hixon, the Robert Hixons' subdebutante daughter, modeled this pretty bathing outfit at a benefit for the Ridge Farm preventorium held in Lake Forest recently. Miss Hixon, who will not be making her debut for a year or two, will return to her studies at Miss Porter's school in Farmington this fall.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

The dominating factor in the fiercest bridge battles is time, or, to use the technical term, "tempo." The defenders may have perfectly good tricks in their hands, but may never be able to cash them because declarer "gets there first" with his own tricks. Often one side or the other can gain tempo by knocking out adverse stoppers, thus establishing its own next ranking cards. This cannot always be done, however, and then it is up to the player to discover some device that will swing the tempo, or timing, to his own advantage.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 heart	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's leap to four hearts was somewhat aggressive, but not really to be condemned. After North's two club response, South had grounds for hoping that he could hold his losses to the top hearts and one other trick.

West opened the spade queen, declarer winning and immediately playing the heart queen. East won, and considered his return lead. The opening lead marked declarer with the spade king as well as the ace. Since he had lacked the ace and king of hearts, and yet had jumped from two clubs to four hearts, it was highly probable that he had at least the ace of diamonds. East already had lost one of his heart stoppers. He now could remove declarer's stopper in spades or diamonds but, of course, not in both. To return a spade probably would establish a spade trick but, on the next play, East would lose his other heart stopper and at that point could do no more than remove declarer's probable diamond ace. What good would that do if the defenders never regained the lead in order to cash an established diamond trick?

Obviously, the tempo was against East and, since it could not be changed in his favor, he properly looked for some other line of defense. The solution stared him right in the face. He would "kill" the dummy and thus destroy the necessity for haste in knocking out declarer's side suit stoppers.

On winning with the heart king, East returned a club. Declarer won and made a valiant effort to get out the trumps so as to protect dummy's club suit. It was a hopeless task, however. East won with the heart ace and promptly returned his other club, his one hope being that declarer had started with only two clubs. Declarer attempted to discard on the third club, but East ruffed and after that declarer had no chance to salvage his losing spade and losing diamond.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

Out of the east has come a line of exquisite cosmetics that is designed exclusively for the body. Very high style, in packaging, in quality, and in purpose, and great for those whose gospel is "pamper thyself."

First, there is a body shampoo. Nothing so mundane as soap for you, madam! There is a liquid cleanser which fluffs into a creamy lather and keeps the skin smooth as satin. Then there is an after bath lotion, stimulating but not drying, since it has a tricky filmy oil base. For very dry skin [this will be a honey of a preparation in winter] there is a body balm that disappears almost instantly but protects against roughness and redness.

There's a bath foam, too, that fizzes in the hardest water; a bath oil gorgeously perfumed in lilac, carnation or an interesting bouquet; a perfume deodorant in the same three scents; a flesh tinted body sachet and a beautiful fragrance, quite long lasting, that is to be used as a skin perfume.

These things are quite new, but already they've had a great success. The fragrances are charming, for one thing, and the quality of each of the products reflects the good taste and intelligence that have gone into their creation.

Survey Shows Progressive Schooling Best

The superiority in college work of graduates of high schools using progressive teaching methods over the graduates who had traditional training was reported yesterday in a 252 page survey completed under direction of Dr. Ralph W. Tyler, head of the department of education at the University of Chicago.

Portions of the survey, conducted over an eight year period with 2,950 high school graduates as "guinea pigs," have been made public before, but the full text was not available until yesterday. In addition to concluding that the students with progressive training have greater aptitude in college, the report deplores "a general lack of concern about students by the colleges."

"This lack of concern accounts, in part, for the general lack of impact of the experimental [progressive] students on the colleges," the report states. "The college program has militated against student participation in planning, and has generated an intolerance on the part of college authorities for initiative and intelligence when a criticism of the status quo is involved. Students are quick, and sometimes disturbed, to learn that this kind of educational opportunity is closed to them."

Traditional education is defined as formal teaching, sharp division between different subjects and almost complete reliance on textbooks and approved reference lists, without any encouragement for developing individual aptitude. Progressive education treats the student as an individual, placing less emphasis on routine study and more on the relationship of the student to the world around him.

For instance, under the traditional system, social studies are confined to textbook and classroom instruction. In the progressive method, the student does field work, meeting and talking with people in various walks of life.

For the purpose of the survey 1,475 students were selected from progressive high schools and an equal number from traditional institutions, and were then followed thru their college careers. The survey showed that those from progressive schools:

1. Received higher college grades and slightly more academic honors each year.

2. Were more often judged to possess a high degree of intellectual curiosity and drive and to be precise, systematic, and objective in their thinking.

3. Were more often judged to have developed clear or well-formulated ideas concerning the meaning of education, particularly in the first two years of college.

4. More often demonstrated a high degree of resourcefulness in meeting new situations.

5. Participated somewhat more frequently and more often enjoyed appreciative experiences in the arts.

6. Participated more in all organized student groups except religious and "service" activities.

7. Had a somewhat better orientation toward the choice of a vocation.

8. Demonstrated a more active concern for what was going on in the world.

Thirty progressive schools participated in the test, among them four in the Chicago area—the University High school, the North Shore Country Day and New Trier Township High schools in Winnetka, and the Francis Parker High school. Against each student from these schools was a student of the same sex, age, and race, and similar abilities and interests from schools using traditional techniques.

Two of the most successful progressive schools [their names not mentioned] were selected for a comparison of the records of their graduates with those of a similar number of graduates of traditional schools. This particular part of the survey was confined to grades these graduates received in their freshman year in college and showed an advantage for the progressive school products.

Maude Phelps Hutchins, who is busy with portrait commissions, both in oil and sculpture, was paid a call the other day by Dell Quest, former Chicago gallery owner who held several shows of Mrs. Hutchins' work and who now lives in the southwest.

"Whatever became of that drawing I like so much—that reclining nude?" he asked, during the conversation.

"I've still got that one. It's put away somewhere," Mrs. Hutchins told him.

At his request she got it out.

"I'd like to have it," said Quest. "How much?"

Mrs. Hutchins smiled wickedly. "The price is on the back of the picture—in your own handwriting," she said. "The price you yourself put on it."

Mr. Quest, private art lover, paid the price Dell Quest, gallery owner, had put on the picture for sale in his gallery. Mrs. Hutchins did subtract the amount of his commission, which had been included in the price marked on the back.

A Period of Destruction.

The oldest living widow of a President of the United States, Mrs. Benjamin Harrison, has written in behalf of saving the Auditorium. Her letter, addressed to John Goodridge, president of the Auditorium:

"The Auditorium had been the scene of many interesting sights, a meeting place on many interesting occasions. My husband was nominated there in 1888. I have not been in Chicago for many years and, of course, do not know the situation of condition and use of the building. It is always a regret to see old landmarks disappear. This seems to be a period for destruction, does it not?

Year's Record Ravinia Crowd Hears Gradova

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Last night's all-Russian program at Ravinia park drew more than 5,000 persons—the biggest crowd of the season to date. Some of these people doubtless went to see what the comrades have been up to, for the program's main item — Shostakovich's fifth symphony—has had a lot of good word-of-mouth advertising. But the most powerful lure was probably Gitta Gradova, Chicago's widely admired pianist.

The Shostakovich symphony, as set before us by Nicolai Malko and the Chicago Symphony orchestra, was more conservative and less overwhelming than it is under the hands of Izler Solomon or Leopold Stokowski, but the symphony's raw vodka never turned into tea nor its brawn strength into gracefulness. It remained what it had seemed to be even on first hearing—one of the most provocative and imperiously original musical products of the 20th century.

In it a flaming imagination is combined with a technical skill adequate to the task of expressing orchestrally anything that even Shostakovich could think up. And one must not forget the composer's boldness and even impudence. We have become used to this quality in him, and no longer think of him as a small boy throwing snowballs at top hats, but the mature equivalent of this impudence is an important factor in the Fifth symphony's appeal.

The work is full of surprises. Any one who thinks that the comrades are as shocked at a simple, whistleable melody as they would be at a sly deal in wheat futures should hear the allegretto movement.

There are floods of almost lyrical feeling in the symphony, too, but they fall strangely on western ears. The music seems to be celebrating a new heaven and a new earth—not any of the familiar heavens which we have made for ourselves nor the earth which we inhabit.

Not all of last night's Russian music was soviet Russian. Miss Gradova's vehicle was Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody on a theme of Paganini, the work of an émigré. There were two czarist pieces—the overture to Glinka's "Russlan and Ludmilla" and Rimsky-Korsakoff's Spanish Caprice.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., July 17.—"I feel," says Bob Hope, "like Hess in Scotland." Bob is working in "Louisiana Purchase" with Zorina, Victor Moore, and Irene Bordoni, all from the Broadway show, and they know their lines backward. "For the first time in my life I have to study at home nights, to catch up with them," says Bob. . . . Four top drawer producers are in revolt against a recently appointed major studio executive. . . . A mess threatens over charges that a studio story editor has been cutting in on writers he has assigned to whip up yarns. . . . Robert Sisk and Milton Raison now have the story outline for the film on Texas Guinan. Two-thirds of it will cover her early career in honky tonks and rodeos. Only the last third will concern her time in the Broadway night clubs—and it will not picture Tex's death or the passing of Larry Fay. . . . John Meehan is going back to Broadway. He'll appear in "A Friend for a Nickel," written by John Meehan Jr. and Claude Stroud—Claude being 50 per cent of the Stroud twins.

Sam Goldwyn's plans for that rarity, a baseball picture, are still being worked up, for it's a pretty safe bet that Gary Cooper will impersonate the late Lou Gehrig. Cooper hasn't got Lou's build, but he looks like a ball player and proved he could act like one in "Meet John Doe." Mrs. Gehrig, out here to consult on what goes into the picture, says she has four or five favorite actors who could play her husband, and Cooper is one. She wouldn't name the others. Asked what she most wanted included in the film biography of her husband, she said she'd like it to emphasize these points: Lou was the son of immigrants, and came up the hard way. He showed his greatest strength and courage when he realized he was ill and out of baseball for good. And the big moment of his life, and the most dramatic, was the ceremony at Yankee stadium during which the ailing iron man said, "I am the luckiest man alive."

That's a nifty combination they've got at 20th-Fox—Ginger Rogers and Ernst Lubitsch. And a nifty title, "Self Made Cinderella." The picture will roll in the fall, and it will be the first time Miss Rogers has worked for Lubitsch.

Sally's Guest List Doubled at Hotel Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

The Panther room of the Hotel Sherman was overrun with beaming youngsters yesterday afternoon, when almost 200 of them were entertained by the managcment. No effort was spared to entertain my guests, and the children had such a good time they couldn't decide what they liked best!

Carl Marx, the clown, greeted us at the door, danced and kidded with the children and gave them American flags, balloons, and flowers. Then Martin Blum took charge and introduced Bert Allerton, the magician who had come over from the Pump room to do tricks for the children. He made things vanish in the air, cut one little boy's tie to bits and produced it in one piece again, and finally produced a tiny white bunny from a hat. To prove he was a real rabbit, some of the youngsters were allowed to pet the little fellow.

Then Bob Eberly and Helen O'Connell of Jimmy Dorsey's orchestra, sang duets, and the youngsters wanted more and more.

Coleman Clark, the national champion, and his partner George Henry, showed the youngsters how table-tennis can be played, using as many as four balls at a time. They played with skillets, and Mr. Coleman even caught balls in his mouth and on his head, to the delight of the children.

Then several boys and girls were given an opportunity to play with the champion, and maybe they didn't enjoy that! Autographed balls were distributed as prizes and cherished joyfully.

Generous servings of ice cream and cookies topped off the afternoon, and after we all stood up and sang the national anthem, the youngsters waved their flags once more and headed for home.

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCKS.

Two styles of sports frocks today, one the typical shirtwaist variety, popular thru the years and each year given new treatment; the other a jumper outfit with companion blouse. Stripes make up effectively in the first frock, altho plain colors are handsome, too. Spanking white pique or sharkskin, with a sheer blouse, would be a good selection for the other costume.

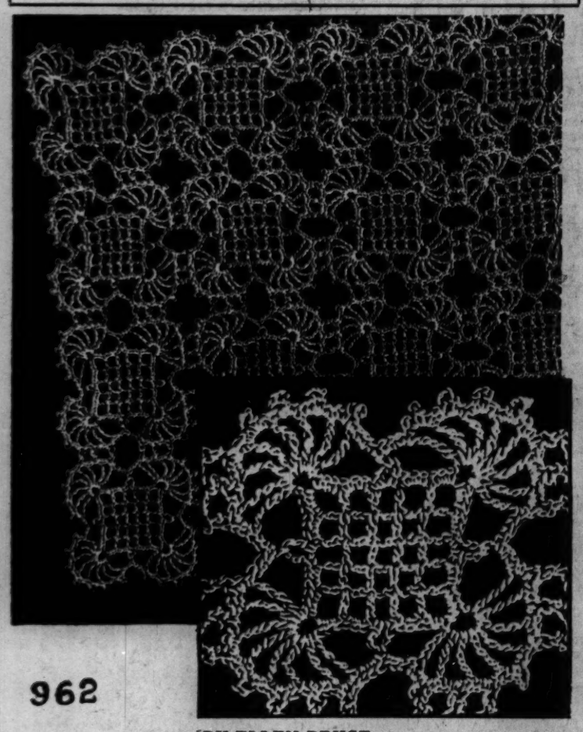
Style No. 2860 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements.

Style No. 2519 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Clever Crocheted Medallion



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

A purely original design is this clever crocheted medallion which is used for a luncheon doily, dresser scarf, chair sets, or buffet cloths. The box and wheel medallion is not difficult to crochet and works up easily and quickly. Ivory mercerized crochet cotton is suggested for the doilies, and ecru is recommended for a buffet cloth or dresser scarf.

For instructions in crocheting the box and wheel medallion, No. 962, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Charles F. Holzapfel of North Damen avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Shirley Adelaide, to William French Drawbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. L. Drawbaugh of Jarvis avenue. Miss Holzapfel attended DePauw university. Mr. Drawbaugh, who studied engineering at Auburn Polytechnical school in Alabama, is stationed at Fort Custer, Mich. The wedding is planned for August.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel L. Donovan of Chicago announce the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Cornelius J. Sullivan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan of New Rochelle, N. Y. Miss Donovan is a senior at Wellesley college. Mr. Sullivan was graduated from Loyola and attended Holy Cross college.

Mr. and Mrs. Max S. Katz of Osage, Ia., announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Eleanor, to Howard F. Hansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Hansen of La Crosse, Wis. After the wedding, which is set for Aug. 29 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Hansen and his bride will reside in Traverse City, Mich. Miss Katz and Mr. Hansen were graduated from Northwestern university in 1940.

Free Ice Pleas Increase with Prolonged Heat

A 7 year old boy is sick. His widowed mother, ill herself, worries about him. If only she had some ice to place on his hot forehead, ice to keep his milk cold, ice to keep his food fresh. Then she writes humbly to the United Charities ice fund: "Will you please take my case under consideration and let me have ice tickets as I have no husband to depend upon? Thanks. Sincerely."

Another woman, living on limited means herself, writes for her friend, a divorced mother with four children, one of them in a sanitarium with rheumatic fever. Every letter describes a case more urgent, more pitiful.

Thirteen Tribune readers who contributed $68.50 to the ice fund yesterday, and all those who have donated a total of $522.55 this summer, will be happy to know their dollars bring relief to many of these worried mothers and sick children. Yesterday's contributors included:

Frances I. Bickett	$ 10.00
Mrs. Marshall F. Holmes	10.00
Beatrice R. Stern	10.00
Mrs. Carrie Getlemann	10.00
Catharine K. Fuller	5.00
Mrs. Joseph K. Frank	5.00
Olival Bagge	5.00
Mrs. Henry May	5.00
Mrs. E. F. E.	2.50
In Memory of Mother	2.00
A. S.	2.00
H. H. V.	1.00
Mrs. E. J. Zejdlik	1.00
	$ 68.50
	522.55
	$591.05

Gifts for the Camp Algonquin fund follow:

Mrs. Marshall F. Holmes	$ 10.00
In Memory of a Blue Eyed Boy	10.00
Mrs. Phil White	10.00
Catharine K. Fuller	5.00
Olival Bagge	5.00
Mrs. Joseph K. Frank	5.00
H. H. V.	1.00
	46.00
Previously acknowledged	508.71
	$554.71

Several hundred needy and underprivileged children are sent to camp each summer thru these gifts. A touching story about these youngsters, all less than 6 years old, now in camp, was reported by a social worker. When the United Charities moved the family from a basement flat, where they had lived until two months ago, to an upstairs flat, the children spent hours looking out of the windows. They were fascinated to find that it was possible to be indoors and yet see outdoors.

All contributions to either fund should be sent to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., Tribune Tower.

Ravinia Takes Its Music in Cool Comfort

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

Ravinia Park is one place—outside of his own home, of course—where a man may enjoy his pipe and good music simultaneously. Little, contented puffs of smoke floated up all thru the pavilion last night as men lit up and stretched out, figuratively, to attend Nicolai Malko and the Chicago Symphony orchestra.

On the broad lawns adjoining the pavilion the stretching out was literal, for the space was covered with music lovers who brought along back rests, blankets, pillows, in fact, anything to help make them comfortable. The flashing of matches from these reclining hundreds added to the fairy-like atmosphere of the park.

Dodging thru the trees with other late comers were the junior Edgar Stantons, Ravinia perennials. Mrs. Stanton was hatless, wearing a gray frock with a skirt of wide, vertical stripes of bright colors. Few women, excepting those in box seats, seem to "dress" nowadays for Ravinia nights.

A distinguished boxful of feminine guests was made up of Mrs. Frederick A. Preston, Mrs. George McLaughlin, Miss Cornelia Scott, Mrs. Ernest Waud, Mrs. Bernard Rogers, and Mrs. William P. Martin. Mrs. Rogers, a stunning, white haired woman, looked especially smart in a well cut black lace gown and pearl button earrings.

In a nearby box sat Mrs. Malko, youthful and dark haired, in a charming dress of white with a pattern of self material scroll work on net inserts in the sleeves. She was a guest of the Percy B. Eckharts, whose other guests were Col. and Mrs. George Voevodsky and William A. McSwain. Mrs. Voevodsky's simple dinner gown was an effective one of blue dots on white.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. McLennan's box guests were their duaghter, Mrs. Keith Brown, and Mr. McLennan Jr. The Charles H. Morses had Charles Jr. among their guests. In the box next to Mr. and Mrs. Morse sat another family group that included Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Thorne and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peet.

Prince and Princess Galitzine, Walter Frazier, Mrs. Frank Hixon, the Kendall I. Lingles, Mrs. Ewing T. Webb, and Mrs. Albert Louer in a stunning dinner dress of navy and white were some of the others in the big crowd.

N. U. Settlement Is Holding Benefit Picnic July 26-27

Friends of the Northwestern University settlement, Noble street and Augusta boulevard, will attend the settlement's fourth annual benefit picnic on Saturday and Sunday afternoons, July 26 and 27, on the Leverone Pottawattamie farm, just east of the intersection of Milwaukee avenue and Highway 22.

In addition to enjoying a steak dinner, guests may wander over the beautiful grounds or participate in a program of sports including swimming, softball, dancing, and other games. Each evening there will be a Polish folk festival with native costumes, music, and dancing, climaxed by a huge bonfire.

Numerology

By Evelyn Holmes

July 18, 1941.

Universal day—A good day to keep your nose to the grindstone. Stick to facts.

Special numbers—Some of the higher numbers have just a few special meanings and so I will give the rest of them briefly. Number 43 is symbolized as "The Death Point" so you can see it is not a good number for success. It signifies destruction and frustration. It would not be suitable for a house number or for an office number. Number 51 seems to carry with it the vibrations of war. It is called a military number and promises rather sudden advancement. It would be too dangerous to use it on peacetime projects.

Wife in Other Man's Castle Always Charms

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

We wonder, sometimes, if bachelors, when they do confide to us a sudden passion for the wife of some other man, usually a friend, in whose home the bachelor is a welcomed guest, aren't influenced by the established mode of life presented to them on those visits.

A single man of mature years, wandering around from post to pillar for his meals, is noticeably appreciative of the home cooked offerings. He enjoys them. He enjoys the comfort of the well run home, which has been accomplished by his husband-friend after 8, 10, 12 years of marriage. Couples do ordinarily acquire a more luxurious home background with the years. More comfortable, at least, if not luxurious.

Anyway, the bachelor comes in upon the scene, properly invited, of course, and a twinge of regret might well envelop him over his own lost years. Because he is welcome, he makes frequent visits, and too often he begins to view the wife and chatelaine of the little castle as a possession that would add appreciably to his own life. And, of course, the little woman naturally spreads herself both as hostess and as a woman, to make herself and home as beguiling as possible.

CITY OFFICIALS MAP FIGHT ON 'L' FARE BOOST

Extensive Hearings Are Sought on Proposals.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

City officials yesterday served notice on the Chicago Rapid Transit company that it faces a battle in attempting to increase the 10 cent "L" fare to 12 cents and the 10 cent rate for interline rides to 13 cents.

William H. Sexton.

At a hearing before the Illinois Commerce commission, where the company requested the increase, William H. Sexton, city traction counsel, demanded that the commission hold extensive hearings and make a valuation of the elevated lines' properties before ruling on the fare question.

Wage Boost Cited.

Sexton also told the commission that the company's recent wage increases amounting to $825,000 a year have increased its expenses by only about ½ cent per rider, whereas an increase of 2 cents per fare is being sought.

Meanwhile, Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the city council local transportation committee, called a meeting for next Wednesday when the aldermen will decide the city's official policy toward the proposed fare boost.

The proposed schedule of charges will go into effect Aug. 18 unless they are suspended before then by order of the commerce commission.

How Rates Compare.

The proposed schedule, compared with present fares, follows:

	Proposed rate.	Present rate.
ADULT FARES.
City of Chicago	$ .12	$ .10
From Chicago to Evanston, Skokie, or *western suburbs	.15	†.13
Within Evanston, Skokie, or west suburban zone	.08	.07
WEEKLY PASSES.
3 mile zone from loop	$1.08	$ .90
City-wide pass	1.50	1.25
System-wide pass	1.92	1.60
CHILDREN'S RATES.
Children, 7 to 12 years—
In city or suburbs	$ .04	$ .03
Between city and suburbs	.08	.06
High school children—
Books of 20 rides, in city	1.20	1.00
Books of 20 rides, city to suburbs	1.92	1.60

*Western suburbs served by the "L" are Maywood, Forest Park, Bellwood, and Westchester. †Two for 25c.

The rate schedule was forwarded to Springfield yesterday.

Attorney Herbert M. Johnson of the elevated lines requested a prompt hearing on a proposed boost to 13 cents for joint rides between the elevated and surface lines and the elevated and motor coach routes. John D. Biggs, chairman of the commission, set a hearing for Sept. 17.

STATE LICENSES 1,704,812 AUTOS; GAIN OVER 1940

Springfield, Ill., July 17 (AP).—State licenses were issued for 118,056 more passenger automobiles in the first six months of 1941 than in the same period a year ago, Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes reported today. Truck licenses were issued for 5,481 more commercial vehicles.

License fee revenue, earmarked for highway construction and maintenance, reached a record total of $24,167,663 for the six months period, or $1,634,766 higher than for the first half of 1940.

Passenger car registrations up to July 1 this year were 1,704,812 and on trucks 216,524. On the same date last year the totals were 1,586,756 and 211,043. Hughes' semiannual report showed 3,119,655 persons now holding drivers' licenses in the state.

Rep. Perry Quits to Give Time to His Law Practice

State Representative Joseph Sam Perry [D., Wheaton], announced yesterday that he was quitting the legislature to attend to his law practice and would not run for reelection to a fourth term next year. Perry said his election last year cost him almost as much as the $5,000 salary he received as a member. "When a public office costs that much, I think it is time to quit," Perry said.

U. of I. Gets Permission to Build New Radio Outlet

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—The federal communications commission yesterday granted permission for the University of Illinois to construct at Urbana a new noncommercial educational broadcast station to operate on 42,900 kilocycles, with power of 250 watts, unlimited time.

Accused Slayer of His Niece Lies on Cot in Watseka Court

Watseka, Ill., July 17 [Special].—Robert Fiester, following two heart attacks, lay on a cot in Circuit court here today to hear the evidence completed and arguments started in his trial on charges of murdering his niece, Royalene Hinkle.

He had spent the night at Iroquois hospital after he had collapsed yesterday while being cross-examined by State's Attorney A. Fred Kendall. His second attack came this noon shortly after Judge Roscoe C. South had convened court. It, too, was while he was being questioned relative to the story he had told on direct examination of his activities on the night preceding the discovery last March of the bodies of Miss Hinkle and her lover, Lowell Gray, in the farm residence of the girl and her uncle.

Undertaker Sits Nearby.

His physician, Dr. E. F. Herdien, who was in court with him, administered restoratives and an ambulance cot was brought in by Clyde Eastburn, an undertaker. Both the doctor and the undertaker sat near Fiester the rest of the day.

It was agreed by defense and prosecution that arguments would be limited to four hours each.

It is probable the case will reach the jury late tomorrow. Richard T. Piper, chief investigator of the state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, who had been called in on the case by local officers, was a rebuttal witness today.

Claims Alibi Failed.

Piper told of having taken Fiester to Rossville to check his story of having been in that village on the night of the killings. He said he took the 55 year old farmer into the tavern Fiester said he had visited and the bartenders said they never had seen him.

Piper said Fiester denied ever having any financial dealings with Gray, and when the investigator had presented proof the accused man had cashed a check for $50 made payable to him by Gray, Fiester refused to say more than "It's none of your business."

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The United States weather bureau forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

GREEN REBUKES COUNTY REGIME; KILLS BOND BILL

Calls Unpaid Court Costs Poor Management.

Springfield, Ill., July 17 [Special].—Gov. Dwight Green today vetoed a bill which would have authorized Cook county to issue $4,000,000 in bonds without referendum to pay court costs already incurred by the county in Chicago's Municipal court.

Accompanying the veto was a message in which the governor rebuked Chicago and Cook county officials for not paying these costs as they accrued.

"Good business management in the operaton would have dictated such a course. Instead, they have been permitted to accumulate," said Gov. Green's message. "Now the state is asked to authorize the imposition of a $4,000,000 debt upon the people of Cook county without a referendum to pay for this failure of its public officials to meet their obligations out of current income.

"Uneconomical Management."

"In my opinion this bill represents a reprehensible practice in government, that of incurring debts in the hope that a bond issue can be floated to pay them. As a protest against uneconomical management in government I am compelled to veto this bill."

The unpaid court costs involved were incurred under a section of the municipal court act which makes the county liable for costs in criminal cases prosecuted in the Municipal court in which defendants fail to pay costs on conviction or in which proceedings are dismissed or a verdict of acquittal is returned.

The governor signed 40 bills today, including a series which places a curb on vote bribery in Illinois elections. The legislation penalizes the giver of bribes. The law already places a check on the recipient.

The vote bribery bills, introduced by Representative Alan E. Ashcraft [R., Evanston], make bribery to influence the results of election a crime punishable by a fine up to $5,000 or a maximum of five years in the penitentiary.

Approves Labor Bill.

Also signed into law was one of labor's key bills before the recent assembly. It prohibits employers, whose workers are striking or being locked out, from advertising for replacements without giving notice in the advertisment that a strike or lockout is in progress.

Among the other bills signed today were:

SB 544—Provides that electrocutions shall not be less than 50 instead of 15 days nor more than 60 instead of 25 days from the date sentence is pronounced.

$5,000 CHICAGO OPEN TOURNAMENT STARTS TODAY

NATION'S BEST GOLFERS PLAY AT ELMHURST

220 Begin 72 Hole, 3 Day Event.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Time—Eighteen holes today, 18 tomorrow, and 36 Sunday.

Encore to National Tourneys.

The above, in brief, is the synopsis of what awaits Chicago golf fans today, as the curtain rises on the CDGA's No. 1 competitive production of 1941. The three predecessors of the Chicago Open have been of excellent caliber in the matter of players, but they can't compare with the company assembled for this reunion at Elmhurst. It is verily an encore of the fields which within the last six weeks fought for the National Open and Professional Golfers' association championships.

From 7:30 a. m. to 3:40 p. m. today, the field of 220 of the country's leading professionals and amateurs will be teeing off on the first 18 holes of this 72 hole fight that will give the leading play for money winner a cash prize of $1,200 and the head man among the simon pure swingers, his choice of a fancy assortment of merchandise awards. Another 18 holes will be transacted tomorrow, after which the field will be paired to the low 48 pros and ties and the low 24 amateurs and ties for Sunday's concluding holes.

Boost Distance 282 Yards.

The professionals are not the only contenders in the field. There are such amateurs, none of them in need of introduction, as George and Warren Dawson, Gus Moreland, Wilford Wehrle, Tom Sheehan, Ellsworth Vines, Johnny Fischer, John Barnum, Walter Burkemo, and the two South American visitors, Mario Gonzalez and Dr. Walter Ratto of Rio de Janeiro.

Metz, who won the championship at Tam o'Shanter last year with a 72 hole score of 278, admitted yesterday as he went out on his practice finale, that he will have no breeze defending his title. Last fall, Dick shot a 68 at Elmhurst in its original state. His only other effort prior to yesterday was a 70, one under par. This, of course, was accomplished in the face of the adjusted yardage of 6,750, with a par of 35—36—71. Thru the revision of the tees, another 282 yards has been added for this week's competition.

Ferrier Is Home Pro.

Among others who will debate the issue with Metz is Jim Ferrier, who is making his professional debut at Elmhurst this term, after having won the 1940 Chicago district amateur and after having finished only two strokes back of Metz to lead all amateurs in last year's Chicago Open.

There are also two contenders with Chicago backgrounds. One is Denny Shute, late of Westward Ho, who carried Wood to the finish last month before he yielded the National Open crown. The other is Lloyd Mangrum, stationed last year at Oak Park. Mangrum was the sensation of the PGA tourney last week until stopped by Ghezzi on the 36th green of their semi-final match.

New Aid for Spectators.

This Chicago Open will give spectators their first opportunity to check the leaders in the field. The ninth and 18th greens will carry special score boards by which the late arrivals in the gallery will be able to know how many strokes under or over par the players rank.

Tickets for today are $1.25, for tomorrow $1.50, and for Sunday's final two rounds $1.75. A season ticket for the three days will sell for $3.25. Junior tickets, for galleryites 18 years old or under, will be 65 cents. This same admission fee holds good for all uniformed members of the armed forces from Fort Sheridan, Great Lakes, and Camp Grant. Corp. Bob Babbish of Detroit, former western amateur champion, now stationed at Fort Sheridan, obtained a four day leave to compete in the tournament.

STARETOR OUT OF RICH HOLLYWOOD GOLD CUP RACE

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17 (AP).—Staretor, winner of last week's $25,000 Hollywood Derby, will pass up the $75,000 Hollywood Gold Cup Saturday, Trainer George Strate said today. Staretor suffered several leg lacerations in winning the Derby.

Preview of Paradise.

I pause at eventide
And let my gaze roam gratefully
Out o'er the countryside.
The velvet green of the grassy slopes,
Tell me where was there ever
A man with richer things than these?

Against a greening hill,
Silently there, until
You suddenly sense its meaning,
You glimpse from the top of those old stone steps

ISBELL-KOVATCH PASS PLAY BO'S ALL-STAR THRILL

McMillin Lauds Maneuver in 1938 Game.

[This is the second of a series of articles by professional and college football coaches on spectacular plays in Chicago All-Star games.]

[Head Football Coach, Indiana University.]

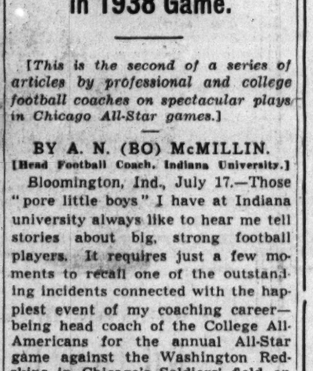
Bloomington, Ind., July 17.—Those "pore little boys" I have at Indiana university always like to hear me tell stories about big, strong football players. It requires just a few moments to recall one of the outstanding incidents connected with the happiest event of my coaching career—being head coach of the College All-Americans for the annual All-Star game against the Washington Redskins in Chicago's Soldiers' field on the night of Aug. 31, 1938.

There were noble performances by all members of the All-American squad that night. However, two players, Cecil Isbell, Purdue's great passer, and Johnny Kovatch, Northwestern's brilliant end, provided the biggest thrill of the game for me with a play demanding speed, deception and perfect timing. It occurred early in the third period with the professional champions holding a lead of 10 to 3.

Thinks Fans Missed Play.

I doubt whether many in the crowd of 74,250 rated that Isbell-Kovatch pass play as the best in the game. There were passes intercepted for touchdowns, blocked kicks and spectacular runs which might have been more pleasing to the grandstand occupants. Isbell, a star in the Western conference for two seasons, was at his best that night, winning his aerial battle with the famed Sammy Baugh, the man who had made possible the 1937 All-Star victory over the Green Bay Packers, 6 to 0.

But let me give you a description of the play which produced the All-Stars' first touchdown and began the victory drive: Frank Patrick of Pittsburgh gained three yards to bring the ball to the Washington 44 yard line. Isbell then raced to the 39 yard line on a fake pass play. On the next play, Isbell, also the field general that night, chose to toss a pass to Kovatch, but the Northwestern end was to stop and pivot instead of running straight to the left as on previous plays. Here's the diagram:



Calls It Perfect Execution.

You will note that Kovatch ran straight down the field with the defensive right half back keeping step with him. However, as Kovatch reached the 15 yard line, he stopped abruptly, veered sharply from Washington's Max Krause and Isbell dropped the ball into Kovatch's hands. Krause brought Kovatch down, but it was not until after the Northwestern end had crossed the goal line. The touchdown was made possible by Isbell's accuracy and Kovatch's speed.

The All-Stars continued their alert, spirited play, Phil Dougherty of Santa Clara and Andy Uram of Minnesota scoring touchdowns on intercepted passes and the All-Americans winning, 28 to 16.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Lefty Thornton Lee didn't function nearly so well against the DiMaggio family before 27,437 in Comiskey park as Lefty Al Smith and Jim Bagby did before 67,468 in Cleveland last night. While Big Joe's streak was being halted at 56 games in Cleveland, Little Dom was busy here, busting a triple and a homer off Lee, to account for three Boston runs, the Red Sox margin of victory in a 7 to 4 affair.

The outcome, ninth Boston victory in 12 meetings with the Chicago boys, dropped Dykes' protégés into the second division for the first time in weeks, and also dumped them below the .500 mark for the first time since the early days of the season.

Thornton Is Off Form.

Heber Newsome went all the way for the Bostons to accomplish his tenth victory of the season, and his third over the White Sox, who, have lost six out of their last seven starts.

Lee didn't pitch quite as well as usual, extra base hits figuring in all the Boston runs off him except an unearned tally in the seventh. It was the large westerner's 18th start of the season, and the first in which he was removed within regulation time, and at that he lasted eight innings. Once he was taken out in the tenth, and in all other instances he went all the way. Besides the big swats by Little Brother Dom, there was a triple by Jimmy Foxx and doubles by Lamar Newsome, Stan Spence, and Bobby Doerr. Doerr's effort was a mean bouncer which hit Bobby Kennedy under the right eye in the eighth inning, knocking him out of the game.

It's That Fellow DiMaggio.

The White Sox made seven hits, three in the second inning, for two runs, and two in the eighth for two runs. Mike Kreevich's triple was the feature swat in the second inning, and Taft Wright's double drove in the two runs in the eighth. Wright opened the second with a single, and wth one out, scored on Mike's three bagger. Kennedy walked and Mike Tresh hit a mighty fly to DiMaggio, which allowed Kreevich to score. The productive eighth inning began with a single by Pinch Batter Myril Hoag. Appling walked with one out, and Wright came thru with his double with two gone to send home Hoag and Appling.

Manager Joe Cronin set up Boston's first run in the second by beating out a bunt. He scored on DiMaggio's triple to right center. L. Newsome's double and a similar drive by Spence came together for Boston's tying run in the visitors' third and they never were behind after that.

WALK, 3 INFIELD OUTS HALT JOE; YANKS WIN, 4-3

Cleveland, O., July 17 (AP).—Joe DiMaggio's hitting streak was snapped at 56 straight games tonight as the New York Yankees beat Cleveland 4 to 3. The slugger's string began May 15 against the White Sox with a single off Edgar Smith and bettered George Sisler's modern record of 41, established in 1922, and Willie Keeler's 1897 mark of 44.

Going to bat in the eighth inning with his team leading, 4 to 1, and the bases filled, DiMaggio hit into a double play to end the rally. In

Al Smith faced the Yankee slugger three times while Jim Bagby induced him to bounce into the double play, Lou Boudreau to Ray Mack to Oscar Grimes.

67,468 See Game.

A throng of 67,468, the largest night baseball crowd in history, watched the teams battle. The Yankees' victory was their second straight over Cleveland and gave them a seven game lead in the American league race.

Lefty Gomez stopped the Indians with four hits and one run for eight innings, but the slim southpaw was routed by the Indians in a ninth inning rally. Johnny Murphy pitched a triple to Larry Rosenthal, batting for Ray Mack, to allow two runs, but bore down to retire Pinch Hitters Clarence Campbell and Hal Trosky and Roy Weatherly to end the game.

Keltner Makes Great Stops.

DiMaggio's streak might have been extended except for sharp fielding by Keltner. In the first and seventh innings he made sensational stops of hot smashes and threw out the Yankee outfielder. The other time Smith pitched to DiMaggio he walked him on a three and two pitch.

After the game DiMaggio said:

"I can't say that I'm glad it's over. Of course I wanted to go on as long as I could.

"Now that the streak is over, I just want to get out there and keep helping to win ball games."

TECHNICIAN, AT 5-2, BEATS FAST FIELD IN SPRINT

Gallahadion Finishes Two Lengths Back.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Woolford farm's Technician delivered another one of his good efforts to beat a field of high grade handicap performers in the Hindoo Purse yesterday at Arlington Park. Racing at odds of 5 to 2 in this dash of seven furlongs, he got home two lengths ahead of Gallahadion and Cherry Trifle, which finished noses apart in that order.

Since beginning his 1941 campaign at Keeneland in April, Technician had been able to win only once in seven starts previous to yesterday but he had been running consistently, taking four second places and being out of the money only twice.

Was a Good Field.

There was plenty of class in the field Technician beat yesterday. In addition to Gallahadion, winner of last year's Kentucky Derby, there was Sirocco, which was returning to the scene of his triumph in the 1940 Classic Stakes. There was a mystery horse, too, named Samborombon, which was making his first start in this country after being brought up from South America. No official records on his performances on that continent were available.

The crowd established Gallahadion as the 7 to 5 favorite in the field of eight. After Technician at 5 to 2 came Sirocco at 7 to 2, none of the others being less than 17 to 1.

The South American horse went right out as tho he meant business, setting the pace from the chute to the head of the stretch. Here Night Lady got thru on the rail to take command momentarily. Then Technician, which had been well up thruout the earlier stages, came on very powerfully, forged ahead in midstretch and went on to win handily. Meanwhile Gallahadion and Cherry Trifle were coming up swiftly side by side to pass Night Lady, but they couldn't menace Technician.

Dogpatch Fails Backers.

With Willie Strickler aboard, Technician completed the seven furlongs in 1:23 1-5. His mutuel payoff was $7, $3, and $2.80.

Milky Way farm's promising juvenile, Dogpatch, was out again yesterday for the third start of his career. This full brother of Bull Lea had won impressively in his debut and had followed up with a sixth place in the Arlington Futurity. The crowd was so confident he would outclass the nine youngsters which opposed him in yesterday's six furlong Joliet purse that he was established the 6 to 5 favorite.

He failed by the margin of a head, however, when At Liberty led the way across the finish line. Calumet farm's Early N' Smart, making his first start since the National Stallion stakes at Belmont, took third money.

Kerwin Has Trouble.

At Liberty, quoted at nearly 7 to 1 odds, raced close to Memphis' early pace, took the lead with a burst of speed at the head of the stretch, and lasted just long enough to beat the favorite. Dogpatch also had been well up from the start but was in rather close quarters just at the moment when At Liberty was rushing into the lead. Once Dogpatch got clear along the rail, he moved up resolutely.

Butch Covington's Kerwin, the 3 to 1 second choice, engaged in a bit of bumping with At Liberty at the head of the stretch and was forced behind horses. Then he failed to rally after finding room.

NATIONAL PUBLIC LINKS MEDALIST BEATEN, 2 AND 1

Spokane, Wash., July 17 (AP).—Jack Kerns, insurance underwriter from Denver, turned in an upset 2 and 1 victory over Jimmy Clark, Long Beach, Cal. tournament medalist, in quarter-final competition in the National Public Links golf tourney today. Kerns played winning golf thruout, reaching the turn in 34 for a 1 up lead against Clark's 35.

In tomorrow's semi-finals Kerns meets Art Pomy of Detroit who ousted Bob Daniel, San Francisco, 1 up, on the 19th green. William Welch of Houston plays Pete Doll, Louisville, in the other semi-final.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., July 17.—The sixth place Cubs and the Phils, who defy anybody to chase them out of the league basement, did the best they could today to provide entertainment, but the weather man put a stop to their act before a decision could be reached. They tolled valiantly until reaching the seventh inning, whereupon there was a deluge, so Umpire in Chief Beans Reardon hurriedly announced that he and his two associates were going home.

At the time the game was abandoned the score stood at 2 to 2 and the Cubs, upon reaching the clubhouse, congratulated Billy Nicholson for slapping a homer which tied the score.

Bill to the Rescue.

Nicholson, whose batting average isn't exactly imposing but who comes in handy on occasions, did his lifesaving act in the fifth. Twice previously he had been stopped by Johnny Podgajny with men on the bases. But when he came up the third time with the bags empty and the Cubs trailing, 2 to 1, he extended himself with a blow that sailed against the right field light tower. The ball dribbled down thru the cross bars and finally caromed outside the park. It was Nick's 16th homer and his 65th run driven in.

Vance Page made his first start of the season and, while he didn't electrify the Phils, he managed to squeeze thru in all except one of the five innings in which he was beset by trouble. Six Phils were on base in the first three sessions, but the scoring column remained untouched. However, Ben Warren slashed a two run homer in the fourth and that's how the Phils happened to get into the lead.

First Run Is Easy.

The Cubs started the day's scoring on a run earned the easy way. Clyde McCullough opened the fourth with a tap to Bobby Bragan in deep short, but the field was on the muddy side and the young man was unable to make the throw, so it went for a hit. McCullough got to second on Babe Dahlgren's out, and after Bob Sturgeon had contributed an easy popup, Page grounded to Bragan, who threw wild to first. By the time Nick Etten awoke to what was going on, McCullough had crossed the plate.

The lead didn't last long. In the home half Bragan beat out a bunt and went home ahead of Warren, who knocked his homer into the left field seats. The seventh opened with Stan Hack drawing a pass and going to second on Augie Galan's bunt. This was where the rain halted the proceedings.

Some of the Cubs will enjoy complete relaxation tomorrow, but the others will have to climb aboard a bus for a trip to Wilmington, Del., where a night exhibition is scheduled with the city's Interstate league team. Rookie Paul Erickson, who needs the practice, will pitch.

IRA DAVENPORT, MAROON TRACK STAR, DIES AT 53

Dubuque, Ia., July 17 [Special].—Ira N. Davenport, 53 years old, general manager and treasurer of the Dubuque Boat and Boiler works, died today at Finley hospital after an illness of five weeks. Davenport was an outstanding track man at the University of Chicago and won letters in football in 1909, 1910 and 1911. Upon his graduation he became a coach at Columbia college of Dubuque [now Loras college] finishing his work there in 1914. Davenport helped induce Jay Berwanger, Maroon football star from 1933 thru 1935, to attend the University of Chicago.

Port Byron and Kewanee Win in Semi-Pro Meet

Kewanee, Ill., July 17 (AP).—Port Byron eliminated the Moline Merchants from the state semi-pro baseball tournament tonight with a 3 to 2 victory behind the four hit pitching of Harry Cole. The defeat dropped Moline from the meet. Cole struck out 10. The Kewanee Parkers defeated the Hunter Red Devils of Bloomington, 6 to 0, in the second game. Scores:

1,100 Entered in Trials of Tribune Swim

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Nearly 1,100 boys and girls, an increase of 15 per cent over 1940, are registered in the four qualifying sectional meets in the 12th annual 100 yard free style swimming races sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities. Trials will be held tomorrow afternoon in Cermak pool, 7600 Ogden avenue, Lyons, Ill., and in Sherman park, 52d street and Racine avenue.

Sixty-five per cent of the entries are scheduled to take their 100 yard tests Sunday afternoon in Whealan pool, Devon and Milwaukee avenues, and California park, 3901 North California avenue. California is the largest qualifying center and Whealan is second. Approximately 120 boys and girls will receive gold qualifying medals tomorrow and Sunday and they will be eligible for the 10 Chicagoland championships July 27 in California park.

Allot Gold Medal Awards.

Since the number of swimmers qualifying from each section depends on the proportionate representation of the total of all sections, and the same procedure is carried thru each of the age divisions, 21 or less of the gold medals will be awarded at Cermak pool. Twenty-nine will be presented in Sherman park.

82 Per Cent Under 17 Years.

Eighty-two per cent of the total entry of boys and girls is under 17 years of age, evidence that the purpose of the races in developing interest among novice swimmers is successful. Class A begins with boys and girls 11 and 12 years of age, but younger swimmers are admitted. Subsequent classes are brackets of two years, with class E for those 19 years of age and over. The Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., pays the cost of registering boys and girls with the Central A. A. U. Only those 16 years of age and over are required to register.

All swimmers tomorrow must report between 1 and 2 o'clock to be placed in their heats. The first race will start at 2 p. m. in all sectional trials. Admittance to all pools is by postcard. These cards for California park and Whealan pool were mailed yesterday. The others were mailed Wednesday.

HARRIS ARRIVES FOR NON-TITLE BOUT WITH ZALE

Ossie Harris arrived yesterday for a 10 round nonchampionship bout with Champion Tony Zale in Chicago Stadium outdoor arena Wednesday. Harris was accompanied by Harry Pittler, his manager, and Trainer Ted Crystal. The stocky Pittsburgh middleweight will open workouts in Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon.

Harris, who is 23 years old, will be making his second Chicago appearance. He won a unanimous decision in 10 rounds over Nate Bolden in Marigold Gardens on March 31.

Ernie Vigh, New York 160 pound fighter, and Tony [Cianciola] Martin, Milwaukee, will reach the city today for a 10 round semi-windup on the Stadium card. George Toy, Chinese lightweight, also will arrive today for a 10 round preliminary against Pete Lello of Gary.

Amateur boxing shows will be held tonight in Madison-Cicero outdoor arena, 4820 Madison street, and Parichy stadium, Harlem avenue and Harrison street. Five boxers from Peoria will meet a Chicago delegation on the Madison-Cicero card. The Peoria representatives will be Dick Cook, featherweight; George Martin, middleweight; Henry Parson, light heavyweight; Dick Thomas, lightweight, and Roger Johnson, bantamweight.

Joe Ghnouly, veteran St. Louis lightweight, who scored a knockout in Hammond Tuesday, has resumed drills for an eight round contest against Floyd Hagen of St. Paul in Marigold Gardens Monday. Additional eight round matches bring together Leonard Bennett, Detroit welterweight, and Dick Demaray, and Eddie Lander, west side lightweight, and Andy Canal.

Booker Beckwith, Gary boxer, yesterday was offered $1,750 to meet Lem Franklin, Cleveland heavyweight, in a 10 round bout in Marigold outdoor arena, Aug. 4. Harry Green, one of Beckwith's managers, said he would accept or decline the bid today.

Mayo, Angel Infielder, Draws Year's Suspension

Los Angeles, Cal., July 17 (AP).—Eddie Mayo, Los Angeles third baseman, has been suspended one year on the accusation he spat in the face of Umpire Ray Snyder.

Chicago Gains Favor as Nova vs. Louis Site

Chicago's boxing fans will know definitely within two weeks whether or not they are to see Champion Joe Louis and Lou Nova of California in a heavyweight championship bout in September. Sheldon Clark, chairman of the Illinois Athletic commission, made the announcement after a conference with Mike Jacobs, New York promoter, in the Morrison hotel yesterday.

"Jacobs did not make any definite commitment," Clark said, "but he is seriously considering my proposition to shift the contest to Soldiers' field or Comiskey park. He told me he would make a definite statement on his return from California late this month. I believe I've convinced him Chicago will outdraw New York, Detroit, or any other city."

Offer Jacobs Two Dates.

Jacobs had planned to offer the fight in Yankee stadium Sept. 17, but because the Yankees will be playing the White Sox there on that date the promoter opened negotiations for a new site in Chicago or Detroit. Before leaving for a vacation in California, Jacobs intimated Detroit no longer was being considered.

The state commission had given Jacobs an option on Sept. 17 and 24. However, in view of the fact that the Catholic Youth organization has completed plans for an intersectional match between amateur boxers from Hawaii and the CYO in Soldiers' field on the former date, Mike may accept his remaining choice, Sept. 24.

CYO Would Coöperate.

Thomas O'Connell, CYO boxing director, agreed to rent Jacobs the CYO setup if he decides to present the fight in the lake front stadium after the CYO bouts.

Jacobs prefers Comiskey park, but the park will not be available Sept. 24 as the Sox meet Cleveland there on that date.

52 YACHTS ARE NOW LISTED FOR MACKINAC RACE

Bangalore, Lively Lady to Defend Titles.

Fifty-two yachts were entered yesterday afternoon in the Chicago Yacht club's 34th annual race to Mackinac Island, Mich., equalling last year's record starting fleet.

Late entries, and the elimination of some already listed by the race committee's rigid inspection for seaworthiness, are expected to change the total somewhat before the start tomorrow afternoon.

Champions to Defend Titles.

Last year's winners, Ed Lumbard's cruising cutter Bangalore, and Otto Dreher's racing sloop Lively Lady, will defend their titles in the cruising and Universal divisions, respectively. Jack Kinsey of the Chicago Yacht club is expected to sail Bangalore, as he did when the yacht won the race both in 1939 and 1940.

Other Winners Entered.

Other former winners entered are Manitou, James R. Lowe's yawl; Betty Bro [formerly the Rubaiyat, 1936-'37 winner] now owned and sailed by Commodore Milton Friend; Anthony Herrmann's Q boat Gloriant; Fred Temple's Siren; and the Walliser-Griffin syndicate's 10-meter cutter, Revenge.

Forecaster H. A. Downs said last night that north to northeast winds expected on Lake Michigan tomorrow may interfere with the race, as boats will have to beat against the wind. The winds, north to northwest today, will bring in a storm now over northern Minnesota, accompanied by showers and thunderstorms.

The incomplete entry list follows:

CLASS A—Warrior, Apt, Iris, Revenge, Green Spot.
CLASS B—Quest, Gloriant, Siren, Patsy, Lively Lady, Scimitar.

A CLASS—Manitou, Dirigo II., Hostess II., Batavia, Buccarat, Betty Bro, Mahabar XI., Copperhead, Boyono, Southern Cross, Nanland, Trident, Loofa, Ruth S. H., Shadrach, Tomahawk, Josephine.
B CLASS—Nisawa, Rubaiyat, Bangalore, Red Arrow, Kamasina, Tahuna, Lark.
D CLASS—Wind Song, Nirvanna, Holiday, Wench, Nor'Wester, Keewaydin, Carolina, Duchess.

Earnings, Dividends Carry Some Issues Ahead.

New York, July 17 (AP).—Declines ran to a point or so in desultory stock market dealings today, but losses in the main were in minor fractions and an assortment of favorites managed to emerge with modest advances. The list never was able to do much from the start after yesterday's setback, the first since July 1.

Business developments, including pleasing earnings statements and a batch of good dividends, brought support for a number of issues. Buying handicaps, however, remained in reports of successful Nazi thrusts in Russia and confusing interpretations of the latest Japanese cabinet shift.

Average Down a Fraction.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .1 of a point at 43.4. Transfers were 455,770 shares.

Pullman retained a gain of ⅞ on the payment of a 75 cent extra dividend. Louisville and Nashville ran up 2 points in last minute bidding, and after the close directors voted a common dividend of $3.25. American Woolen preferred was up 1¾ in the wake of a $3 payment against dividend accruals.

St. Louis Southwestern preferred dropped 4 points and the common was off 4½, both to new lows, as the reorganization plan proposed for the road seemingly would wipe out the value of these shares.

TWO CHICAGO PEAKS.

Two issues reached new 1941 highs on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, altho the general price trend was lower. They were Signode Steel at 16 and Swift International at 21½. Transfers totaled 16,000 shares. Of 83 issues traded 20 advanced, 44 declined, and 19 were unchanged. Commonwealth Edison was down ⅛ at 26¼.

FIND MANY LIKE ANNUAL REPORT WITH PICTURES

Company employés and stockholders like to read the same type of company financial reports, and they like them illustrated with interesting pictures and charts, according to C. M. Chester, chairman of the General Foods corporation, which has just completed a survey along this line. The survey covered 10,000 General Foods employés and 10,000 representative stockholders in the company.

The company's recent 36 page annual report, written in question and answer form and containing pictures and charts, was approved by 88 per cent of the employés and 89.5 per cent of stockholders. Fewer than ½ of 1 per cent said they disliked the report.

Chester commented that he personally is convinced "a business statement can be—and probably should be—as dramatic, as simply told, and as humanized as any page in a well edited newspaper."

GROUP REPORTED AGAINST EXCESS PROFIT REVISION

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—House ways and means committee members were reported today strongly opposed to President Roosevelt's request that they revise the $3,504,400,000 tax bill to conform to the treasury department's invested capital plan of computing corporation excess profits.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.,] announced after a committee meeting that no action had been taken, but that the committee would meet again Saturday to vote on the question.

Other members predicted the committee would not reverse its previous vote of 20 to 4 in favor of permitting corporations to use either an invested capital formula or an average earnings method of determining their excess profits tax.

CHICAGO'S FALL MARKET WEEKS TO DRAW 22,000

At least 22,000 out of town merchants and retail store buyers are expected in Chicago for National Fall Market Weeks, which open July 28 and continue for three weeks, the Chicago Association of Commerce, sponsor of the events, announced yesterday. New fall offerings will be presented by 2,200 Chicago companies and representatives of 900 companies manufacturing elsewhere.

Promotional material is being mailed to more than 3,000 large retail outlets over the country and to 14,000 retail store buyers in the Chicago wholesale trading area. There will be a number of meetings during the three weeks, including the semi-annual convention of the Interstate Merchants' council, Aug. 4 to 9.

People and Events

The Jewel Tea company, Barrington, yesterday announced the following elections: A. U. Hunt as a director, P. B. Boyd as executive vice president in charge of routes, F. J. Lunding as executive vice president in charge of stores, and C. A. Larson as assistant secretary.

Forrest Laidley and Edward C. Stoddard have been admitted as general partners in the New York Stock exchange firm of Hicks & Price of Chicago and New York. Present partners are Edward L. Hicks Jr. and Theodore H. Price Jr. Laidley formerly was associated with Mitchell Hutchins & Co. Stoddard has been in the financial field since 1908.

The Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company's Twenty Year Service club will hold its annual outing tomorrow in Washington Park, Michigan City, Ind.

CIVILIAN OUTPUT CURB DEMANDED BY MORGENTHAU

Hints Arms Spending Not Fast Enough.

BY JOHN FISHER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. today entered the list of government officials advocating a crackdown on civilian industries and consumers.

Morgenthau declared at his press conference that industries engaged in nonarmament production should curtail operations at once and said he favored rationing of civilian supplies. Further he indicated dissatisfaction with the rate of armament expenditures and said the government probably will not spend more than 19 billion dollars this year instead of the 22 billions in budgeted expenditures.

OPM Reports on Program.

Meanwhile the Office of Production Management reported that the armament program in terms of appropriations and American and British contracts totaled 49 billion 583 million dollars as of June 30. The previous figure on the program was 43 billion dollars.

Since the end of June, however, President Roosevelt has requested more than 8 billions additional for the army, navy, and maritime commission, placing the tentative total closer to 58 billions. Another lend-lease request is forthcoming and is estimated to total about 7 billions.

Of the total announced by the OPM, congressional appropriations and contract authorizations and RFC armament funds amounted to 45 billion 912 million dollars. British contracts totaled 3 billion 671 millions.

Breakdown on Figures.

The complete breakdown on the armament program and contracts awarded from June 1, 1940, to June 30, 1941, follows:

[In millions of dollars.]	Program.	Contracts.
Airplanes	11,469	6,122
Naval ships and parts	6,430	6,264
Ordnance	8,034	4,738
Other military equipment and supplies	3,925	2,540
Merchant ships	1,965	1,467
Industrial facilities	5,530	2,767
Posts, depots and fortifications	3,652	2,212
Housing	495	283
Other	1,874	985
Pay, subsistence and travel	6,269	...
TOTAL	49,583	27,318

Morgenthau said that total government expenditures this year will not involve much more than 19 billions unless immediate steps are taken to curb the production of factory made articles for civilian use. Of the budgeted 22 billions, 15 billions were slated for armament expenditures in the new year which began July 1.

The secretary cited the automobile industry as "a glaring example" of production facilities that should be diverted to military production.

Asks Rationing at Once.

"Some sort of civilian rationing should be instituted at once," he said, adding the arms production situation probably will be more encouraging when Leon Henderson, price control administrator, "gets a chance to go to work on some of his ideas."

Morgenthau asserted that armament spending in April was 761 million dollars, and that it rose to 837 millions in May. In June, however, there was a drop to 808 millions, and for the first 15 days of July expenditures amounted to 461 millions.

Morgenthau said a suggested plan for payment of future wage increases of all American workers in defense savings bonds was "not necessary at this time," but that the plan had been "put in the top drawer" along with a number of other money raising suggestions that he might want to reexamine at some later date.

1,500 Guns a Day

Washington, D. C., July 17 [Special].—Production of Garand semi-automatic rifles, automatic Brownings, and the Thompson submachine gun now exceeds 1,500 a day, the Office of Production Management announced today. No breakdown of production figures by specific weapons was given, but it is known that Garand production alone exceeds 1,000 a day.

HENDERSON ASKS GULF REFINERS TO FIX GAS PRICE

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, asked all petroleum refiners in the gulf coast area today to maintain a base price of 6 cents a gallon on gasoline. He said that prices in that area had advanced from 3¾ cents a gallon at the first of the year to 6 cents on June 19.

Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes, petroleum coördinator, announced today the selection of five cities as headquarters of the branch offices to be established by his office in its effort to conserve gasoline. They are New York, Chicago, Denver, Houston, and Los Angeles.

Bank Clearings in 23 Cities 19.7 Per Cent Above 1940

New York, July 17 (AP).—Bank clearings in 23 large cities aggregated $6,530,921,000 in the week ended Wednesday, an increase of 19.7 per cent over the corresponding period a year ago, Dun & Bradstreet reported today. The preceding week's total was 33.8 per cent above a year ago.

Plane Exports Slump in May; Imports Climb

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—The commerce department said today that exports of aircraft declined $12,000,000 in May.

The department gave no reason for the drop in these shipments, which go almost exclusively to the British empire. The May total was $54,000,000; the April total was $66,000,000. However, May shipments were second only to April.

The total of all American merchandise exports in May was $384,636,000, compared with $385,454,000 in April. Destinations of exports are no longer disclosed, being regarded as military secrets.

Imports Set 4 Year High.

Imports of rubber and other materials needed for arms production sent the volume of merchandise imports up to a total of $296,930,000—highest since March, 1937.

In the first five months of this year exports totaled $1,756,060,000 and imports $1,314,636,000, creating an export excess of $441,424,000.

In the same period year last year exports were $1,714,658,000, imports $1,082,638,000, and the export excess $632,020,000.

Food Shipments Up Most.

Shipment of food stuffs increased from $18,300,000 in April to $25,300,000 in May. The biggest gain was in dairy products, the exports of which in May amounted to $4,500,000—double the April total and five times as big as a year ago. Other gains were reported in exports of dried fruits, corn, fresh and dried vegetables, citrus fruits, and fresh eggs.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 17.—With prices of stocks again on the rise in a Germany operating under full war pressure, German economic officials have turned to persuasion to induce profit taking industrialists to invest surplus funds in anything but securities. The head of the reich organization of German industry, Director Wilhelm Zanger, has appealed to all industrial corporations to keep stocks down to a "normal level."

Zanger admits there are many obstacles to prevent booming industries from investing surplus earnings in normal fields, but insists that free capital must not be employed in the purchase of stocks, thus inflating the market.

"More self discipline" must be the solution of the latest economic riddle, the experts say. Some time ago the German minister of economics, Dr. Walter Funk, issued regulations aimed to keep the lid on the market.

BRITAIN TRANSFERRING LABOR TO WAR GOODS MAKING BY THOUSANDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 17.—A board of trade official said today that the concentration of industry scheme is releasing from 10 to 15 per cent of the manpower previously engaged in the manufacture of goods for civilian consumption, as well as considerable factory and warehouse space. This manpower and factory space is being utilized for war production.

He cited figures showing that already, out of 750,000 persons employed three months ago, 110,000 workers and about 16,500,000 square feet of floor space have been released under the scheme.

Of 95,000 workers in the hosiery industry, he expected 20,000 to 25,000 to be released, as well as 1,000,000 square feet of factory space. Fifty thousand of 250,000 workers in the spinning and weaving industry have been made available for war production.

Federal Curb on Rent Boosts Forecast by Leon Henderson

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, said today that rent control laws would be necessary in certain areas where voluntary methods fail to prevent increases.

In many places where the housing shortage is acute rents are "skyrocketing," Henderson told a house committee investigating labor migration.

Arms Centers Affected Most.

"In some shipbuilding, ordnance and army cantonment centers as many as one out of every two rented homes have had rent increases ranging from 20 to 100 per cent since October 1939," he testified.

Henderson said the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply was investigating rent increases and that local defense councils were establishing fair rent committees. About 10 such committees are functioning now, he said, but their powers depend only on the force of public opinion.

"There is no question in my mind that ultimately the authority of law will have to be invoked to curb rent increases in those areas where voluntary methods are only partially successful," he said.

Lower Rents Rise Most.

"When workers are forced to pay increased rents it means cutting other items in the budget. Since we know from our surveys that on the whole rentals under $30 a month are increasing by a higher percentage than those over $30, the group which can least afford it is hardest hit.

"Finally, higher rents in industrial areas involve us in the general problem of wages. Exorbitant rent increases almost invariably produce demands for wage reajustments. Some union contracts have specific clauses stipulating a reopening of wage negotiations when the cost of living rises."

HERE'S WHERE WHITE COLLAR HURTS MOST; RIGHT IN POCKETBOOK

Raleigh, N. C., July 17 [Special].—Chief gainers in salaries and wages in the arms program will be the laborers and the chief losers will be the "white collar" workers, Dr. Willard E. Atkins, New York university economist, told the North Carolina bankers' conference tonight.

Labor will profit most, he said, because its members will find full employment and do more overtime work, usually at increased wages. He observed that white collar workers, on the other hand, are hired at wages that do not change rapidly, altho living costs and taxes of this group will rise rapidly.

SEALED BIDS will be received by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey at Washington, D. C., until 2 p. m. (E.S.T.), August 18, 1941, and then opened, for the construction of two wooden, diesel-powered, twin-screw, survey boats of 65-foot length and 15-foot beam, for the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey. Bid forms, plans and specifications showing what is required, and other information may be obtained by applying or writing to the Director, U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington, D. C.

POLICE AND CIO PICKETS CLASH IN EAST; 6 HURT

Resume Work After Bendix, N. J., Riot.

Bendix, N. J., July 17 (AP).—Workers tonight moved freely in and out of the plant of Air Associates, Inc., scene of a riot in which six men were injured earlier in the day. The clash occurred when pickets of the CIO United Automobile Workers' union attempted to prevent the day shift from entering the plant.

Picketing started Saturday at the plant, busy on government orders for aviation equipment. Stones were hurled Tuesday, but there were no injuries reported.

The dispute was certified to the national defense mediation board tonight by the labor department, which advised that CIO demands for a union contract and the reinstatement of workers allegedly discharged for union activity were involved.

Mass Picketing Ended.

A CIO official said an agreement was reached with the company to abandon mass picketing and molestation of workers. In return, he said, the company dismissed a group of private guards.

Frederick E. Koester, Bergen county police commissioner, said both sides agreed to hire 12 war veterans, at company expense, to guard the plant.

Prosecutor John J. Breslin had demanded that professional strikebreakers who, he said, touched off the disorder, be removed, but F. Leroy Hill, president of the company, denied that strikebreakers were used.

Police used a half dozen tear gas cartridges and fired revolvers into the air to disperse the throng of men and women who closed in on a chartered bus carrying about 35 plant workers.

Five hours later, police and sheriff's deputies cleared the single road leading into the plant and 300 workers entered in automobiles.

STRIKE AT SHIPYARD

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

At River Rouge, Mich., members of the CIO-Steel Workers' Organizing committee ignored a 30 day cooling off period imposed by the state labor mediation board and went on strike yesterday at the Great Lakes Engineering works, engaged in building lake ships for iron ore transport.

The strike involves an interunion dispute and the Office of Production Management had asked the SWOC not to "defy the government" with a walkout. SWOC claims 400 of the plant's 600 employés and the AFL boilermakers' union also claims a majority.

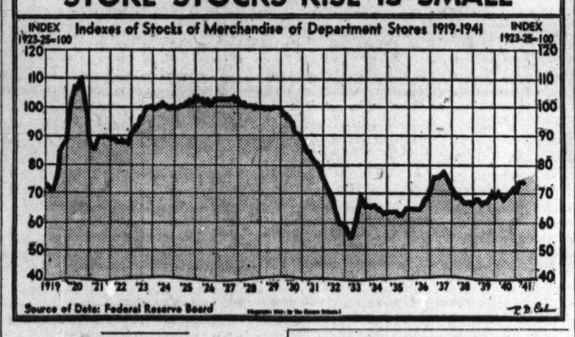
A week-old strike at the American Car and Foundry company, Chicago, involving about 1,000 members of the CIO-UAW was referred to Washington, D. C., meanwhile, after negotiators meeting with a federal conciliator failed to reach an agreement. Facts in the case were laid before the federal conciliation service.

PRIORITIES CURB OUTPUT OF FIRM IN BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., July 17 [Special].—Inability to obtain certain raw material items will cause a curtailment of production at the Meadows Manufacturing company plant, officials said today. The company manufactures washing machines, ironers, and gray iron castings. It employs 400 men.

The Williams Oil-O-Matic company, which has a factory here, reported that it will have to cut production of oil furnaces and refrigerators but has military contracts which will permit it to maintain operations at a high level. It recently completed the first, or pilot, units of a secret anti-aircraft weapon, Walter W. Williams, president, disclosed. Full production, he said, will start in 60 days.

STORE STOCKS' RISE IS SMALL



District Sales Rise

Sales of the larger department stores in the 7th federal reserve district for the week ended July 12 were up 19 per cent over the corresponding week a year ago, the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Chicago store sales were up 11 per cent.

For the first two weeks of July sales in the district totaled 24 per cent more than in the corresponding period of 1940. For the two weeks Chicago showed a gain of 16 per cent.

For the week ending July 12 department store sales nationally increased 19 per cent, compared with last year.

Idle Bank Cash Up; Circulation of Money Dips

An increase of 220 million dollars in excess reserves [idle funds] of member banks of the federal reserve system during the week ended July 16 was reported yesterday by the federal reserve board. The total was 5 billion 340 millions, which was 1 billion 540 million below the corresponding 1940 date.

Commercial, industrial, and agricultural loans made by member banks in the Chicago reserve district increased 11 millions to a total of 636 millions. Loans made by banks in the New York district increased 17 millions to a total of 2 billion 295 million.

ARGENTINA LACKS EXPORT OUTLETS, SO BURNS CORN

With exports of Argentine corn practically at a standstill, the grain board of the South American nation is selling corn off the farms at the equivalent of 27 cents a ton for use as fuel, the department of agriculture reported yesterday. The Argentine fuel committee has been empowered to fix the amount of corn used as fuel on the basis of each consumer's normal requirement of coal and other imported fuel.

The department said that to conserve the limited supply of coal, railroads are paying $1.62 a ton for corn on the cob. Dr. Federico Pinedo, former Argentine minister of finance, when questioned about the use of corn as fuel while visiting Chicago recently, expressed surprise to learn that corn is not used as fuel in this country.

DEALERS' STOCKS OF USED AUTOS DECLINE FURTHER

Reflecting an increased demand by the public, Cook county dealers' stocks of used cars declined to a 30.1 days' supply as of July 1, the Chicago Automobile Trade association reported yesterday. It was the sixth consecutive monthly decline.

Indicating the downward trend in inventories this year, the association listed the stocks as follows, on the basis of number of days' supply: Jan. 1, 54; Feb. 1, 44.9; March 1, 43.7; April 1, 41; May 1, 35.7; June 1, 31.8.

The association said that the 203 dealers taking part in its monthly survey reported they sold 11,606 used cars during June, and had a supply of 11,638 on July 1.

Arming Called Aid to Sales of Insurance

The "highly stimulating" effect of the armament program and related war buying in the United States on new life insurance sales is reported in the current survey of life insurance buyers by the American Service bureau, Chicago, issued yesterday. As in the past, the study was made of 10,000 life policy applications submitted to companies which are members of the American Life convention.

The survey found that there is a continued increase in the number of policy applications from factory and mill workers in all American industrial centers. This trend, determined from June applications, was the same as reported in January.

Average Size Unchanged.

Lee N. Parker, president and general manager of the bureau, said that while the average size of policy applied for by the workers remains relatively stationary, the number of buyers indicates new interest in life insurance.

Applications in the manufacturing and mechanical classification last month totaled 1,523, against 1,322 in January and 1,246 in June, 1940.

The manufacturing and mechanical group subdivision of machinery, metals and metal products had a particularly sharp upturn. There were 491 policy applications in June, 366 in January, and 250 in June, 1940.

Military Men Buy More.

According to the study, military and naval services provided an obvious stimulus to sales, with 503 such applications in those classifications in June against 261 for the month a year ago. Transportation and communication classifications, including railroads, truck and steamship lines and telephone and telegraph company employés also showed definite gains.

Building materials, trades connected with the construction industry and fuel groups also were among these showing increases over last year. The survey reported that life insurance salesmen made a "much better" occupational showing than they did in June, 1940. The salesmen sent in 114 applications for policies on themselves averaging $5,193. Altho there were 117 applications last year, the average was $3,816.

Court Refuses to Halt Jones-Laughlin Meeting

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 17 (AP).—Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker today refused to grant an injunction restraining stockholders of Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation from meeting July 22 to vote on a capital revision and merger of two subsidiaries. Two preferred stockholders, Mrs. Bertha H. Hubbard and Norman Johnson of New York, had complained the plan was "unfair, unjust, and illegal."

RAIL FREIGHT TRAFFIC RISES AFTER HOLIDAY; ORE TOTAL A RECORD

Revenue freight loadings by railroads for the week ended July 12 totaled 876,165 cars, an increase of 135,672 cars, or 18.3 per cent over the preceding holiday week, the Association of American Railroads reported yesterday. The total was the largest for any corresponding week since 1930 and showed an increase of 139,382 cars, or 18.9 per cent, over the same week last year.

For the first time in any week in the history of railroading ore shipments totaled more than 81,000 cars during the week ended Saturday.

FREEMAN AWAITS FEDERAL PLANS ON POWER BOOST

Charles Y. Freeman, chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, said yesterday that the company had no prior notice of the plans announced Wednesday in Washington, D. C., for a billion dollar expansion in the nation's power production facilities.

Plans of the federal power commission call for 5 new generating units in the area served by the Edison group of companies, to be installed over a three-year period starting in 1944.

"We have no comment to make until we can study the detailed plans," Freeman said. "The Edison group is now in the midst of an extensive building program which will add 466 kilowatts of capacity thru 1941, 1942 and 1943. We are constantly making studies as load and capacity conditions change to see what further extensions may be necessary."

Edison engineers have consistently maintained that the company has adequate reserve capacity for the foreseeable future.

URGE SHIPPERS TO HOLD GRAIN OUT OF CHICAGO

Nearly All Storage Space Used Up.

The government appointed Chicago area grain storage committee issued a brief warning note to wheat shippers late yesterday not to load cars for shipment to Chicago until they had determined that unloading space would be available. The warning followed a lengthy meeting with Chicago grain men in the Chicago Board of Trade.

"It is possible that shippers not following this recommendation will be charged with any and all obligations with respect to demurrage [charges made on cars not unloaded within 48 hours after arrival]," the committee said. Chicago demurrage charges are $2.20 a day for each car after 48 hours. After four days the charge is increased to $5.50 a day.

Storage Space Glutted.

Grain elevator operators, representatives of the railroads, farm leaders, and officials of the Board of Trade and the Commodity Credit corporation attended the meeting to seek a solution to the tight Chicago grain storage situation. The market is rapidly becoming glutted with grain for storage while available storage space has dwindled until practically none is available, elevator operators report.

Commodity Credit corporation officials said that a plan it has under consideration is expected to relieve the storage situation—a plan which those attending were pledged not to disclose. However, it is expected it will be made public today.

Meanwhile the warehouse committee of the Board of Trade held a special meeting at which it passed a resolution charging the Commodity Credit corporation with "entering into unfair competition with the farmers" for storage space in the terminal elevators.

Criticize U. S. Agency.

"The committee believes that a corporate agency of the government should not in these days of national defense effort prevent farmers from having maximum use of grain storage facilities," the resolution stated.

Members of the committee reported that the Commodity Credit corporation shipped approximately 3½ million bushels of wheat from Chicago elevators to the east this week. Rather than permit this space to be used temporarily to relieve the shortage in storage space for wheat in Chicago, committee members said, the federal agency had ordered the immediate shipment of 5 million bushels of corn from steel bins in Iowa into Chicago to go into the vacated space.

650 Cars Arrive in Day.

Dealers estimated approximately 650 cars of wheat were received in Chicago yesterday. Between 800 and 900 cars were on track waiting to be unloaded. The unloading facilities of all the elevators can handle only approximately 300 cars a day.

They estimated that more than 1,000 cars of wheat came into Chicago the first four days of this week for permanent storage. The shippers seek to store the wheat in Chicago, borrow the $1.15 a bushel offered by the Commodity Credit corporation, and leave the grain here until a better market develops or it is taken over by the government for default of the loan.

June Building Thruout State Tops Year Ago

BY AL CHASE.

Building construction of all types in Illinois last month was valued nearly 40 per cent higher than that of June, 1940, the state department of labor reported yesterday. Total value of permits for the first half of this year was 37.4 per cent more than during the first six months of last year. Permits issued last month for building were valued at $13,332,080, the report said. This is $3,783,132 above the total for June of last year.

For the first six months of 1941 building permits in 162 Illinois cities had a total value of $72,228,044. For the same period last year the total was $52,579,738. The first half of 1939 had permits valued at $40,238,221.

Home Building Most Active.

Residential building was the most active type of construction thruout Illinois last month. There were 1,356 permits for homes valued at $7,932,177. For the same month last year there were 1,091 permits for buildings costing $6,236,448. This is a gain of 24.3 per cent in number and 27.2 per cent in value.

Altho non-residential construction [including factories, business and commercial buildings] was less than home construction last month in both number and cost, it made a sharper gain over June of last year. Permits valued at $3,498,414 were issued, compared with $1,535,614 in June, 1940, a gain of 127.8 per cent.

Building permits of all types in June were below the May total in both number and value.

GAINS IN 37 STATES.

New York, July 17 (AP).—The F. W. Dodge corporation, building statistical firm, estimated today construction contracts awarded in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains in June totaled $539,106,000, a rise of 66 per cent over the amount for the same month last year, but slightly under May, 1941.

In the first half of the year contracts awarded reached an 11 year peak of $2,549,962,000, an increase of 57 per cent over the $1,623,087,000 recorded in the first half of 1940.

"Nonresidential building with $956,525,000 in contract total was 105 per cent larger than a year ago," the report said. "Residential building to the amount of $948,994,000 was 37 per cent larger; public works and utilities amounting to $644,443,000, showed a 39 per cent increase."

EXCHANGES FAIL TO ADOPT CEA MARGIN POLICY

Altho cash margin requirements on contracts for several commodities traded for future delivery on the Chicago Board of Trade and on the Chicago Mercantile exchange are below the 15 per cent minimum proposed by J. H. Mehl, chief of the Commodity Exchange administration, no official action was taken to raise margins yesterday.

The initial margin required in transactions on the Board of Trade, the margin recommended by the CEA and the margin being asked by most Chicago and New York commission houses, follow:

	Required.	Recommended. [per bushel]	Brokers Demand.
Wheat	10c	15c	10c
Corn	8c	11c	8c
Oats	6c	5½c	6c
Rye	10c	8½c	10c
Soy beans	15c	21c	20@25c
Lard [per contract]		$750	$700

A margin of $600 is required on butter, approximately 10 per cent of the total value of the contract, and $360 on eggs, about 11 per cent of the value of the contract on yesterday's market. The requirement on potatoes is $150, or 20 per cent.

JUNE MACHINE TOOL SHIPMENTS NEARLY DOUBLE 1941 VOLUME

Cleveland, O., July 17 (AP).—The National Machine Tool Builders' association said today the industry's June shipments increased to $63,400,000 from $60,800,000 the preceding month and $34,000,000 in June, 1940.

"The industry has practically doubled its rate of production within the last 12 months," the trade association said. "Ninety-five per cent of the employés in the industry are employed in companies working two or three shifts, subcontracting is steadily decreasing and programs for training new employés are in full swing. Indications are that the industry will meet or exceed its goal of a production of $750,000,000 during 1941."

Despite the rise in production, South American manufactured machine tools are entering the United States market. Arrival in New York of the first carload from Argentina was announced today by President James F. Strand of Lempco Products, Inc.

OFFER TAX CUTS AS LURE FOR 12 FIRMS' RETURN

Rates Down in City, Clark Reports.

County Assessor John S. Clark announced yesterday that he will attempt to lure back to Chicago a dozen holding companies which moved their offices to other states within the last few years to avoid high personal property taxes.

John S. Clark.

Members of the assessor's staff, Clark said, have been assigned to confer with the holding companies' officials and outline a recently instituted plan for reducing the taxes substantially below the old levels. The work will be carried out under John E. Battle, chief of the assessor's personal property section.

Clark recalled that the Standard Gas and Electric company, a billion dollar holding corporation which moved its offices to New York in 1939 to avoid Chicago taxes, returned May 1.

Will Use Same Argument.

The argument for enticing Standard Gas to return—one that will be used in the case of the other companies—is that recent legislation and court decisions have changed the personal property assessment basis and resulted in reduced taxes, Clark said.

Prior to 1939, the assessor, acting under tax laws and court decisions then in force, taxed all intangibles—cash and securities—owned by a holding company, whether or not the intangibles were actually in the county and used in transacting local business.

Under the new basis for assessing holding companies, only the cash and securities kept in Cook county and used in the business will be taxed, Clark said.

Tax Reduced Drastically.

Under this arrangement, the tax on Standard Gas, which had been placed at $618,000 for 1938, was reduced to $35,000 for that year and for future years. The company agreed to keep enough cash and securities in Chicago to warrant an annual tax of $35,000.

Companies to be asked to return to Chicago include the Middle West corporation, Central and South West Utilities company, American Public Service company, North West Utilities company, United Public Service corporation, Standard Power and Light corporation, Greyhound corporation, Bendix Aviation corporation, North American Light and Power company, and Midland Utilities company.

BUYERS' STRIKE FORCES A BREAK IN HOG ADVANCE

Hog buyers rebelled yesterday after an early rise of 15 to 25 cents had carried top grades to a new 45 months' peak of $12 a hundredweight, and forced a reduction which wiped out all of the day's price gains. Trading was at a standstill for a short time. Then sellers broke the deadlock and most of the receipts went over the scales at prices about on a par with Wednesday's levels.

Light pork loins rose 50 cents to $25.50 a hundred pounds in wholesale channels, the highest price since the "war market" of September, 1939, when this cut reached $30.

GROUND BROKEN FOR BIG REVERE BRASS FACTORY

U. S. to Spend 64 Millions on Other Plants.

Ground has been broken for the 10 million dollar rolling mill at Fullerton and Normandy avenues which will be operated by Revere Copper & Brass, Inc., to produce ammunition brass and cartridge cases. The plant, one of the largest of its type in the country, will be built with government funds.

Maj. John F. Rodgers, supervising engineer, said the plant is expected to be ready for complete operations by next June, altho certain sections might be ready as early as January. The James Stewart corporation, which holds the general construction contract, said that work on the one story brick building will be started in about two weeks.

64 MILLIONS FOR PLANTS.

Washington, D. C., July 17 (AP).—The government's Defense Plant corporation today authorized expenditure of approximately 64 million dollars for construction of plants in connection with the armament program.

The corporation agreed to build and equip at a cost of $24,508,494 plants at Erie, Pa., and West Lynn, Mass., to be used by the General Electric company in the manufacture of naval equipment for the Maritime commission. Another plant to be leased to the company will be built for $2,407,756 at Schenectady, N. Y., for the manufacture of radio equipment for the navy.

At a cost of $37,161,529, the corporation agreed to build and equip plants at Buffalo and Tonawanda, N. Y., to be leased to the Chevrolet division of General Motors corporation to make airplane engines.

Leased to Private Firms.

Defense Plant corporation will own the new factories and their equipment, but they will be operated under leases by the private companies.

War department contracts announced today included $1,623,800 for construction at Scott Field, Ill., to O'Driscoll & Grove, Inc., New York City; $1,169,598 to Ford Motor company, Dearborn, Mich., one and one-half ton trucks; $968,300 to Manhattan Construction company, Muskogee, Okla., construction of warehouses and other buildings at Savanna ordnance depot, Ill.; and $698,048 to International Harvester company, Fort Wayne, Ind., two and one-half ton trucks.

FORD COMPANY ELEVATES 2 LONG TERM EMPLOYES

Dearborn, Mich., July 17 (AP).—Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor company, announced today the election of Charles E. Sorensen and A. M. Wibel as vice presidents and directors of the company. He also announced the resignation of P. E. Martin, vice president.

Martin began with the company in 1903 as a machinist and assembler. Sorensen, now production manager, started in 1904 as a pattern marker. Wibel, who joined the company in 1912, has been director of purchasing for 14 years.

ITALIAN SUPERPOWER.

I am being offered $5,000 face value of Italian Superpower debentures in settlement of a $150 debt. Please give me a report on the issue.—F. L. R.

Answer: Italian Superpower corporation's $8,704,000 of 6 per cent series A debentures due Jan. 1, 1963, is regarded as highly speculative. The company defaulted on its July 1 interest this year because it was unable to realize the necessary United States currency from its Italian investments.

The 6 per cent debentures constitute the company's entire funded debt. They are a direct obligation of the company but are not secured by a mortgage.

The company has been able to cover the full charges on its funded debt only twice in the last six years. The charges currently amount to approximately $548,000 a year.

Italian Superpower is an American investment company with offices in Dover, Del., and Milan, Italy, which holds large interests in leading Italian electric utilities. The company's investments at the end of 1940 were valued at approximately 25 million dollars on its books.

ARCADE & ATTICA.

My grandmother has asked me to check on a $1,000 bond of the Arcade and Attica railroad which she found in her late husband's effects. Do you have any details on this road? I do not find it listed in railroad books. —M. W.

Answer: The Arcade and Attica railroad is one of the oldest short line roads in the country. It operates from Attica to Arcade, a distance of 28.36 miles, in western New York state. It connects with the New York Central and the Erie railroads at Attica, and with the Pennsylvania at Arcade.

The history of the line dates back to 1853. After passing thru various ownerships and bearing different names, the road was acquired at a foreclosure sale in 1917 by 356 farmers and business men living in the district.

The Arcade and Attica has outstanding $40,000 of first mortgage 6 per cent bonds due 1960, and 948 shares of $100 par capital stock. The company earned $1,422 in 1939 and had a net loss of $2,412 in 1938.

SHIPBUILDING.

What is the nature of the American Ship and Commerce corporation? —H. B.

Soy Beans, Lard Also Finish Lower.

Uneasiness over the grain storage situation here and in other major markets and the Commodity Exchange administration's recommendation that margin requirements be increased caused liquidation yesterday in grains, soy beans, and lard futures on the Chicago Board of Trade.

All markets showed a heavy undertone from the start, and while there was a fair rally from the low point at one time, grains closed about the bottom. Wheat lost 1⅞ to 1⅞ cents to $1.03 for September delivery. The market was lowest since June 21.

Other Grains Lower.

Corn lost ¼ to ½ cent; oats, ½ cent, and rye, ⅝ to ¾ cent. Soy beans finished 2½ to 3 cents a bushel lower and lard was off 22½ to 27½ cents per hundred pounds.

Scarcity of grain storage room is making itself felt in both the cash and futures markets, traders said. The basis on cash wheat at Minneapolis declined 1 to 4 cents a bushel relative to July prices, while at St. Louis it slumped 1 to 2 cents. Chicago cash grain handlers quoted No. 2 hard winter at ⅛ to ⅛ cent a bushel over July price, compared with ⅛ to ⅜ cent over on Wednesday.

July Below September.

July wheat and corn closed about 1¾ cents a bushel under the September deliveries and oats were at a discount of 1½ cents. The unusual price difference is due to fears that carlots of cash grain may be delivered on July contracts, brokers said. Such action would place upon the speculator or mill who paid for it the responsibility of finding storage room for the grain.

CASH GRAIN

Official receipts of cash grain at Chicago Thursday: wheat, 348 cars; corn, 198 cars; oats, 82 cars; barley, 14 cars; soy beans, 19 cars. Range of cash grain prices per bushel in leading markets:

Battles Rage as Germans Drive on Three Key Russian Cities—Draw Numbers for 750,000 in New Draft

German Storm Troops examining what Nazi sources describe as shattered gun slits of large bunker of the Stalin line in Russia. The Germans claim to have broken the Stalin line in many places and to be pressing toward Moscow, Leningrad, and Kiev. The Nazis claimed capture of Smolensk as 9,000,000 soldiers fought on long battle line.
